SOFT COAL TALKS RESUMED

Lewis, Owners To Meet Again This Morning

Both Decline To Make Statement As Session Ends

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — John L. Lewis and Soft Coal Operators broke up a negotiating session tonight without comment. They set another meeting tomorrow morning (9 a. m. EST).

The lack of comment from either side on the way the talks went may indicate progress. At least the negotiators were smiling when they left and there was no sign of a new break in the talks.

Lewis, the first to leave, referred newsmen to Coal Operator Spokesman Charles O'Neill.

O'Neill then said: "We'll meet again tomorrow."

The renewed negotiations had been suggested by a Presidential Inquiry Board earlier in the day. Both sides told the board they were willing to resume talks and the board suggested they try for an agreement before the board makes its report to the White House late tomorrow.

The conferences were resumed just eight days before the present work agreement ends.

Believe Pension Discussed

Presumably, the talks concerned Lewis' proposal to put the $100 monthly pension plan for retired miners into effect immediately and agree to make any pay concession negotiated later retroactive to July 1. That was his price for keeping coal flowing while a new contract is worked out.

The new talks followed by a few hours a sweeping court victory for Lewis.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough had just upheld the $100 monthly pension plan that Lewis wants for aged members of his United Mine Workers.

The two sides came together first before the board itself. This group was named by President Truman under the Taft-Hartley Act to determine by tomorrow whether the contract dispute threatens "national health and safety." If the board so finds, an injunction against a strike is regarded as likely.

Lewis and Operator Spokesman Charles O'Neill both protested to the board, headed by Attorney David L. Cole, that each is willing to bargain in "good faith" for a contract to replace the one expiring June 30.

"Okay, show us," the board said in effect.

Thereupon, after hot wrangling from seats four feet apart in a steaming hot hotel conference room where the inquiry board was holding its meeting, Lewis and O'Neill agreed to talks tonight.

Now Under Injunctions

Earlier, Lewis told the board that the coal miners already are under two federal court injunctions. He said with considerable confidence that if the government holds off getting another now he can bargain out a new agreement without a complete mine stoppage.

Lewis also suggested that the coal operators could, by exercising a clause in the present contract, remove Ezra Van Horn, the operators' representative on the Welfare Fund Trustee Board, and select another trustee who would agree to the $100 pensions.

5 Injured When B & O Trains Collide

HAMILTON, Ohio, June 22. (INS) —Five persons were slightly injured today when two Baltimore and Ohio freight trains collided at a crossing in Hamilton.

Most severely injured was John Reed, St. Bernard, Ohio, an engineer of one of the trains. He suffered a broken rib.

Burning Munitions Ship Threatens Tel Aviv

Thousands Flee After Israeli Army Fires LST

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 22 (AP) — Thousands of Tel Aviv residents fled from the waterfront late today when a munitions-laden LST beached by Rebel Irgun Zvai Fighters threatened to explode after being set afire by Israeli Army shelling.

The sudden fire, resulting from regular army mortar fire, threw the four-hour battle between Irgun and the army into strange confusion.

All hotels and apartment houses along the Mediterranean waterfront, including headquarters of a United Nations truce team, were deserted within a few minutes.

Irgun Fighters Appear

Truckloads of unarmed Irgun fighters suddenly appeared on the city's main streets. Two dozen crew members jumped off the LST, which carried 600 tons of munitions, both army troops and Irgun rebels joined in the mass exodus.

Just what was happening to Irgun's fight against the Israeli government remained a mystery. The fact that most of the Irgun fighters driving down crowded Allenby Road away from the waterfront were unarmed was interpreted by some to mean that a deal had been made with the government to end the fighting that began early yesterday.

A lull in today's battle began in mid-afternoon when a wounded Irgun man was carried from the beach under a white flag. It ended 90 minutes later when the regular army began shelling the LST.

From the ship's loud speakers came an American-accented voice calling "cease fire." About 15 minutes later four shells in rapid succession hit the deck and port side of the landing craft. Smoke curled up from the deck and within a few minutes all the foredeck was hidden by smoke.

40 Believed Killed

Before this phase of the battle began it was estimated that 40 persons were killed or wounded when the government flung troops into action against Irgun's attempt to land arms. Under the U. N. four-week truce terms with the Arabs, importation of arms is barred.

Irgun had warned of a "blood battle between Jews." Israel leaders regarded the strife as possibly the long-expected showdown between Irgun and the regular army, composed chiefly of Haganah, the former Jewish underground defense force.

Only recently Irgun agreed to dissolve itself as a separate military organization and to become part of the regular army.

But yesterday a big Irgun-manned landing ship tried to land 600 tons

One Man Killed Several Injured In Neb. Tornado

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., June 22 (AP)—A tornado slashed across southeast Nebraska into Iowa late today and first reports listed one person killed and several injured.

The injured were members of a Missouri Pacific Freight Train crew, injured when the wind blew several cars off the track about a mile and a half south of Nebraska City. W. H. Allen, conductor of the train, said the men injured were in the caboose of the train. They were taken to Nebraska City Hospital. All were reported in "fair condition."

The dead man was Harry Badberg, 31, who was jammed between a fence and a pump on his farm two and one half miles west of Talmage. Attendants at St. Mary's Hospital in Nebraska City said Badberg died after arrival there.

Atomic Control Plan Is Killed By Russian Veto

U. S. Proposal Has 9-Nation Approval

LAKE SUCCESS, June 22 (AP) — Russia's 26th veto killed today a Security Council majority decision approving the American plan for world atomic control.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister who has bitterly assailed the American proposal, cast the veto. The Soviet Ukraine voted with him.

The United States, Argentina, Britain, China, Belgium, Syria, France, Canada, and Colombia — nine in all—voted to approve the entire work of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission.

Balked By Veto

Balked by the Soviet veto, the Council then decided to send the records of the atomic deadlock to the General Assembly meeting in Paris September 21 for its action.

The vote on this move was 9 to 0. Gromyko and Dmitri Z. Manuilsky, Soviet Ukrainian Foreign Minister, insisted this action could be vetoed also but Gromyko did not press the point.

Before the final vote, Manuilsky assailed the United States government. He charged the U. S. is responsible for failure of the Atomic Commission to agree on a plan after two years of long atomic talks. He said the U. S. policies threaten world peace.

It was Manuilsky's first speech to the council and the first time he had taken his seat as the Ukraine's delegate.

The United States on June 11 called on the council to approve three reports approved by the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission.

The first report made in December, 1946, was based on the general outlines of the original U. S. Control Plan introduced by Bernard M. Baruch to the commission on June 14, 1946. It outlined a world atomic control authority and called for no veto on atomic punishments. Baruch said then that the U. S. would dispose of atomic weapons when it was sure world control was effective. Gromyko disapproved this point.

Report Written in 1947

The second report was written in December, 1947. It outlined the general set-up of an atomic authority.

In the third report, approved in April, the non-Russian majority of nine on the commission said that there was no prospect of agreement until the Russians decided to cooperate with the rest of the world on the atomic problem. It said the Russians had not even agreed on technical matters.

Draft May Be By Age Groups

WASHINGTON, June 22 (INS) — Selective Service headquarters disclosed today it will recommend calling up draftees by age groups rather than through a "fish bowl" lottery as in World War II.

The plan is to fix a priority scale of the ages 19-through-25 most desired in the Army. Men born in January of a given year would be the first to be called up.

Decision as to which age groups will be called up first is up to the Army. It was assumed at Selective Service Headquarters that the older draft-age men will be most desired.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, head of Selective Service, announced the draft plan as more thousands of recruits streaming into the National Guard to escape conscription under the new measure, which has not yet been signed into law.

National Guard Headquarters was forced by lack of funds to set a country-wide limit of 90,000 on the number of guard recruits to be taken. Ceiling quotas were telegraphed to each state guard headquarters.

The prospect was that the guard will be filled, at a strength of 341,000 men, within two or three days — before President Truman signs the draft into law.

A provision of the bill exempts men who join active reserves before its final enactment. The Navy also expects to benefit from the enlistments enough to fill its active reserves, which until the current rush were 50,000 men below authorized strength.

Greek Army Under Guerrilla Attack

ATHENS, Wednesday, June 23 (AP) —Press dispatches from the Second Army Corps at Kozane said today Greek Army Units moving from Konitsa had been attacked from Albania with heavy artillery and mortars.

The correspondent of the Newspaper Embros reported that guerrillas withdrew into Albania west of Pyrosoyani.

Russia Reveals Plan To Reform Berlin Currency

Informs Western Powers Of Change In "Mark Battle"

BERLIN, June 22 (INS)—Russia struck back at the Western Allies in the "battle of the marks" tonight by announcing plans for a German currency reform in her eastern occupation zone and all of Berlin.

No date for start of their currency reform was set by the Russians. It is expected to force an east-west showdown not only on the currency conflict but also on Russia's contention that Berlin is part of the Soviet Occupation Zone.

Gen. Clay Receives Letter

Announcement of the reform move was made by Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky in letters to Gen. Lucius D. Clay and the British and French Military Governors.

It came after a futile six-hour effort by financial experts of the occupation powers to iron out the Berlin currency muddle—the first big four meeting at high level since March 20—ended in failure.

The Soviet announcement created new tension in the east-west political and economic struggle.

A Soviet move to introduce new currency into the Western Sectors of Berlin, which is under Four-Power rule, almost certainly would be followed by introduction of western currency in the American, British and French parts of the city.

Berlin thus far has been omitted from the western currency reform which the Russians have protested.

The Russians have hinted at further retaliatory moves in the event western currency is established in Berlin, which the Russians are trying to force the western powers to quit by restrictive traffic regulations.

Sokolovsky Explains

Sokolovsky said in his letters to the three Western Governors that he was forced to take the step to protect the economy of the Soviet Zone and Greater Berlin against the disadvantageous effects of the Western currency reforms.

He charged the Western move would bring "chaos" to Soviet-controlled territory and expressed the "hope" that the Western Military Governors "would create no obstacles" in extending the Russian currency reforms to Western sectors of Berlin.

The Soviet-controlled Berlin radio said the city administration, a majority of which is anti-Communist, would be held responsible for carrying out the reforms in the capital.

The financial parley earlier had been heralded as a possible forerunner of efforts to end not only the currency deadlock but other stalemated issues. But the Soviet News Agency ADN said "greater differences developed during the negotiations."

The conferees got nowhere on the currency squabble and set no date for further talks.

Wallace Says Truman Blocked Coal Miners

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — Henry Wallace charged today that the Truman Administration had blocked "a better life" for the Nation's coal miners by intervening in coal industry collective bargaining.

"At almost every point, in the last couple of years, where the miners were about to win their legitimate demands through collective bargaining and the exercise of their right to stop work," he said, "the government has stepped in with seizures, strike-breaking injunctions, jail threats and huge fines, to block their way to a better life."

Cominform May Be Preparing To Attack ERP

Soviet Leaders Believed Meeting

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — Reports of a mystery meeting of the Cominform somewhere in Eastern Europe are taken here to mean that the Communist high command is getting ready its second round fight on the Marshall Plan.

At the same time, State Department Officials are speculating that the Cominform must be coming to grips with the problem of tightening the hold of the Communists over the countries of Eastern Europe. The tip-off on this line of activity came about two weeks ago when the Cominform Journal published in Belgrade called on the Eastern European leaders to consolidate their administration.

Lack Information

Washington officials appeared to be without direct diplomatic information on the secret sessions which were first reported under way in Poland and later put by Italian Communists "some place in Czechoslovakia." The most usual response of officials here when told of the press dispatches that a meeting was under way was this: "It's about time."

The last previous meeting of this high command of the Communist International Information Bureau was also its first. That was held secretly in Poland last September with Communists of nine European nations taking part. The decision reached and the speeches made were not reported until afterward.

First Plan Failed

The declared purpose of the organization created under obvious Russian European leadership was to wreck the United States program for rebuilding Western Europe. The Communists now know that they have failed in the first round of their fight.

The American Congress supplied the funds for the Marshall Plans'

McDonald Named Diplomat To Jews

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — President Truman tonight announced the exchange of diplomatic missions between this government and the Provisional Government of Israel.

He appointed James Grover McDonald of New York to serve as special representative of the United States in heading the mission to the New Jewish Government.

Eliahu Epstein has been designated by Israel, the White House statement said, as its special representative in the United States and head of the Israeli mission.

Mr. Truman said:

"Agreement has been reached between the government of the United States and the Provisional Government of Israel on the establishment of a mission of the United States in Israel and a mission of the Provisional Government of Israel in the United States. Agreement also has been reached on the exchange of special representatives."

McDonald, 61, was a member of the Anglo-American Commission of Inquiry on Palestine in 1946, and is a trustee of the Twentieth Century Fund.

Born in Coldwater, Ohio, McDonald now lives in Bronxville, N. Y. He is a graduate of Indiana University, Harvard and Tufts College.

For 14 years beginning in 1919 he was chairman of the Board of the Foreign Policy Association, Inc. He served as high commissioner for Jewish and other refugees coming from Germany between 1933 and 1935. McDonald was a member of the New York Times Editorial Staff for two years thereafter, and in 1942-44 was news analyst and adviser on postwar relations to the Blue Network.

Union Rejects Ford Wage Hike Offer

DETROIT, June 22. (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers turned thumbs down today on a Ford Motor Company offer of an 11 to 14 cent an hour wage boost.

The union promised a counter proposal of its own later this week. Up to now, it has demanded 30 cents an hour.

Threats Of Fight Over GOP Foreign Policy Collapses

Party Labor Stand Assailed By Unions

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP)— All threats of a serious convention floor battle on the GOP Foreign Policy stand—cold shouldering isolationism and pledging American leadership toward world peace—apparently collapsed tonight.

There were these fast Republican platform developments:

1. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) hailed the foreign plank as "magnificent."

2. Senator Brooks (R-Ill), who battled in the Platform Committee last night to change some of the strong internationalist language of the foreign plank, told reporters tonight there will be no convention fight by him or other critics of the platform proposals.

Harmony Is Predicted

3. GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece predicted "harmonious action" on the platform at the convention tomorrow.

The platform writers struck out preliminary draft language calling for United Nations' control of atomic energy. Brooks, a Resolutions Committee member, led the fight. "I did not succeed in having all my views accepted," he said, "but I accept it (the platform) as the best I could get."

But while harmony descended again upon the GOP policy-makers, the party's labor stand was assailed by several union leaders as feeble and unconvincing.

The internationalist plank adopted by the Platform Committee after a stormy half-the-night session calls for bulwarking the United Nations by curbing the big power veto and setting up a world police force under the U. N. Charter.

Moreover, Platform Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge said the defense plank, closely related to foreign policy, is a strong and clear commitment for building up the nation's armed forces.

"I am happy beyond words to express my satisfaction with our sturdy pledge to peace with justice through collective security and progressive international co-operation."

But rumblings of protest developed quickly on the GOP labor plank — which may sway many thousands of votes one way or another in November.

Taft, Stassen And Duff Hold Private Caucus

Martin Withdraws From Race To Give N.Y. Gov. Support

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA, June 22—(AP)—Senator Taft, Ohio conferred secretly with Harold E. Stassen tonight amid strong indications that a Taft-Stassen-Warren coalition was being sought to stop Thomas E. Dewey.

The race for the Republican Presidential nomination was at its most furious when the party's roaring-for-victory National Convention wound up its second day's session at 10:43 p. m. (EST).

The Taft-Stassen meeting occurred in strictest privacy after Senator Edward Martin stepped out as Pennsylvania's favorite son and threw his support to Dewey—bringing claims from the New York Governor's aides that he would be a sure winner on an early ballot.

Admit Meeting

Taft and Stassen both told newsmen shortly before midnight (EDT) that they had met and that Pennsylvania Governor James H. Duff was in on the meeting. Taft indicated he might confer later in the night with Gov. Earl Warren, California, also a Presidential candidate.

Duff, Senator Martin's great rival in the split Pennsylvania delegation, has spoken favorably of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan, as the party's Presidential candidate.

Nobody would say, up to midnight (EDT), what happened at the Taft-Stassen meeting. Stassen told reporters: "There is no deal. The situation is unchanged. I'm still in the race for the nomination."

He added that a Taft-Stassen ticket is "impossible."

All Duff would say about the secret meeting was: "No deals. No commitments."

Thus it was left completely up in the air what candidate a Taft-Stassen-Warren coalition might back—if such a coalition actually was formed.

Associates of the three candidates said that by combining their strength they could muster 505 votes behind the man of their choice—43 less than the number needed to win.

Then if Duff could "deliver" 23 of Pennsylvania's 73 votes a coalition candidate would be only 20 short of the nomination.

This assumes, however, that Taft, Stassen and Warren each has all the delegates he claims and that all the delegates would vote for the "coalition" candidate.

While the pace of the dickering grew steadily hotter, the convention itself gave a rousing welcome to House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts. Martin defended spiritedly the record of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress and blasted the Truman Administration for "fumbling and bumbling" in foreign affairs.

Hoover Is Cheered

And the delegates gave a tremendous 14-minute outburst of cheers and whistles with the band playing "California Here I Come," to Herbert Hoover. The ex-President said in his speech that this country should help Europe but would "only be playing Stalin's game" if it overtaxed itself in doing so.

Dewey's Pennsylvania coup was the first major break-through on the favorite-son front. It gave him a solid chunk of first-ballot support from the mighty, 73-vote keystone state delegation. Dewey men said he'd get around 50 of these votes. "Ridiculous!" snorted the opposition.

Backers of Taft, Stassen and Vandenberg all claimed the Dewey-Martin arrangement would help

74 New Polio Cases Are Reported In Texas As Disease Moves North

AUSTIN, Tex., June 22 (INS)—Texas' State Health Department reported today 74 persons contracted infantile paralysis last week and that the outbreak is moving northward in the state.

Eighty-five cases were reported the week before.

Assistant State Health Officer Dr. W. S. Brumage said the significant point of this week's report was that the infection is moving further north.

The first large outbreak of the disease occurred in the southern counties, particularly Hidalgo. Harris County, with 27 new cases reported this week, is still suffering the major brunt of the outbreak.

Dr. Brumage said the total number of cases this year is 502—far above the previous high for the same period, 240 cases in 1946. In 1946 there were a total of nearly 1,000 cases reported.

In 1947, Dr. Brumage said, there were only 160 cases all year.

Meanwhile, a crew of doctors from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, headed by Dr. Murray Sanders, reportedly worked on new-type specific treatments for polio patients at the University of Texas Medical Center in Galveston.

Dr. J. V. Irons, head of the health Department's laboratory section in Austin, said the exact nature of the treatments had not been disclosed to the department. He said he understood some success had been attained.

Maryland's Voteless GOP Delegate Fails To Protest Loss Of Ballott

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP) — The turbulent affairs of Maryland's delegation to the Republican National Convention settled on a more even keel today.

The convention's credentials Committee adjourned without receiving from Mrs. Harvey D. Kline, Hagerstown, a protest against her loss of voting powers, and Robert O. Bonnell, the delegation chairman, called a caucus for tomorrow to "work out the mechanics of voting."

Mrs. Kline was among four delegates-at-large who were stripped of their votes because Maryland sent eight, instead of four, delegates-at-large to the convention.

Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, general counsel for the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland, who had announced she would take Mrs. Kline's case to the Credentials Committee, was not available for comment when the committee wound up its work today. Neither was Kline, but a spokesman said the "fight would go on." He added he did not know what the procedure would be.

Mrs. Kline said her dismissal was illegal because she had been elected a delegate-at-large by the State Republican Committee and because the committee had adopted a resolution naming her as the particular representative of the Federation of Republican Women.

The four voteless delegates are attending the convention as honorary assistant sergeants-at-arms.

Bonnell reported the delegation apparently was well divided among Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York, Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio, and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen, Minnesota. He added he had made no attempt to poll the delegates.

Weather Forecast

SOFT COAL TALKS RESUMED

Lewis, Owners To Meet Again This Morning

Both Decline To Make Statement As Session Ends

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — John L. Lewis and Soft Coal Operators broke up a negotiating session tonight without comment. They set another meeting tomorrow morning (9 a. m. EST).

The lack of comment from either side on the way the talks went may indicate progress. At least the negotiators were smiling when they left and there was no sign of a new break in the talks.

Lewis, the first to leave, referred newsmen to Coal Operator Spokesman Charles O'Neill.

O'Neill then said: "We'll meet again tomorrow."

The renewed negotiations had been suggested by a Presidential Inquiry Board earlier in the day. Both sides told the board they were willing to resume talks and the board suggested they try for an agreement before the board makes its report to the White House late tomorrow.

The conferences were resumed just eight days before the present work agreement ends.

Believe Pension Discussed

Presumably, the talks concerned Lewis' proposal to put the $100 monthly pension plan for retired miners into effect immediately and agree to make any pay concession negotiated later retroactive to July 1. That was his price for keeping coal flowing while a new contract is worked out.

The new talks followed by a few hours a sweeping court victory for Lewis.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough had just upheld the $100 monthly pension plan that Lewis wants for aged members of his United Mine Workers.

The two sides came together first before the board itself. This group was named by President Truman under the Taft-Hartley Act to determine by tomorrow whether the contract dispute threatens "national health and safety." If the board so finds, an injunction against a strike is regarded as likely.

Lewis and Operator Spokesman Charles O'Neill both protested to the board, headed by Attorney David L. Cole, that each is willing to bargain in "good faith" for a contract to replace the one expiring June 30.

"Okay, show us," the board said in effect.

Thereupon, after hot wrangling from seats four feet apart in a steaming hot hotel conference room where the inquiry board was holding its meeting, Lewis and O'Neill agreed to talks tonight.

Now Under Injunctions

Earlier, Lewis told the board that the coal miners already are under two federal court injunctions. He said with considerable confidence that if the government holds off getting another now he can bargain out a new agreement without a complete mine stoppage.

Lewis also suggested that the coal operators could, by exercising a clause in the present contract, remove Ezra Van Horn, the operators' representative on the Welfare Fund Trustee Board, and select another trustee who would agree to the $100 pensions.

Thousands Flee After Israeli Army Fires LST

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 22 (AP) — Thousands of Tel Aviv residents fled from the waterfront late today when a munitions-laden LST beached by Rebel Irgun Zvai Fighters threatened to explode after being set afire by Israeli Army shelling.

The sudden fire, resulting from regular army mortar fire, threw the four-hour battle between Irgun and the army into strange confusion.

All hotels and apartment houses along the Mediterranean waterfront, including headquarters of a United Nations truce team, were deserted within a few minutes.

Irgun Fighters Appear

Truckloads of unarmed Irgun fighters suddenly appeared on the city's main streets. Two dozen crew members jumped off the LST, which carried 600 tons of munitions, both army troops and Irgun rebels joined in the mass exodus.

Just what was happening to Irgun's fight against the Israeli government remained a mystery. The fact that most of the Irgun fighters driving down crowded Allenby Road away from the waterfront were unarmed was interpreted by some to mean that a deal had been made with the government to end the fighting that began early yesterday.

A lull in today's battle began in mid-afternoon when a wounded Irgun man was carried from the beach under a white flag. It ended 90 minutes later when the regular army began shelling the LST.

From the ship's loud speakers came an American-accented voice calling "cease fire." About 15 minutes later four shells in rapid succession hit the deck and port side of the landing craft. Smoke curled up from the deck and within a few minutes all the foredeck was hidden by smoke.

40 Believed Killed

Before this phase of the battle began it was estimated that 40 persons were killed or wounded when the government flung troops into action against Irgun's attempt to land arms. Under the U. N. four-week truce terms with the Arabs, importation of arms is barred.

Irgun had warned of a "blood battle between Jews." Israel leaders regarded the strife as possibly the long-expected showdown between Irgun and the regular army, composed chiefly of Haganah, the former Jewish underground defense force.

Only recently Irgun agreed to dissolve itself as a separate military organization and to become part of the regular army.

But yesterday a big Irgun-manned landing ship tried to land 600 tons

Russia Reveals Plan To Reform Berlin Currency

Informs Western Powers Of Change In "Mark Battle"

BERLIN, June 22 (INS)—Russia struck back at the Western Allies in the "battle of the marks" tonight by announcing plans for a German currency reform in her eastern occupation zone and all of Berlin.

No date for start of their currency reform was set by the Russians. It is expected to force an east-west showdown not only on the currency conflict but also on Russia's contention that Berlin is part of the Soviet Occupation Zone.

Gen. Clay Receives Letter

Announcement of the reform move was made by Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky in letters to Gen. Lucius D. Clay and the British and French Military Governors.

It came after a futile six-hour effort by financial experts of the occupation powers to iron out the Berlin currency muddle—the first big four meeting at high level since March 20—ended in failure.

The Soviet announcement created new tension in the east-west political and economic struggle.

A Soviet move to introduce new currency into the Western Sectors of Berlin, which is under Four-Power rule, almost certainly would be followed by introduction of western currency in the American, British and French parts of the city.

Berlin thus far has been omitted from the western currency reform which the Russians have protested.

The Russians have hinted at further retaliatory moves in the event western currency is established in Berlin, which the Russians are trying to force the western powers to quit by restrictive traffic regulations.

Sokolovsky Explains

Sokolovsky said in his letters to the three Western Governors that he was forced to take the step to protect the economy of the Soviet Zone and Greater Berlin against the disadvantageous effects of the Western currency reforms.

He charged the Western move would bring "chaos" to Soviet-controlled territory and expressed the "hope" that the Western Military Governors "would create no obstacles" in extending the Russian currency reforms to Western sectors of Berlin.

The Soviet-controlled Berlin radio said the city administration, a majority of which is anti-Communist, would be held responsible for carrying out the reforms in the capital.

The financial parley earlier had been heralded as a possible forerunner of efforts to end not only the currency deadlock but other stalemated issues. But the Soviet News Agency ADN said "greater differences developed during the negotiations."

The conferees got nowhere on the currency squabble and set no date for further talks.

Taft, Stassen And Duff Hold Private Caucus

Martin Withdraws From Race To Give N.Y. Gov. Support

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA, June 22—(AP)—Senator Taft, Ohio conferred secretly with Harold E. Stassen tonight amid strong indications that a Taft-Stassen-Warren coalition was being sought to stop Thomas E. Dewey.

The race for the Republican Presidential nomination was at its most furious when the party's roaring-for-victory National Convention wound up its second day's session at 10:43 p. m. (EST).

The Taft-Stassen meeting occurred in strictest privacy after Senator Edward Martin stepped out as Pennsylvania's favorite son and threw his support to Dewey—bringing claims from the New York Governor's aides that he would be a sure winner on an early ballot.

Admit Meeting

Taft and Stassen both told newsmen shortly before midnight (EDT) that they had met and that Pennsylvania Governor James H. Duff was in on the meeting. Taft indicated he might confer later in the night with Gov. Earl Warren, California, also a Presidential candidate.

Duff, Senator Martin's great rival in the split Pennsylvania delegation, has spoken favorably of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan, as the party's Presidential candidate.

Nobody would say, up to midnight (EDT), what happened at the Taft-Stassen meeting. Stassen told reporters: "There is no deal. The situation is unchanged. I'm still in the race for the nomination."

He added that a Taft-Stassen ticket is "impossible."

All Duff would say about the secret meeting was: "No deals. No commitments."

Thus it was left completely up in the air what candidate a Taft-Stassen-Warren coalition might back—if such a coalition actually was formed.

Associates of the three candidates said that by combining their strength they could muster 505 votes behind the man of their choice—43 less than the number needed to win.

Then if Duff could "deliver" 23 of Pennsylvania's 73 votes a coalition candidate would be only 20 short of the nomination.

This assumes, however, that Taft, Stassen and Warren each has all the delegates he claims and that all the delegates would vote for the "coalition" candidate.

While the pace of the dickering grew steadily hotter, the convention itself gave a rousing welcome to House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts. Martin defended spiritedly the record of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress and blasted the Truman Administration for "fumbling and bumbling" in foreign affairs.

Hoover Is Cheered

And the delegates gave a tremendous 14-minute outburst of cheers and whistles with the band playing "California Here I Come," to Herbert Hoover. The ex-President said in his speech that this country should help Europe but would "only be playing Stalin's game" if it overtaxed itself in doing so.

Dewey's Pennsylvania coup was the first major break-through on the favorite-son front. It gave him a solid chunk of first-ballot support from the mighty, 73-vote keystone state delegation. Dewey men said he'd get around 50 of these votes. "Ridiculous!" snorted the opposition.

Backers of Taft, Stassen and Vandenberg all claimed the Dewey-Martin arrangement would help

U. S. Proposal Has 9-Nation Approval

LAKE SUCCESS, June 22 (AP) — Russia's 26th veto killed today a Security Council majority decision approving the American plan for world atomic control.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister who has bitterly assailed the American proposal, cast the veto. The Soviet Ukraine voted with him.

The United States, Argentina, Britain, China, Belgium, Syria, France, Canada, and Colombia — nine in all—voted to approve the entire work of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission.

Balked By Veto

Balked by the Soviet veto, the Council then decided to send the records of the atomic deadlock to the General Assembly meeting in Paris September 21 for its action.

The vote on this move was 9 to 0. Gromyko and Dmitri Z. Manuilsky, Soviet Ukrainian Foreign Minister, insisted this action could be vetoed also but Gromyko did not press the point.

Before the final vote, Manuilsky assailed the United States government. He charged the U. S. is responsible for failure of the Atomic Commission to agree on a plan after two years of long atomic talks. He said the U. S. policies threaten world peace.

It was Manuilsky's first speech to the council and the first time he had taken his seat as the Ukraine's delegate.

The United States on June 11 called on the council to approve three reports approved by the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission.

The first report made in December, 1946, was based on the general outlines of the original U. S. Control Plan introduced by Bernard M. Baruch to the commission on June 14, 1946. It outlined a world atomic control authority and called for no veto on atomic punishments. Baruch said then that the U. S. would dispose of atomic weapons when it was sure world control was effective. Gromyko disapproved this point.

Report Written in 1947

The second report was written in December, 1947. It outlined the general set-up of an atomic authority.

In the third report, approved in April, the non-Russian majority of nine on the commission said that there was no prospect of agreement until the Russians decided to cooperate with the rest of the world on the atomic problem. It said the Russians had not even agreed on technical matters.

Draft May Be By Age Groups

WASHINGTON, June 22 (INS) — Selective Service headquarters disclosed today it will recommend calling up draftees by age groups rather than through a "fish bowl" lottery as in World War II.

The plan is to fix a priority scale of the ages 19-through-25 most desired in the Army. Men born in January of a given year would be the first to be called up.

Decision as to which age groups will be called up first is up to the Army. It was assumed at Selective Service Headquarters that the older draft-age men will be most desired.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, head of Selective Service, announced the draft plan as more thousands of recruits streaming into the National Guard to escape conscription under the new measure, which has not yet been signed into law.

National Guard Headquarters was forced by lack of funds to set a country-wide limit of 90,000 on the number of guard recruits to be taken. Ceiling quotas were telegraphed to each state guard headquarters.

The prospect was that the guard will be filled, at a strength of 341,000 men, within two or three days — before President Truman signs the draft into law.

A provision of the bill exempts men who join active reserves before its final enactment. The Navy also expects to benefit from the enlistments enough to fill its active reserves, which until the current rush were 50,000 men below authorized strength.

Wallace Says Truman Blocked Coal Miners

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — Henry Wallace charged today that the Truman Administration had blocked "a better life" for the Nation's coal miners by intervening in coal industry collective bargaining.

"At almost every point, in the last couple of years, where the miners were about to win their legitimate demands through collective bargaining and the exercise of their right to stop work," he said, "the government has stepped in with seizures, strike-breaking injunctions, jail threats and huge fines, to block their way to a better life."

Cominform May Be Preparing To Attack ERP

Soviet Leaders Believed Meeting

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — Reports of a mystery meeting of the Cominform somewhere in Eastern Europe are taken here to mean that the Communist high command is getting ready its second round fight on the Marshall Plan.

At the same time, State Department Officials are speculating that the Cominform must be coming to grips with the problem of tightening the hold of the Communists over the countries of Eastern Europe. The tip-off on this line of activity came about two weeks ago when the Cominform Journal published in Belgrade called on the Eastern European leaders to consolidate their administration.

Lack Information

Washington officials appeared to be without direct diplomatic information on the secret sessions which were first reported under way in Poland and later put by Italian Communists "some place in Czechoslovakia." The most usual response of officials here when told of the press dispatches that a meeting was under way was this: "It's about time."

The last previous meeting of this high command of the Communist International Information Bureau was also its first. That was held secretly in Poland last September with Communists of nine European nations taking part. The decision reached and the speeches made were not reported until afterward.

First Plan Failed

The declared purpose of the organization created under obvious Russian European leadership was to wreck the United States program for rebuilding Western Europe. The Communists now know that they have failed in the first round of their fight.

The American Congress supplied the funds for the Marshall Plans'

Man, 101, Missing

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 22 (AP)—A 101-year-old man was reported missing today.

"Uncle Joe" Vandergrift left his home early Monday and hasn't been seen since, his daughter, Mrs. Fred C. Whitner, told police.

"He gets around good, and that's just the trouble," she said.

(The program is subject to change. Balloting may not begin until Thursday.)

McDonald Named Diplomat To Jews

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP) — President Truman tonight announced the exchange of diplomatic missions between this government and the Provisional Government of Israel.

He appointed James Grover McDonald of New York to serve as special representative of the United States in heading the mission to the New Jewish Government.

Eliahu Epstein has been designated by Israel, the White House statement said, as its special representative in the United States and head of the Israeli mission.

Mr. Truman said:

"Agreement has been reached between the government of the United States and the Provisional Government of Israel on the establishment of a mission of the United States in Israel and a mission of the Provisional Government of Israel in the United States. Agreement also has been reached on the exchange of special representatives."

McDonald, 61, was a member of the Anglo-American Commission of Inquiry on Palestine in 1946, and is a trustee of the Twentieth Century Fund.

Born in Coldwater, Ohio, McDonald now lives in Bronxville, N. Y. He is a graduate of Indiana University, Harvard and Tufts College.

For 14 years beginning in 1919 he was chairman of the Board of the Foreign Policy Association, Inc. He served as high commissioner for Jewish and other refugees coming from Germany between 1933 and 1935. McDonald was a member of the New York Times Editorial Staff for two years thereafter, and in 1942-44 was news analyst and adviser on postwar relations to the Blue Network.

Threats Of Fight Over GOP Foreign Policy Collapses

Party Labor Stand Assailed By Unions

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP)—All threats of a serious convention floor battle on the GOP Foreign Policy stand—cold shouldering isolationism and pledging American leadership toward world peace—apparently collapsed tonight.

There were these fast Republican platform developments:

1. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) hailed the foreign plank as "magnificent."

2. Senator Brooks (R-Ill), who battled in the Platform Committee last night to change some of the strong internationalist language of the foreign plank, told reporters tonight there will be no convention fight by him or other critics of the platform proposals.

Harmony Is Predicted

3. GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece predicted "harmonious action" on the platform at the convention tomorrow.

The platform writers struck out preliminary draft language calling for United Nations' control of atomic energy. Brooks, a Resolutions Committee member, led the fight. "I did not succeed in having all my views accepted," he said, "but I accept it (the platform) as the best I could get."

But while harmony descended again upon the GOP policy-makers, the party's labor stand was assailed by several union leaders as feeble and unconvincing.

The internationalist plank adopted by the Platform Committee after a stormy half-the-night session calls for bulwarking the United Nations by curbing the big power veto and setting up a world police force under the U. N. Charter.

Moreover, Platform Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge said the defense plank, closely related to foreign policy, is a strong and clear commitment for building up the nation's armed forces.

"I am happy beyond words to express my satisfaction with our sturdy pledge to peace with justice through collective security and progressive international co-operation."

But rumblings of protest developed quickly on the GOP labor plank — which may sway many thousands of votes one way or another in November.

Dewey-Martin Ticket Rumored At Convention

PHILADELPHIA, June 22. (INS)—Rumors spread through Philadelphia tonight that the GOP presidential ticket is to be Dewey and Sen. Martin — Martin of Pennsylvania.

This rumor sprang from the fact of Senator Edward Martin in renouncing his own campaign and throwing his support to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York.

Maryland's Voteless GOP Delegate Fails To Protest Loss Of Ballot

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP) — The turbulent affairs of Maryland's delegation to the Republican National Convention settled on a more even keel today.

The convention's credentials Committee adjourned without receiving from Mrs. Harvey D. Kline, Hagerstown, a protest against her loss of voting powers, and Robert O. Bonnell, the delegation chairman, called a caucus for tomorrow to "work out the mechanics of voting."

Mrs. Kline was among four delegates-at-large who were stripped of their votes because Maryland sent eight, instead of four, delegates-at-large to the convention.

Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, general counsel for the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland, who had announced she would take Mrs. Kline's case to the Credentials Committee, was not available for comment when the committee wound up its work today. Neither was Kline, but a spokesman said the "fight would go on." He added he did not know what the procedure would be.

Mrs. Kline said her dismissal was illegal because she had been elected a delegate-at-large by the State Republican Committee and because the committee had adopted a resolution naming her as the particular representative of the Federation of Republican Women.

The four voteless delegates are attending the convention as honorary assistant sergeants-at-arms.

Bonnell reported the delegation apparently was well divided among Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York, Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio, and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen, Minnesota. He added he had made no attempt to poll the delegates.

74 New Polio Cases Are Reported In Texas As Disease Moves North

AUSTIN, Tex., June 22 (INS)—Texas' State Health Department reported today 74 persons contracted infantile paralysis last week and that the outbreak is moving northward in the state.

Eighty-five cases were reported the week before.

Assistant State Health Officer Dr. W. S. Brumage said the significant point of this week's report was that the infection is moving further north.

The first large outbreak of the disease occurred in the southern counties, particularly Hidalgo. Harris County, with 27 new cases reported this week, is still suffering the major brunt of the outbreak.

Dr. Brumage said the total number of cases this year is 502—far above the previous high for the same period, 240 cases in 1946. In 1946 there were a total of nearly 1,000 cases reported.

In 1947, Dr. Brumage said, there were only 160 cases all year.

Meanwhile, a crew of doctors from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, headed by Dr. Murray Sanders, reportedly worked on new-type specific treatments for polio patients at the University of Texas Medical Center in Galveston.

Dr. J. V. Irons, head of the health Department's laboratory section in Austin, said the exact nature of the treatments had not been disclosed to the department. He said he understood some success had been attained.

Union Rejects Ford Wage Hike Offer

DETROIT, June 22. (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers turned thumbs down today on a Ford Motor Company offer of an 11 to 14 cent an hour wage boost.

The union promised a counter proposal of its own later this week. Up to now, it has demanded 30 cents an hour.

Maryland Press Group To Fight Crime News Ban

Proposed Rules Would Restrict Police News

CENTREVILLE, Md., June 22 (AP) — President Glenn T. James of the Maryland Press Association announced today his organization will take an active part in the fight against proposed rules to restrict the publication of crime and court news in the state.

James, publisher of the Centreville Record Observer, said the more than 40 weekly newspapers belonging to the Association would be represented officially at a meeting Thursday night at Silver Hill, when protest plans will be formulated.

A special committee of the Maryland Court of Appeals recommended recently that "rule 9" of the supreme bench of Baltimore City be made applicable throughout the state.

The rule, among other things, forbids the "issuance by the police or other constituted authorities, the state's attorney, counsel for the defense, or any other person having official contact with the case, any statement relative to the conduct of the accused or other matters bearing on the issue to be tried."

It bans "the issuance of any statement or forecast as to the future course of action" by anyone officially connected with a criminal case. Pictures of an accused cannot be taken without his consent.

Giving out or publication of confessions or other statements of the accused are also forbidden by Baltimore City Court Rule 9. It provides officials, attorneys, newspapers or radio stations which violate the rule may be cited for contempt.

Thursday night's meeting was called by the executive boards of the Montgomery County and Prince George's County Press Associations, which yesterday dispatched protesting tlegrams to the Court of Appeals.

Philip J. Austensen, a member of the staff of the Washington Post, is president of the Prince George's county group. John W. Coffman, publisher of the Takoma Journal at Takoma Park, heads the Montgomery County Association.

They said in a joint statement:

"We feel that only a police state could justify such restraints on a free press, freedom of speech and the right of a defense attorney to defend his client, and that such secrecy enjoined upon the police would give rise to many violations of civil rights."

Atomic Control

Gromyko insisted that Russia's plan was desirable and charged the U. S. was attempting to gain a world monopoly on atomic energy.

Russia proposed in 1946 that the nations agree immediately on a pact prohibiting atomic weapons. This would mean the U. S. would have to destroy its bombs. After that pact, Gromyko said, the nations could discuss controls. He later proposed an atomic control commission subject to the Security Council.

Dr. Church Addresses Rotary Assembly

ALTOONA, Pa., June 22. (AP)—Governor-elect Ernest E. Church of Keyser, W. Va., today stressed continuation of Rotary ideals of fellowship at the concluding session of the 178th District Assembly of Rotary.

Delegates of Rotary clubs in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland attended the two-day panel meetings.

Group discussions today on various phases of Rotary work were led by Paul F. Gruber, Hagerstown, Md.; Judge F. Cortez Bell, Clearfield; William Johnston, Jr., Bedford, Roy W. Eves, Cumberland, David G. Nazum, Keyser, W. Va; Edward M. Elliott, Coudersport; and Commander John D. Pennington, Huntington.

Lewis, Owners

But Chairman Cole of the Inquiry Board said Van Horn has promised to file a statement tomorrow saying whether his attitude against the Lewis pension plan has been altered because of Judge Goldsborough's ruling. Van Horn has not announced whether he will appeal the decision.

In suggesting the negotiations tonight, Cole said they would be futile if things went as they have in the past. He said he hoped the talks could proceed so the inquiry board could report to President Truman on its deadline tomorrow that an agreement seemed imminent

Such a recommendation likely would postpone the expected government move to get out a new Taft-Hartley Act injunction against a strike.

Lewis suggested that, if the government should apply for a new court injunction, it should be against the coal operators for causing a "lockout."

He said he has offered to keep the mines open, provided the $100 pensions are paid at once, and any new contract terms are made to apply as of July 1, but the coal operators have rejected the idea.

O'Neill said Judge Goldsborough's ruling hasn't changed the operator's position: that the pension battle is up to the trustees once the operators pay their 10-cent tonnage royalty contributions to the disputed welfare fund.

The contract negotiations broke off a week ago when the operators walked out saying that Lewis wouldn't talk contract terms. The pension dispute was at the bottom of their disagreement.

Taft, Stassen

rather than hinder the other candidates.

Vandenberg, still a self-described non-candidate, dined across the street from two men who have been pushing him for the nomination—New Jersey Governor Alfred E. Driscoll and Senator H. Alexander Smith of the same state.

Asked if he would see them, Vandenberg replied: "I'm interested only in getting 16 flights up to my apartment to see the convention—on television."

The frenzied maneuvering that surrounded most Presidential possibilities far overshadowed the day's other development—publication of the 2,400-word platform on which the winner will campaign for the White House.

It calls for help to other nations and for strengthening of the United Nations, with the big power veto curbed. In home affairs, it comes out for public housing and a civil rights program including a ban on race segregation in the armed forces.

The convention is expected to approve the platform without much argument tomorrow. All the scrapping was done in the resolutions committee and it didn't end until early this morning.

Threats Of

American Federation of Labor officials in Washington declared: "The labor plank is totally unsatisfactory. It fails to deal with the high cost of living and fails to pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act."

The "civil rights" plank called for prompt legislation to outlaw lynching and to abolish poll taxes. It stands for wiping out racial segregation in the army and the right of every individual to "work and advance in life" regardless of race and color.

This is little different from the civil rights program that wracked the Democratic Party when President Truman sought to get these objectives written into law. One big question now is: How many Democrats, mad at Mr. Truman, will vote Republican?

Maryland Press Group To Fight Crime News Ban

Proposed Rules Would Restrict Police News

CENTREVILLE, Md., June 22 (AP) — President Glenn T. James of the Maryland Press Association announced today his organization will take an active part in the fight against proposed rules to restrict the publication of crime and court news in the state.

James, publisher of the Centreville Record Observer, said the more than 40 weekly newspapers belonging to the Association would be represented officially at a meeting Thursday night at Silver Hill, when protest plans will be formulated.

A special committee of the Maryland Court of Appeals recommended recently that "rule 9" of the supreme bench of Baltimore City be made applicable throughout the state.

The rule, among other things, forbids the "issuance by the police or other constituted authorities, the state's attorney, counsel for the defense, or any other person having official contact with the case, any statement relative to the conduct of the accused or other matters bearing on the issue to be tried."

It bans "the issuance of any statement or forecast as to the future course of action" by anyone officially connected with a criminal case. Pictures of an accused cannot be taken without his consent.

Giving out or publication of confessions or other statements of the accused are also forbidden by Baltimore City Court Rule 9. It provides officials, attorneys, newspapers or radio stations which violate the rule may be cited for contempt.

Thursday night's meeting was called by the executive boards of the Montgomery County and Prince George's County Press Associations, which yesterday dispatched protesting tlegrams to the Court of Appeals.

Philip J. Austensen, a member of the staff of the Washington Post, is president of the Prince George's county group. John W. Coffman, publisher of the Takoma Journal at Takoma Park, heads the Montgomery County Association.

They said in a joint statement:

"We feel that only a police state could justify such restraints on a free press, freedom of speech and the right of a defense attorney to defend his client, and that such secrecy enjoined upon the police would give rise to many violations of civil rights."

Atomic Control

Gromyko insisted that Russia's plan was desirable and charged the U. S. was attempting to gain a world monopoly on atomic energy.

Russia proposed in 1946 that the nations agree immediately on a pact prohibiting atomic weapons. This would mean the U. S. would have to destroy its bombs. After that pact, Gromyko said, the nations could discuss controls. He later proposed an atomic control commission subject to the Security Council.

Overnight the ship was moved into Tel Aviv Bay and beached within a block of the hotel headquarters of United Nations truce observers. Irgun refused to surrender the ship to government custody.

Dr. Church Addresses Rotary Assembly

ALTOONA, Pa., June 22. (AP)—Governor-elect Ernest E. Church of Keyser, W. Va., today stressed continuation of Rotary ideals of fellowship at the concluding session of the 178th District Assembly of Rotary.

Delegates of Rotary clubs in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland attended the two-day panel meetings.

Group discussions today on various phases of Rotary work were led by Paul F. Gruber, Hagerstown, Md.; Judge F. Cortez Bell, Clearfield; William Johnston, Jr., Bedford, Roy W. Eves, Cumberland, David G. Nazum, Keyser, W. Va; Edward M. Elliott, Coudersport; and Commander John D. Pennington, Huntington.

Lewis, Owners

But Chairman Cole of the Inquiry Board said Van Horn has promised to file a statement tomorrow saying whether his attitude against the Lewis pension plan has been altered because of Judge Goldsborough's ruling. Van Horn has not announced whether he will appeal the decision.

In suggesting the negotiations tonight, Cole said they would be futile if things went as they have in the past. He said he hoped the talks could proceed so the inquiry board could report to President Truman on its deadline tomorrow that an agreement seemed imminent

Such a recommendation likely would postpone the expected government move to get out a new Taft-Hartley Act injunction against a strike.

Lewis suggested that, if the government should apply for a new court injunction, it should be against the coal operators for causing a "lockout."

He said he has offered to keep the mines open, provided the $100 pensions are paid at once, and any new contract terms are made to apply as of July 1, but the coal operators have rejected the idea.

O'Neill said Judge Goldsborough's ruling hasn't changed the operator's position: that the pension battle is up to the trustees once the operators pay their 10-cent tonnage royalty contributions to the disputed welfare fund.

The contract negotiations broke off a week ago when the operators walked out saying that Lewis wouldn't talk contract terms. The pension dispute was at the bottom of their disagreement.

Taft, Stassen

rather than hinder the other candidates.

Vandenberg, still a self-described non-candidate, dined across the street from two men who have been pushing him for the nomination—New Jersey Governor Alfred E. Driscoll and Senator H. Alexander Smith of the same state.

Asked if he would see them, Vandenberg replied: "I'm interested only in getting 16 flights up to my apartment to see the convention—on television."

The frenzied maneuvering that surrounded most Presidential possibilities far overshadowed the day's other development—publication of the 2,400-word platform on which the winner will campaign for the White House.

It calls for help to other nations and for strengthening of the United Nations, with the big power veto curbed. In home affairs, it comes out for public housing and a civil rights program including a ban on race segregation in the armed forces.

The convention is expected to approve the platform without much argument tomorrow. All the scrapping was done in the resolutions committee and it didn't end until early this morning.

Threats Of

American Federation of Labor officials in Washington declared: "The labor plank is totally unsatisfactory. It fails to deal with the high cost of living and fails to pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act."

The "civil rights" plank called for prompt legislation to outlaw lynching and to abolish poll taxes. It stands for wiping out racial segregation in the army and the right of every individual to "work and advance in life" regardless of race and color.

This is little different from the civil rights program that wracked the Democratic Party when President Truman sought to get these objectives written into law. One big question now is: How many Democrats, mad at Mr. Truman, will vote Republican?

Experience Should Bring Understanding And Tolerance, Miss Fairfax Says

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

It's never too early to begin learning that there are no perfect human beings; that the average person is neither all good nor all bad, but somewhere in between; and that if you have been let down by someone you trusted, it is no reason for deciding that you can never put faith in anyone again.

In other words, what I am trying to say is that the sooner one learns to adjust to disillusionment instead of being made cynical by it, the better off that person is going to be all through life.

To lose one's faith in everybody because one person has proved disappointing is a sign of emotional immaturity. It is a sign, also, that the person whose faith is so easily wrecked has simply not been around enough yet to know very much about people in general. The more one sees and experiences of life, and the more ready one is to allow such observation and experience to increase their understanding of people, as it should do, the less chance there is of being disproportionately hurt by the things that inevitably happen as a part of normal existence.

All this is by way of telling the teen-agers who write me that they will never trust anyone again because some one friend has disappointed them, not to take such an experience too seriously. It is only natural and human to be startled and upset when a boy who has professed undying adoration suddenly takes up with another girl, or one's girl friend makes a play for one's boy friend. But even though the girl friend succeeds, it is no real reason for saying, as one of my teen-age correspondents did, "I'll never trust another girl friend again." And even when the boy friend drops you like a hot cake and rushes off after a cute new number, it doesn't call for deciding that there is no loyalty in any member of the masculine sex.

The safest way to approach any sort of human relationship is not to rush into intimacy to take things slow and easy until you are quite certain the other person is a type in whom you can put entire confidence, and even then to remember that all of us go through changes of emotion and changes of mind, and that it is entirely unfair not to recognize this human quality and be tolerant of it.

Remember these fundamentals and you will be disappointed in people less often, and when you are, you'll know how to keep it from upsetting you too much.

Republican Aims As Reflected By Keynoter

Seldom has a national political convention been treated to a more illuminating and down-to-earth keynote address than that delivered by Governor Green of Illinois before the Republican gathering in Philadelphia Monday night. It shows beyond question that the Republican Party has set a pattern of nominating a candidate for president with the failures of the present Administration at Washington in full focus and without the usual empty promises which have marked so many similar expressions of thought and intention.

Gov. Green's address removed any doubt that may have existed as to the Republican Party's stand on foreign policy. It left the isolationist minority on the defensive, and places the GOP on record of accepting American responsibility in world affairs. But, as Gov. Green stated, it will be the purpose of a Republican Administration to help put Europe back on its feet and not on the backs of Americans.

Further proof that Gov. Green and the Republican platform makers knew whereof they spoke is seen in the action of the Republican-controlled Congress which restored all but 2 per cent of the essential fund for foreign recovery.

Governor Green expressed the feeling of most Americans when he declared, "History will say that the inept leadership of two Presidents permitted Russia to slash Europe in half, prostrated European economy, imposed upon America the burden of supporting Western Europe, and lost us a stable peace." He set the theme of the convention and reflected the platform, on which the Republicans hope to name a winner by throwing the political spotlight on two parts of the domestic program: Full pocketbooks for Americans and help for the peoples abroad to "check the spread of communism, aid freedom in Europe," and to check the spread of slavery in the world.

The keynoter said that policy would be followed in the United States, under a Republican Administration, by stripping the public payroll of Communists and "pinks" and "regimentation" and give the nation a foreign service whose voice would be heard with respect throughout the world.

Gov. Green lauded, and rightly so, the accomplishments of the 80th Congress. He pointed with confidence to the fact that the Taft-Hartley labor law "made a real start toward labor peace," a fact which is being recognized more and more by labor itself. It was never considered a perfect law, but a beginning toward better relationship and understanding between management and worker. The door is open to a full consideration of every criticism of this law, and every proposal for its change which may come from labor, from management or from the public."

Neither will the Republican Party follow the line of reasoning of the Democratic Party that more money in the people's pockets will increase spending and inflation. It is the opinion of the GOP that more money in the people's pockets is good for the people and good for the country.

The theme advanced by Gov. Green was practical and constructive. It brings all problems and issues, both domestic and foreign, confronting the American people, into focus and sets forth a method of approach to them which cannot but restore confidence within our people. It is a program on which the American people may pin their faith for the future welfare of this republic.

The third party convention—Wallace already having nominated himself—will serve no other purpose than to enable the nutty New Dealer to make another speech. Which hardly seems worth the cost.

Would Such A Man Really Be Elected?

Quite a brilliant pamphlet came to our notice the other day. It is called "Pattern for Revolt" and tells the story of an American, a dweller in Mississippi, who runs for President with the curious idea of telling the people exactly what he thinks about the political questions of the time. Strangely enough he is elected.

The first paragraph of the foreword to this interesting little publication is as follows:

"Let anything become valuable enough, or any name popular enough, and thieves will try to steal it. The name "Liberal" was made popular by a long line of British and American liberals from Adam Smith and John Stuart Mill to Herbert Spencer and John Morley in Britain, and from Thomas Jefferson and James Madison to Grover Cleveland in this country. These men all believed in the freedom of the individual and opposed the extension of government control. They made the name "liberal" so popular that thieves are now trying to steal it and apply it to themselves, even when trying to extend the authority of government, which is the direct opposite to liberalism."

Liberal has become the most tortured word in the American language. In the very nature of things nearly all men and women want to be liberal. So many most liberal people use the word to cover up their real character and purposes and to make those who use this term most seem much more desirable and much more virtuous than they really are.

But our chief objection to the present day use of the word "Liberal" is that so many people use it as a method of escaping thought. It is the greatest of all the slogans that raise so much hell with the thinking of Americans in our time. A fellow who has new ideas and most of them obviously wrong, will take refuge in th word "Liberal" and expect to be regarded as sacrosanct from that time on.

Obviously we need fewer slogans and more plain talk in American public life. Sometimes we wonder if the present isn't the thinnest period since the Declaration of Independence for genuine frankness on the part of our public men.

It is reported college graduates are being hired so rapidly they are having to forego the usual period in which they are expected to find themselves.

Daily Workers View

Here's how the sartorially-minded Daily Worker views Speaker of the House Joe Martin:

"Wears unpressed pants. At the press conference he impresses reporters as a man who has little to say."

---

Most encouraging signs of world stability are not found in government proceedings. The people of Europe are showing a disposition to go back to work.

Poison ivy is well named and while not every one is sensitive to the plant, most of us agree that the world would be better off if it never existed. We learn early to recognize the three leaves with their red berries as something to look at but not touch. The old saying, "Leaflets three, leave them be" still goes.

Dr. Van Dellen

The plant contains an oil that is highly irritating to many persons and, wherever it makes contact, the skin reacts in typical fashion. Redness, blisters, and marked itching and burning occur. The natural response is to scratch but as soon as this is done, some of the oil adheres to the fingers whence it is spread to other parts of the body.

Individuals who are highly susceptible may develop symptoms within two to three minutes after contact. Others require from 12 to 24 hours. The irritating oil can be neutralized or washed off like any other greasy substance. Consequently, after a walk through the fields or woods, if the possibility exists that poison ivy has been contacted, the skin should be washed well with soap and water. Then vinegar, benzine, or any other fat solvent available may be applied. The oil already absorbed cannot be eliminated in this way but it is surprising how much will be removed.

After dermatitis makes its appearance it usually lasts several weeks unless treatment is instituted. There are various preparations to decompose the toxic material. For example, solutions of potassium permanganate and sodium perborate, which are known as "oxidizing agents," often prove helpful. Witherspoon prepared a salve containing 1 per cent phenol and 10 per cent sodium perborate in an emulsion base, which was successful in 90 per cent of his cases. This nongreasy, nonstaining cream was employed every two hours with rapid relief of symptoms. It was ineffective, however, in severe cases.

Pet treatments are a dime a dozen. One of the most unusual was described recently by Robinson. The plan was suggested by a physical chemist, who worked in a laboratory situated in a part of the country where poison ivy was plentiful. These workers had swabbed the affected area with a cotton sponge soaked in liquid air. After trying the method, Robinson found it helpful but, since it was so impractical for general use, he decided to substitute an ethyl chloride spray. It was applied until the skin began to frost and was a little hard to the touch. Several patients were relieved readily, especially when the patches of dermatitis were isolated. Since the substance is an anesthetic, great care must be taken if employed on the face. To date, 101 individuals have been treated of which only five failed to respond because of infection beneath the crusts.

The use of vaccines is still debatable. In some instances, they are useful not only in treatment but as preventives. The most sensible approach to the problem is to eliminate the plant. The earlier this is done the better and, for this purpose, weed killers such as 2, 4-D are excellent.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

What are those ulcers doing with a megaphone?

Every movie story is supposed to have a hero. With the motion picture industry going through an economy drive, a new and unsung hero has come to the fore—the assistant director.

He's the guy who wakes himself up in the middle of the night screaming for quiet.

You can spot him in the street. He's the fellow who's dodging the blows of the director, producers and stars as he dives for cover because he is being shot at by stockholders.

His home life is uncomplicated. He teaches his kids from early childhood to say two words . . . "cut" and "roll 'em." On a normal day he beats his wife and family to a pulp and on a good day he sets fire to his house.

When he can't sleep that night he counts directors jumping over barbed wire fences . .. and keeps hoping they'll miss.

Of course, he keeps his job if he follows the law of the land for all assistant directors: "Don't get it good, get it on schedule".

Oscar Rudolph is a talented young assistant on this picture I'm making, "Sorrowful Jones", and he's one of the few who are really relaxed. In fact, the only thing that disturbs him is when he has to stand in line to see his psychiatrist.

They asked Oscar for 100 extras the other day and he knew his job. He saved thousands of dollars by hiring 50 fat ones.

Yes, sir, the life of an assistant director is really rough. But he can always look forward to the day when he'll be a director and have an assistant for lunch.

GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece Rebuffed; Wartime Promises Broken; Majority of Republicans Realize U.S.A. Cannot Live Alone

Says DREW PEARSON

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The sweet smell of victory is in the Republican nostrils. Delegates are flushed with the air of impending triumph. The White House and 1,000,000 or so jobs seem just around the corner. They can almost stretch out their hands and touch the Treasury Department. And they can hardly wait.

The tension is something terrific. The City of Brotherly Love is seething with excitement. It's the liveliest convention the Republicans have staged in three decades.

And if it were up to the 5,050 delegates, alternates and others assembled here, they'd vote right now to dispense with all the keynote speeches, yards and yards of old-fashioned oratory, and get right down to the job of nominating the candidate. They are on pins and needles waiting for the first balloting to get started tonight.

Salty Carroll Reece

Meanwhile the backstage fireworks have been popping. Salty GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece is a chivalrous southerner, but he lost his temper with a lady during the battle over Georgia.

The Taft-Dewey forces were arguing hot and heavy over which of the Georgia delegations would be seated. Reece, supposed to be neutral chairman, but openly a Taft man, vociferated that the Taft delegates were qualified. Col. R. B. Creager of Texas backed him up.

Mrs. Dudley C. Hay, Michigan's gracious national committeewoman and secretary of the GOP national committee, didn't agree. She made a speech favoring Dewey.

Whereupon Reece hit the ceiling, charged the Dewey forces were trying to browbeat the national committee, claimed Dewey people had threatened him in his office. If he hadn't known how to control his temper, proclaimed Reece, who comes from the Tennessee mountains, he would have pulled a gun on the Deweyite.

When the vote, 48 to 44, showed Dewey the victor, Reece proceeded to bawl out Mrs. Hay, said he was going to try to defeat Mrs. Hay for re-election as national committeewoman from Michigan.

"Don't worry Mr. Reece," sweetly retorted Mrs. Hay, "when this convention is over you won't be national chairman."

Broken Wartime Promises

Four years ago this convention met in an atmosphere of unreality. The greatest invasion army in all history had crossed the English Channel 21 days before, stormed up the coast of France.

Across another ocean, the U. S. Navy was edging closer to Japan. Even the Chicago hotels in which the Republicans met were haunted by the ghosts of air force trainees who had lived there a few months before.

There were those who had said Franklin Roosevelt would never hold an election in wartime, that the U.S.A. would simulate the dictatorships it was trying to defeat. But despite the sombre atmosphere, the conventions and the elections were held.

Today — three short years after the war's end—the old-time political vaudeville is back. The war is pretty much forgotten. The promises of new homes for veterans made so glibly when the boys were overseas, have been sidetracked by one triumphant wing of the Republican party. Post-war profits are zooming, also prices and inflation. Income, especially for white-collar workers and lower-bracket groups, is proportionately down.

A lot of wartime promises have been forgotten.

One GOP Lesson

But not forgotten is one all-important lesson learned by the majority of the party—namely that the U.S.A. cannot live alone.

In 1940 on the eve of the Republican convention, Arthur Vandenberg denounced President Roosevelt's action of putting American military supplies at the disposal of England and France. Next day Thomas E. Dewey criticized Roosevelt's "stab in the back" speech against Mussolini after he invaded stricken France.

Today at Philadelphia is Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., chairman of the GOP platform committee. He is the grandson of the Massachusetts senator who defeated Woodrow Wilson and the League of Nations. Young Senator Lodge, however, no more thinks like his grandfather than his grandfather thought of flying the Atlantic.

Appearing before young Lodge's platform committee the other day was a Cleveland lawyer, John Putnam, with what the elder Lodge would have called a revolutionary proposal. With him was Nat Howard, editor of the Cleveland News.

Neither are crackpots. Both represent strong, conservative interests. They proposed that the Republican Party go on record in favor of planting the seeds of world government. Specifically, they proposed a formula for world law and world law enforcement.

Their idea, put forward by a group of Cleveland businessmen, educators and others calling themselves "workers for world security," would make old Henry Cabot Lodge turn over in his austere grave.

However, 300,000 people have signed their petition endorsing the broad principles of world government, and young Senator Lodge, listening gravely to the plan, didn't seem to consider it revolutionary.

This is the biggest change that has occurred among the top leaders of the Republican party. It is still a point of big controversy with the John Taber-Chicago Tribune wing of the party. And it is the point which the American people will be watching most, not only now but on election day. They do not want war again.

Dewey-Go-Round

"Destiny," said Dewey's friend, Paul Lockwood, in 1944, "waits on no man. By 1948 an Eisenhower will come out of the war. This is Dewey's year." . . . 1944 was Dewey's year for the GOP nomination, but not for the election. . . Never before has the Republican party renominated a previously defeated candidate. However, his cohorts are determined to break this precedent, and the next 48 hours will tell the story. . . . Here are the men whose patient years of building up Tom Dewey will crash or succeed this week:

Closest man to Dewey is his secretary, able, amiable, bluff, hard-working Paul Lockwood. An ex-New York newspaperman, Lockwood guided Dewey through the early maze of political pitfalls which threatened the young racket-buster. He is what Louey Howe was to Franklin Roosevelt, and if his young protege makes it this week, to Paul Lockwood will go a large share of the credit.

Political mentor to the young GOP hopeful is Buffalo's heavy-jowled, tough-talking Edwin F. Jaeckle, chairman of the New York State GOP committee. Born of German immigrants, Jaeckle waxed wealthy on the job of collecting New York taxes, became New York's shrewdest, though not most diplomatic up-state GOP leader. He would like to forget, however, that he once drew up the incorporation papers of the German-American Bund, and he has tried to atone for it by helping to found the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Herbert Brownell, who came out of Nebraska to practice law in New York, was Dewey's campaign manager in his successful race for Governor in 1942, continues at the steering wheel now. Long a member of the New York legislature, he helped put through the racket-buster's criminal-reform bills.

J. Russell Sprague, as smooth as the oysters his father used to hoist from Long Island Sound, is Dewey's chief backstage operator. Born and bred in New York politics, Sprague has been GOP boss of Nassau county, Long Island, for years but has little experience in the big political world outside. Except for George Medalie, he is the oldest of the young men around Dewey. His age is 61.

Truman Big Obstacle Toward Congress Curbing Spending

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Congress deserves some going over. It has made very poor marks in cutting down spending, as Senator Harry F. Byrd has pointed out. But every executive department has led the cheering section for more dollars.

When the President, himself, tells a dollar-drunk public to come and get it, is is almost impossible for Congress to reduce. Only a few months ago, President Truman said large public works should be postponed in a time of full employment and shortage of materials. Now, however, he wants huge sums for flood control, the St. Lawrence Seaway, hydro-electric projects and a T.V.A. in every river valley.

This Congress, he says, is the worst in history. Well, perhaps, he qualified, the Thad Stevens Congress was worse, but no, not even Stevens, this, the President emphasized, is the worst of any of the 80 Congresses elected since we began to elect them.

What Truman Wants

Thad Stevens was the leader of the House of Representatives in Reconstruction days. Stevens was for imposing civil rights on the South by "federal force bills." This, ladies and gentlemen, is what Mr. Truman wants to do now—federal anti poll tax, federal anti-lynching bill, federal F.E.P.C.

Stevens led in impeaching President Johnson. Truman leads in impeaching Congress. President Johnson was not considered tough enough on the South. Stevens was the father of reconstruction and the god-father of the carpet-bagger. He was for treating the South as "a conquered province."

Stevens, a northern Republican, and Truman, the son of a Confederate soldier, sponsor much the same program, leading to national disunity and sectional hard feeling.

Mr. Truman thinks this is the first or second-worst Congress, partly, because it passed the Taft-Hartley bill over his veto. But he is using it every day to protect the national interest in the continued operation of our coal mines, railroads and ships.

In October, 1941, before Pearl Harbor, Mr. Truman said in the Senate: "I cannot condemn Mr. Sidney Hillman's attitude too strongly . . . If some irresponsible element does any illegal act, the United States is not going to stand for it . . . The same principle applies to John L. Lewis' attempt to get a closed shop in the captive coal mines."

Did this make Harry S. Truman the first-worst Senator in the history of the United States or the second-worst?

In March, 1944, Senator Truman said: "The manpower problem is too complex and difficult to be solved by any such means as passing a man-power draft statute." But in May, 1947, he urged Congress to draft all railroad workers.

Interventionist-De Luxe

Mr. Truman, having proclaimed a worldwide Monroe Doctrine, and having taken unilateral action on Greece, Turkey and Palestine outside of the United Nations, is now an interventionist-de luxe. But on June 24, 1941, two days after Hitler turned on Stalin, he said: "If we see that Germany is winning, we ought to help Russia; and if Russia is winning, we ought to help Germany, and in that way let them kill as many as possible, although I don't want to see Hitler victorious under any circumstances."

This sounds like isolationism, but in 1943, he said: "I am just as sure as I can be that this World War is the result of the 1919-1920 isolationist attitude."

On October 16, 1947, he said: "Price Control would be the method of the police state." Now Mr. Truman wants the power to impose "price and wage controls" at his discretion.

It seems to add up to this: The people in 1946 made the great mistake of not electing Mr. Truman to the Congress. But if executive totalitarianism is wrong, a one-man Congress would surely be the first-

Taft Expected To Yield To Dewey If He Cannot Win Toga

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The early skirmishing has begun and the lines are beginning to harden. Deep-seated antagonisms along with intense championship of particular candidates can bring a deadlock.

On the first day of the convention the maneuvering that went on behind the scenes transcended in importance the actual proceedings. Leaders were hurrying back and forth from hotel to hotel trying to figure out ways of getting commitments for particular ballots.

It seems agreed that Governor Dewey must go into a majority status in the early balloting or be eliminated in favor of a compromise. If the New York governor has the patent strength that his managers claim, he should win by insisting on a continuance of the balloting without recess.

Taft May Yield To Dewey

The opposition to Dewey is being formed out of favorite son delegations as well as out of the Taft-Stassen combination. The theory of the Taft managers is that, if Taft cannot win, he will yield to Dewey. This has been the reason why the Ohio senator has been saying: Its either Dewey or Taft.

The Vandenberg camp is a good deal of a mystery. Without headquarters of the orthodox sort, the Michigan delegation is steering the candidacy of their favorite son. The Michigan senator is not lifting a finger to forward his own candidacy—in fact, he keeps restraining his over enthusiastic friends.

If there is a deadlock, Vandenberg will be the beneficiary. At this moment there is no convincing evidence that a deadlock is in sight. It looks more like Dewey than it does Taft.

Favorable Dewey Development

The most favorable development from the standpoint of Dewey is the willingness of Colonel McCormick and the Taft group to accept Stassen for vice president. This, in turn, strengthens the Dewey position as being different and tends to give him the flavor of an internationalist, which of course, hasn't been particularly an issue thus far. In a showdown between McCormick's ticket and any other, the Vandenberg strength would move toward Dewey.

The speech by Governor Green of Illinois, as temporary chairman, was examined for paragraphs that might indicate the isolationist leanings of the McCormick side of the controversy, but the address was carefully prepared to avoid an issue on that score. It was, on the whole, what is known as a safe speech on domestic and international issues, but it had in it an attack on the Democratic administration which will be heard from in the campaign. Indeed, it may well be that Governor Green has succeeded in forcing the foreign policy of the U. S. into partisan politics. Certainly the Democrats and a good many other citizens will resent the imputation in the following excerpt from Governor Green's address:

"History will say that the inept leadership of two presidents permitted Russia to slash Europe in half, prostrated European economy, imposed upon America the burden of supporting Western Europe, and lost us a stable peace."

There will be many who will feel that Russia is at least to some extent to blame for the plight of Europe and the world and that it is a bit unfair to blame it all on two Presidents of the U. S. just because they happened to be Democrats.

The speech in the respect will not produce the harmony sought and may leave scars in the convention itself.

Convention Jazz

This Republican convention of 1948 in Philadelphia is different from the 1940 and the 1944 conventions in atmosphere and in the excitement of the delegates and their friends. In 1940, right here in the same hotels, with many of the current candidates also running then, with the same or similar crowds on the streets, everything seemed so synthetic—and it was. The Willkie blitz was an organized staged-managed demonstration of New York mastering the country—and it failed.

This then is the difference in atmosphere, today and then: This convention is tuned to success. More and more, the phrase is heard—"A nomination is equal to election." That, of course, may not be a true appraisal; much can happen between June and November to the country, the world and even to the candidates. But the sureness of election, the certainty that anybody can beat Truman is in the air and it affects everyone's thinking here.

And that also is one reason why delegates are still holding out. It is not usual for the Monday of convention week to present so uncertain a picture. Even the candidates do not know, for sure, where they stand. The Dewey atmosphere is one of well-managed sureness; the Taft atmosphere is one of rough and tumble sureness. And this sense of sureness is no fake; it is not a front for public consumption. Somehow, each of the principal contenders, at the very beginning of the convention, figures that he is in and is only working to improve his situation.

Obviously something is wrong with someone's figures because the arithmetic does not add up, but we are not dealing at this moment with figures but with atmosphere.

In 1944, the picture was different. The principal contenders were Tom Dewey and John Bricker, and Dewey had it from the start. But 1944 was not an enthusiastic convention. The atmosphere of inevitability prevailed; namely, that no one could beat Franklin D. Roosevelt and that he would be President as long as he lived. No one knew then that he would not finish out the term.

Futhermore, the country was at war and the delegates sensed that the two principal issues facing the nation, the conduct of the war and the foreign policy, would not be discussed in the campaign. The convention speeches in 1944 were, on the whole, dull and meaningless with a nation at war, and the convention itself was opened with left-wing music, giving the impression of inspired stupidity. Nineteen forty-four was a dull convention with no heart in it.

This year is very different because eventual victory is in the air. Taft and Dewey each is experiencing his third candidacy for the presidential nomination. Willkie edged them both out in 1940 and Taft or Dewey, one or the other, might have made the grade then, had they listened to friends and party leaders. The proposal was a Taft and Dewey ticket or a Dewey and Taft ticket, but neither would be a Vice President—and so Willkie's blitz went over and that curiously meaningless round of radio snortings and shoutings was called a political campaign.

This year, Taft and Dewey are equally obdurate. Neither will be Vice President. The Taft-Dewey or Dewey-Taft ticket could be nominated on the first ballot with such enthusiasm as a Republican convention never witnessed before. But that will not happen, neither Bob Taft nor Tom Dewey wants to be Vice President; neither wants to be lucky or unlucky like Harry Truman; neither wants the dull, tiresome inactivity of waiting for someone to become incapacitated or die. Both are too young, to aggressive, too fighting for Throttlebottom's job.

So we shall witness a battle and a failure to compromise. The third wheels are becoming plentiful: Stassen, Vandenberg, Bricker, Warren and every governor of every state. Of these, Warren of California seems to be the center of most rumors but the least reality. Vandenberg's buttons are beginning to appear and no one has buttons printed who is not a candidate. And Stassen is running for Vice President and a very handsome one he will be, too.

The Wealth Of Memories

I wonder what life would be like did we not have stored in our minds the precious thing called memory? Someone once said we had memories that we might have roses in December. I would say that God gave it to us that we might carry with us forever the memory of every dear one gone, and store in our minds and hearts every bit of good and beauty that has been ours.

With our memory we can live our youth again in old age, and travel again and again over every spot that has enriched and thrilled us. Stevenson once said that "he who has learned to love an art or science has wisely laid up riches against the day of riches." So we store up riches in this memory of ours.

The memory of certain books that have inspire me, comes to me over and over again, and many of them I read again that I may freshen them in my memory. I like to think of all those who have been kind and encouraging to me over the years and the memory of every one of these acts grows more precious with the years. We have no idea how long a good deed, or an inspiring word, lives!

A mother once wrote me that she had sent one of these talks to her young boy who was in the recent war. He wrote and told her he had treasured and carried it with him. But one day he got lonely and decided to desert. He was all packed up, but at the last moment that little clipping fell from one of his books. He picked it up, read it again, and said to himself that he would not disgrace his mother. He did not—but gave his life that freedom might live in the world. We can never revere nor honor such heroes enough. Their lives will live forever in our memory.

No one can be very lonely with a mind stored with a wealth of memories. We can carry a multitude of the great of this earth about with us in our memory—the example of their lives being a constant inspiration to us. We may give away, or even lose, many of the possessions that we have accumulated over the years, but the memory of the joy we experienced in their collecting, remains with us in memory, so that we never really lose!

Republican Aims As Reflected By Keynoter

Seldom has a national political convention been treated to a more illuminating and down-to-earth keynote address than that delivered by Governor Green of Illinois before the Republican gathering in Philadelphia Monday night. It shows beyond question that the Republican Party has set a pattern of nominating a candidate for president with the failures of the present Administration at Washington in full focus and without the usual empty promises which have marked so many similar expressions of thought and intention.

Gov. Green's address removed any doubt that may have existed as to the Republican Party's stand on foreign policy. It left the isolationist minority on the defensive, and places the GOP on record of accepting American responsibility in world affairs. But, as Gov. Green stated, it will be the purpose of a Republican Administration to help put Europe back on its feet and not on the backs of Americans.

Further proof that Gov. Green and the Republican platform makers knew whereof they spoke is seen in the action of the Republican-controlled Congress which restored all but 2 per cent of the essential fund for foreign recovery.

Governor Green expressed the feeling of most Americans when he declared, "History will say that the inept leadership of two Presidents permitted Russia to slash Europe in half, prostrated European economy, imposed upon America the burden of supporting Western Europe, and lost us a stable peace." He set the theme of the convention and reflected the platform, on which the Republicans hope to name a winner by throwing the political spotlight on two parts of the domestic program: Full pocketbooks for Americans and help for the peoples abroad to "check the spread of communism, aid freedom in Europe," and to check the spread of slavery in the world.

The keynoter said that policy would be followed in the United States, under a Republican Administration, by stripping the public payroll of Communists and "pinks" and "regimentation" and give the nation a foreign service whose voice would be heard with respect throughout the world.

Gov. Green lauded, and rightly so, the accomplishments of the 80th Congress. He pointed with confidence to the fact that the Taft-Hartley labor law "made a real start toward labor peace," a fact which is being recognized more and more by labor itself. It was never considered a perfect law, but a beginning toward better relationship and understanding between management and worker. The door is open to a full consideration of every criticism of this law, and every proposal for its change which may come from labor, from management or from the public."

Neither will the Republican Party follow the line of reasoning of the Democratic Party that more money in the people's pockets will increase spending and inflation. It is the opinion of the GOP that more money in the people's pockets is good for the people and good for the country.

The theme advanced by Gov. Green was practical and constructive. It brings all problems and issues, both domestic and foreign, confronting the American people, into focus and sets forth a method of approach to them which cannot but restore confidence within our people. It is a program on which the American people may pin their faith for the future welfare of this republic.

The third party convention—Wallace already having nominated himself—will serve no other purpose than to enable the nutty New Dealer to make another speech. Which hardly seems worth the cost.

Would Such A Man Really Be Elected?

Quite a brilliant pamphlet came to our notice the other day. It is called "Pattern for Revolt" and tells the story of an American, a dweller in Mississippi, who runs for President with the curious idea of telling the people exactly what he thinks about the political questions of the time. Strangely enough he is elected.

The first paragraph of the foreword to this interesting little publication is as follows:

"Let anything become valuable enough, or any name popular enough, and thieves will try to steal it. The name "Liberal" was made popular by a long line of British and American liberals from Adam Smith and John Stuart Mill to Herbert Spencer and John Morley in Britain, and from Thomas Jefferson and James Madison to Grover Cleveland in this country. These men all believed in the freedom of the individual and opposed the extension of government control. They made the name "liberal" so popular that thieves are now trying to steal it and apply it to themselves, even when trying to extend the authority of government, which is the direct opposite to liberalism."

Liberal has become the most tortured word in the American language. In the very nature of things nearly all men and women want to be liberal. So many most liberal people use the word to cover up their real character and purposes and to make those who use this term most seem much more desirable and much more virtuous than they really are.

But our chief objection to the present day use of the word "Liberal" is that so many people use it as a method of escaping thought. It is the greatest of all the slogans that raise so much hell with the thinking of Americans in our time. A fellow who has new ideas and most of them obviously wrong, will take refuge in th word "Liberal" and expect to be regarded as sacrosanct from that time on.

Obviously we need fewer slogans and more plain talk in American public life. Sometimes we wonder if the present isn't the thinnest period since the Declaration of Independence for genuine frankness on the part of our public men.

Daily Workers View

Here's how the sartorially-minded Daily Worker views Speaker of the House Joe Martin:

"Wears unpressed pants. At the press conference he impresses reporters as a man who has little to say."

Most encouraging signs of world stability are not found in government proceedings. The people of Europe are showing a disposition to go back to work.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The Poison Ivy Nuisance

Poison ivy is well named and while not every one is sensitive to the plant, most of us agree that the world would be better off if it never existed. We learn early to recognize the three leaves with their red berries as something to look at but not touch. The old saying, "Leaflets three, leave them be" still goes.

Dr. Van Dellen

The plant contains an oil that is highly irritating to many persons and, wherever it makes contact, the skin reacts in typical fashion. Redness, blisters, and marked itching and burning occur. The natural response is to scratch but as soon as this is done, some of the oil adheres to the fingers whence it is spread to other parts of the body.

Individuals who are highly susceptible may develop symptoms within two to three minutes after contact. Others require from 12 to 24 hours. The irritating oil can be neutralized or washed off like any other greasy substance. Consequently, after a walk through the fields or woods, if the possibility exists that poison ivy has been contacted, the skin should be washed well with soap and water. Then vinegar, benzine, or any other fat solvent available may be applied. The oil already absorbed cannot be eliminated in this way but it is surprising how much will be removed.

After dermatitis makes its appearance it usually lasts several weeks unless treatment is instituted. There are various preparations to decompose the toxic material. For example, solutions of potassium permanganate and sodium perborate, which are known as "oxidizing agents," often prove helpful. Witherspoon prepared a salve containing 1 per cent phenol and 10 per cent sodium perborate in an emulsion base, which was successful in 90 per cent of his cases. This nongreasy, nonstaining cream was employed every two hours with rapid relief of symptoms. It was ineffective, however, in severe cases.

Pet treatments are a dime a dozen. One of the most unusual was described recently by Robinson. The plan was suggested by a physical chemist, who worked in a laboratory situated in a part of the country where poison ivy was plentiful. These workers had swabbed the affected area with a cotton sponge soaked in liquid air. After trying the method, Robinson found it helpful but, since it was so impractical for general use, he decided to substitute an ethyl chloride spray. It was applied until the skin began to frost and was a little hard to the touch. Several patients were relieved readily, especially when the patches of dermatitis were isolated. Since the substance is an anesthetic, great care must be taken if employed on the face. To date, 101 individuals have been treated of which only five failed to respond because of infection beneath the crusts.

The use of vaccines is still debatable. In some instances, they are useful not only in treatment but as preventives. The most sensible approach to the problem is to eliminate the plant. The earlier this is done the better and, for this purpose, weed killers such as 2, 4-D are excellent.

By BOB HOPE

What are those ulcers doing with a megaphone?

Every movie story is supposed to have a hero. With the motion picture industry going through an economy drive, a new and unsung hero has come to the fore—the assistant director.

He's the guy who wakes himself up in the middle of the night screaming for quiet.

You can spot him in the street. He's the fellow who's dodging the blows of the director, producers and stars as he dives for cover because he is being shot at by stockholders.

His home life is uncomplicated. He teaches his kids from early childhood to say two words . . . "cut" and "roll 'em." On a normal day he beats his wife and family to a pulp and on a good day he sets fire to his house.

When he can't sleep that night he counts directors jumping over barbed wire fences . . . and keeps hoping they'll miss.

Of course, he keeps his job if he follows the law of the land for all assistant directors: "Don't get it good, get it on schedule".

Oscar Rudolph is a talented young assistant on this picture I'm making, "Sorrowful Jones", and he's one of the few who are really relaxed. In fact, the only thing that disturbs him is when he has to stand in line to see his psychiatrist.

They asked Oscar for 100 extras the other day and he knew his job. He saved thousands of dollars by hiring 50 fat ones.

Yes, sir, the life of an assistant director is really rough. But he can always look forward to the day when he'll be a director and have an assistant for lunch.

GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece Rebuffed; Wartime Promises Broken; Majority of Republicans Realize U.S.A. Cannot Live Alone

Says DREW PEARSON

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The sweet smell of victory is in the Republican nostrils. Delegates are flushed with the air of impending triumph. The White House and 1,000,000 or so jobs seem just around the corner. They can almost stretch out their hands and touch the Treasury Department. And they can hardly wait.

The tension is something terrific. The City of Brotherly Love is seething with excitement. It's the liveliest convention the Republicans have staged in three decades.

And if it were up to the 5,050 delegates, alternates and others assembled here, they'd vote right now to dispense with all the keynote speeches, yards and yards of old-fashioned oratory, and get right down to the job of nominating the candidate. They are on pins and needles waiting for the first balloting to get started tonight.

Salty Carroll Reece

Meanwhile the backstage fireworks have been popping. Salty GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece is a chivalrous southerner, but he lost his temper with a lady during the battle over Georgia.

The Taft-Dewey forces were arguing hot and heavy over which of the Georgia delegations would be seated. Reece, supposed to be neutral chairman, but openly a Taft man, vociferated that the Taft delegates were qualified. Col. R. B. Creager of Texas backed him up.

Mrs. Dudley C. Hay, Michigan's gracious national committeewoman and secretary of the GOP national committee, didn't agree. She made a speech favoring Dewey.

Whereupon Reece hit the ceiling, charged the Dewey forces were trying to browbeat the national committee, claimed Dewey people had threatened him in his office. If he hadn't known how to control his temper, proclaimed Reece, who comes from the Tennessee mountains, he would have pulled a gun on the Deweyite.

When the vote, 48 to 44, showed Dewey the victor, Reece proceeded to bawl out Mrs. Hay, said he was going to try to defeat Mrs. Hay for re-election as national committeewoman from Michigan.

"Don't worry Mr. Reece," sweetly retorted Mrs. Hay, "when this convention is over you won't be national chairman."

Broken Wartime Promises

Four years ago this convention met in an atmosphere of unreality. The greatest invasion army in all history had crossed the English Channel 21 days before, stormed up the coast of France.

Across another ocean, the U. S. Navy was edging closer to Japan. Even the Chicago hotels in which the Republicans met were haunted by the ghosts of air force trainees who had lived there a few months before.

There were those who had said Franklin Roosevelt would never hold an election in wartime, that the U.S.A. would simulate the dictatorships it was trying to defeat. But despite the sombre atmosphere, the conventions and the elections were held.

Today — three short years after the war's end—the old-time political vaudeville is back. The war is pretty much forgotten. The promises of new homes for veterans made so glibly when the boys were overseas, have been sidetracked by one triumphant wing of the Republican party. Post-war profits are zooming, also prices and inflation. Income, especially for white-collar workers and lower-bracket groups, is proportionately down.

A lot of wartime promises have been forgotten.

One GOP Lesson

But not forgotten is one all-important lesson learned by the majority of the party—namely that the U.S.A. cannot live alone.

In 1940 on the eve of the Republican convention, Arthur Vandenberg denounced President Roosevelt's action of putting American military supplies at the disposal of England and France. Next day Thomas E. Dewey criticized Roosevelt's "stab in the back" speech against Mussolini after he invaded stricken France.

Today at Philadelphia is Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., chairman of the GOP platform committee. He is the grandson of the Massachusetts senator who defeated Woodrow Wilson and the League of Nations. Young Senator Lodge, however, no more thinks like his grandfather than his grandfather thought of flying the Atlantic.

Appearing before young Lodge's platform committee the other day was a Cleveland lawyer, John Putnam, with what the elder Lodge would have called a revolutionary proposal. With him was Nat Howard, editor of the Cleveland News.

Neither are crackpots. Both represent strong, conservative interests. They proposed that the Republican Party go on record in favor of planting the seeds of world government. Specifically, they proposed a formula for world law and world law enforcement.

Their idea, put forward by a group of Cleveland businessmen, educators and others calling themselves "workers for world security," would make old Henry Cabot Lodge turn over in his austere grave.

However, 300,000 people have signed their petition endorsing the broad principles of world government, and young Senator Lodge, listening gravely to the plan, didn't seem to consider it revolutionary.

This is the biggest change that has occurred among the top leaders of the Republican party. It is still a point of big controversy with the John Taber-Chicago Tribune wing of the party. And it is the point which the American people will be watching most, not only now but on election day. They do not want war again.

Dewey-Go-Round

"Destiny," said Dewey's friend, Paul Lockwood, in 1944, "waits on no man. By 1948 an Eisenhower will come out of the war. This is Dewey's year." . . . 1944 was Dewey's year for the GOP nomination, but not for the election. . . Never before has the Republican party renominated a previously defeated candidate. However, his cohorts are determined to break this precedent, and the next 48 hours will tell the story. . . . Here are the men whose patient years of building up Tom Dewey will crash or succeed this week:

Closest man to Dewey is his secretary, able, amiable, bluff, hard-working Paul Lockwood. An ex-New York newspaperman, Lockwood guided Dewey through the early maze of political pitfalls which threatened the young racket-buster. He is what Louey Howe was to Franklin Roosevelt, and if his young protege makes it this week, to Paul Lockwood will go a large share of the credit.

Political mentor to the young GOP hopeful is Buffalo's heavy-jowled, tough-talking Edwin F. Jaeckle, chairman of the New York State GOP committee. Born of German immigrants, Jaeckle waxed wealthy on the job of collecting New York taxes, became New York's shrewdest, though not most diplomatic up-state GOP leader. He would like to forget, however, that he once drew up the incorporation papers of the German-American Bund, and he has tried to atone for it by helping to found the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Herbert Brownell, who came out of Nebraska to practice law in New York, was Dewey's campaign manager in his successful race for Governor in 1942, continues at the steering wheel now. Long a member of the New York legislature, he helped put through the racket-buster's criminal-reform bills.

J. Russell Sprague, as smooth as the oysters his father used to hoist from Long Island Sound, is Dewey's chief backstage operator. Born and bred in New York politics, Sprague has been GOP boss of Nassau county, Long Island, for years but has little experience in the big political world outside. Except for George Medalie, he is the oldest of the young men around Dewey. His age is 61.

Truman Big Obstacle Toward Congress Curbing Spending

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Congress deserves some going over. It has made very poor marks in cutting down spending, as Senator Harry F. Byrd has pointed out. But every executive department has led the cheering section for more dollars.

When the President, himself, tells a dollar-drunk public to come and get it, is is almost impossible for Congress to reduce. Only a few months ago, President Truman said large public works should be postponed in a time of full employment and shortage of materials. Now, however, he wants huge sums for flood control, the St. Lawrence Seaway, hydro-electric projects and a T.V.A. in every river valley.

This Congress, he says, is the worst in history. Well, perhaps, he qualified, the Thad Stevens Congress was worse, but no, not even Stevens, this, the President emphasized, is the worst of any of the 80 Congresses elected since we began to elect them.

What Truman Wants

Thad Stevens was the leader of the House of Representatives in Reconstruction days. Stevens was for imposing civil rights on the South by "federal force bills." This, ladies and gentlemen, is what Mr. Truman wants to do now—federal anti poll tax, federal anti-lynching bill, federal F.E.P.C.

Stevens led in impeaching President Johnson. Truman leads in impeaching Congress. President Johnson was not considered tough enough on the South. Stevens was the father of reconstruction and the god-father of the carpet-bagger. He was for treating the South as "a conquered province."

Stevens, a northern Republican, and Truman, the son of a Confederate soldier, sponsor much the same program, leading to national disunity and sectional hard feeling.

Mr. Truman thinks this is the first or second-worst Congress, partly, because it passed the Taft-Hartley bill over his veto. But he is using it every day to protect the national interest in the continued operation of our coal mines, railroads and ships.

In October, 1941, before Pearl Harbor, Mr. Truman said in the Senate: "I cannot condemn Mr. Sidney Hillman's attitude too strongly . . . If some irresponsible element does any illegal act, the United States is not going to stand for it . . . The same principle applies to John L. Lewis' attempt to get a closed shop in the captive coal mines."

Did this make Harry S. Truman the first-worst Senator in the history of the United States or the second-worst?

In March, 1944, Senator Truman said: "The manpower problem is too complex and difficult to be solved by any such means as passing a man-power draft statute." But in May, 1947, he urged Congress to draft all railroad workers.

Interventionist-De Luxe

Mr. Truman, having proclaimed a worldwide Monroe Doctrine, and having taken unilateral action on Greece, Turkey and Palestine outside of the United Nations, is now an interventionist-de luxe. But on June 24, 1941, two days after Hitler turned on Stalin, he said: "If we see that Germany is winning, we ought to help Russia; and if Russia is winning, we ought to help Germany, and in that way let them kill as many as possible, although I don't want to see Hitler victorious under any circumstances."

This sounds like isolationism, but in 1943, he said: "I am just as sure as I can be that this World War is the result of the 1919-1920 isolationist attitude."

On October 16, 1947, he said: "Price Control would be the method of the police state." Now Mr. Truman wants the power to impose "price and wage controls" at his discretion.

It seems to add up to this: The people in 1946 made the great mistake of not electing Mr. Truman to the Congress. But if executive totalitarianism is wrong, a one-man Congress would surely be the first-

Taft Expected To Yield To Dewey If He Cannot Win Toga

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The early skirmishing has begun and the lines are beginning to harden. Deep-seated antagonisms along with intense championship of particular candidates can bring a deadlock.

On the first day of the convention the maneuvering that went on behind the scenes transcended in importance the actual proceedings. Leaders were hurrying back and forth from hotel to hotel trying to figure out ways of getting commitments for particular ballots.

It seems agreed that Governor Dewey must go into a majority status in the early balloting or be eliminated in favor of a compromise. If the New York governor has the patent strength that his managers claim, he should win oy insisting on a continuance of the balloting without recess.

Taft May Yield To Dewey

The opposition to Dewey is being formed out of favorite son delegations as well as out of the Taft-Stassen combination. The theory of the Taft managers is that, if Taft cannot win, he will yield to Dewey. This has been the reason why the Ohio senator has been saying: Its either Dewey or Taft.

The Vandenberg camp is a good deal of a mystery. Without headquarters of the orthodox sort, the Michigan delegation is steering the candidacy of their favorite son. The Michigan senator is not lifting a finger to forward his own candidacy—in fact, he keeps restraining his over enthusiastic friends.

If there is a deadlock, Vandenberg will be the beneficiary. At this moment there is no convincing evidence that a deadlock is in sight. It looks more like Dewey than it does Taft.

Favorable Dewey Development

The most favorable development from the standpoint of Dewey is the willingness of Colonel McCormick and the Taft group to accept Stassen for vice president. This, in turn, strengthens the Dewey position as being different and tends to give him the flavor of an internationalist, which of course, hasn't been particularly an issue thus far. In a showdown between McCormick's ticket and any other, the Vandenberg strength would move toward Dewey.

The speech by Governor Green of Illinois, as temporary chairman, was examined for paragraphs that might indicate the isolationist leanings of the McCormick side of the controversy, but the address was carefully prepared to avoid an issue on that score. It was, on the whole, what is known as a safe speech on domestic and international issues, but it had in it an attack on the Democratic administration which will be heard from in the campaign. Indeed, it may well be that Governor Green has succeeded in forcing the foreign policy of the U. S. into partisan politics. Certainly the Democrats and a good many other citizens will resent the imputation in the following excerpt from Governor Green's address:

"History will say that the inept leadership of two presidents permitted Russia to slash Europe in half, prostrated European economy, imposed upon America the burden of supporting Western Europe, and lost us a stable peace."

There will be many who will feel that Russia is at least to some extent to blame for the plight of Europe and the world and that it is a bit unfair to blame it all on two Presidents of the U. S. just because they happened to be Democrats.

The speech in the respect will not produce the harmony sought and may leave scars in the convention itself.

Convention Jazz

This Republican convention of 1948 in Philadelphia is different from the 1940 and the 1944 conventions in atmosphere and in the excitement of the delegates and their friends. In 1940, right here in the same hotels, with many of the current candidates also running then, with the same or similar crowds on the streets, everything seemed so synthetic—and it was. The Willkie blitz was an organized staged-managed demonstration of New York mastering the country—and it failed.

This then is the difference in atmosphere, today and then: This convention is tuned to success. More and more, the phrase is heard—"A nomination is equal to election." That, of course, may not be a true appraisal; much can happen between June and November to the country, the world and even to the candidates. But the sureness of election, the certainty that anybody can beat Truman is in the air and it affects everyone's thinking here.

And that also is one reason why delegates are still holding out. It is not usual for the Monday of convention week to present so uncertain a picture. Even the candidates do not know, for sure, where they stand. The Dewey atmosphere is one of well-managed sureness; the Taft atmosphere is one of rough and tumble sureness. And this sense of sureness is no fake; it is not a front for public consumption. Somehow, each of the principal contenders, at the very beginning of the convention, figures that he is in and is only working to improve his situation.

Obviously something is wrong with someone's figures because the arithmetic does not add up, but we are not dealing at this moment with figures but with atmosphere.

In 1944, the picture was different. The principal contenders were Tom Dewey and John Bricker, and Dewey had it from the start. But 1944 was not an enthusiastic convention. The atmosphere of inevitability prevailed; namely, that no one could beat Franklin D. Roosevelt and that he would be President as long as he lived. No one knew then that he would not finish out the term.

Futhermore, the country was at war and the delegates sensed that the two principal issues facing the nation, the conduct of the war and the foreign policy, would not be discussed in the campaign. The convention speeches in 1944 were, on the whole, dull and meaningless with a nation at war, and the convention itself was opened with left-wing music, giving the impression of inspired stupidity. Nineteen forty-four was a dull convention with no heart in it.

This year is very different because eventual victory is in the air. Taft and Dewey each is experiencing his third candidacy for the presidential nomination. Willkie edged them both out in 1940 and Taft or Dewey, one or the other, might have made the grade then, had they listened to friends and party leaders. The proposal was a Taft and Dewey ticket or a Dewey and Taft ticket, but neither would be a Vice President—and so Willkie's blitz went over and that curiously meaningless round of radio snortings and shoutings was called a political campaign.

This year, Taft and Dewey are equally obdurate. Neither will be Vice President. The Taft-Dewey or Dewey-Taft ticket could be nominated on the first ballot with such enthusiasm as a Republican convention never witnessed before. But that will not happen, neither Bob Taft nor Tom Dewey wants to be Vice President; neither wants to be lucky or unlucky like Harry Truman; neither wants the dull, tiresome inactivility of waiting for someone to become incapacitated or die. Both are too young, to aggressive, too fighting for Throttlebottom's job.

So we shall witness a battle and a failure to compromise. The third wheels are becoming plentiful: Stassen, Vandenberg, Bricker, Warren and every governor of every state. Of these, Warren of California seems to be the center of most rumors but the least reality. Vandenberg's buttons are beginning to appear and no one has buttons printed who is not a candidate. And Stassen is running for Vice President and a very handsome one he will be, too.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The Wealth Of Memories

I wonder what life would be like did we not have stored in our minds the precious thing called memory? Someone once said we had memories that we might have roses in December. I would say that God gave it to us that we might carry with us forever the memory of every dear one gone, and store in our minds and hearts every bit of good and beauty that has been ours.

With our memory we can live our youth again in old age, and travel again and again over every spot that has enriched and thrilled us. Stevenson once said that "he who has learned to love an art or science has wisely laid up riches against the day of riches." So we store up riches in this memory of ours.

The memory of certain books that have inspire me, comes to me over and over again, and many of them I read again that I may freshen them in my memory. I like to think of all those who have been kind and encouraging to me over the years and the memory of every one of these acts grows more precious with the years. We have no idea how long a good deed, or an inspiring word, lives!

A mother once wrote me that she had sent one of these talks to her young boy who was in the recent war. He wrote and told her he had treasured and carried it with him. But one day he got lonely and decided to desert. He was all packed up, but at the last moment that little clipping fell from one of his books. He picked it up, read it again, and said to himself that he would not disgrace his mother. He did not—but gave his life that freedom might live in the world. We can never revere nor honor such heroes enough. Their lives will live forever in our memory.

No one can be very lonely with a mind stored with a wealth of memories. We can carry a multitude of the great of this earth about with us in our memory—the example of their lives being a constant inspiration to us. We may give away, or even lose, many of the possessions that we have accumulated over the years, but the memory of the joy we experienced in their collecting, remains with us in memory, so that we never really lose!

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Billy Rose

A British journalist was around to see me this afternoon. He had shown me many kindnesses when I was in London a couple of years back and I was anxious to reciprocate.

"I would appreciate it," he said, "if you would help me buy a pair of seats for 'Inside U. S. A.' I'm anxious to see Bea Lillie again."

"Consider it done," I told him. "Now tell me about you trip to America. Are you getting any laughs?"

"Horse laughs," said the newspaperman grimly. "I haven't had such a distinct feeling of being unwanted since Dunkirk."

"Let me get you a drink," I said. "What'll it be, bourbon or brandy? I'm afraid I'm out of Scotch."

A lot of Americans seem to be out of Scotch these days," said my friend.

"Don't go looking under the bed for burglars," I said. "As yet, there's no boycott of British goods."

"It may not be organized," said the journalist, "but judging from what I've seen around your country, it might as well be."

"I wouldn't worry about it," I deadpanned. "England always muddles through."

"There's always a first time," said the Fleet Streeter. "It's no secret that Britain is on the border of bankruptcy, and your wholesale reluctance to buy our products may shove us over the edge. I had expected to find a certain coolness in New York, but I wasn't prepared for it in Utah and Tennessee."

"Would you mind foot - noting that statement?" I said.

"Well, let me tell you about Dallas, Texas," said the visitor. "I asked the head of one of the department stores how the sale of British goods was holding up. He walked me into the ladies' ready-to-wear department and took a suit off the rack. 'This is made of English cloth,' he told me, 'but we had to rip out the label, most of our customers refuse to buy anything with a British accent.'

"In California a merchant told me that one of the woolen companies had offered him several thousand yards of fine English tweed at less than half the usual price. He had to turn the bargain down when the foreman of his shop said the workers wouldn't handle it. I heard similar stories in other states concerning everything from English porcelain to pipes."

"I don't brood about these stories," I said. "America won't let England go into receivership."

"That's what we used to think," said the newspaperman, "but now we're not so sure."

"Britain used to be the most popular kid in class over here," I said. "How do you explain the change?"

●—●—●

"Don't be so infernally polite," said my friend. "You know the answer as well as I—Palestine."

"I'd rather not discuss it," I said. "Some of my best friends live on your island."

"I know," said the newspaperman, "and that's why I don't hesitate to talk to you about it. To begin with, why is this toy war getting so much space on your front pages?"

"That's easy," I said. "When a little guy fights a giant, it's always news. Besides, Americans have a lot of sporting blood, and it's natural for them to root for the underdog."

"What's your opinion of Bevin?" asked the man from London.

"There's a lot of ugly talk going around," I said, "about 'The Butcher Boy' and his bedsheet buddies."

"I'm afraid some of it is true," sighed my friend. "To become solvent once more, England needs gold—enough gold to give its economy muscles. According to geologists, the liquid gold under the sands of the Arabies represents the biggest single chunk of unexploited wealth in the world, and Britain needs every ha' penny of it. None of us relish trading blood for oil, but there seems no other way out."

"Don't feel too badly about it," I said. "Certain members of our Government are as deeply involved in this swindle as Britain. However, it's my hunch they'll be looking for new apartments after the next election. But to change the subject—what can I do to make your stay in New York more pleasant?"

The newspaperman smiled. "Just get me a pair down front for 'Inside U.S.A.,'" he said. "I understand Lillie is the hit of the show, and it would be a nice change to hear someone from my country being applauded rather than hissed."

"Well, let me tell you about Dallas, Texas," said the visitor. "I asked the head of one of the department stores how the sale of British goods was holding up. He walked me into the ladies' ready-to-wear department and took a suit off the rack. 'This is made of English cloth,' he told me, 'but we had to rip out the label, most of our customers refuse to buy anything with a British accent.'

"In California a merchant told me that one of the woolen companies had offered him several thousand yards of fine English tweed at less than half the usual price. He had to turn the bargain down when the foreman of his shop said the workers wouldn't handle it. I heard similar stories in other states concerning everything from English porcelain to pipes."

"I don't brood about these stories," I said. "America won't let England go into receivership."

"That's what we used to think," said the newspaperman, "but now we're not so sure."

"Britain used to be the most popular kid in class over here," I said. "How do you explain the change?"

●—●—●

"Don't be so infernally polite," said my friend. "You know the answer as well as I—Palestine."

"I'd rather not discuss it," I said. "Some of my best friends live on your island."

"I know," said the newspaperman, "and that's why I don't hesitate to talk to you about it. To begin with, why is this toy war getting so much space on your front pages?"

"That's easy," I said. "When a little guy fights a giant, it's always news. Besides, Americans have a lot of sporting blood, and it's natural for them to root for the underdog."

"What's your opinion of Bevin?" asked the man from London.

"There's a lot of ugly talk going around," I said, "about 'The Butcher Boy' and his bedsheet buddies."

"I'm afraid some of it is true," sighed my friend. "To become solvent once more, England needs gold—enough gold to give its economy muscles. According to geologists, the liquid gold under the sands of the Arabies represents the biggest single chunk of unexploited wealth in the world, and Britain needs every ha' penny of it. None of us relish trading blood for oil, but there seems no other way out."

"Don't feel too badly about it," I said. "Certain members of our Government are as deeply involved in this swindle as Britain. However, it's my hunch they'll be looking for new apartments after the next election. But to change the subject—what can I do to make your stay in New York more pleasant?"

The newspaperman smiled. "Just get me a pair down front for 'Inside U.S.A.,'" he said. "I understand Lillie is the hit of the show, and it would be a nice change to hear someone from my country being applauded rather than hissed."

THE 1949 MERCURY

THE All-New MERCURY

HERE is an All-New kind of motor car beauty! It's not a "new model" looking pretty much like last year's with its face lifted. It's the All-New 1949 Mercury with longer, lower, wider lines in a new-as-tomorrow curved-arch silhouette . . . with a powerful V-type, 8-cylinder engine, designed and built exclusively for Mercury . . . with a new standard of driving comfort . . . with fine-car styling and performance usually found only in cars far above Mercury's price class. Come in today . . . let us show you the ALL-NEW Mercury for 1949!

TWO COMPLETELY NEW 1949 Lincolns

HERE at last! The finest cars that human skill can build—completely new, completely right—The 1949 Lincoln and The Lincoln Cosmopolitan. They have long, low, sweeping breadth that promises eager, surging fleetness in action. The new power plant is a masterpiece—8-cylinder, V-type, 152-horsepower strong—perfect in every precision-built detail. A new lower center of gravity and new spring suspension cradle you in the "comfort zone" ahead of the rear axle. These great new luxurious Lincolns truly set the pattern for the fine cars of the 'Fifties. Nothing could be finer . . . or newer!

George L. Carney Jr., To Wed Helen June Smith

Ceremony Will Be Performed Today

Miss Helen June Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Brooke Smith, LaVale, will become the bride of George Leonard Carney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Carney, LaVale, today.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at a nuptial mass at 10 o'clock in SS. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church with Rev. Ervan Maisel, O.F.M., Cap., officiating. Bouquets of assorted white flowers and candelabra of tall white tapers will adorn the altar against a background of fern. Music will be by a male choir.

Mrs. Carl L. McIntyre will be the bride's matron of honor and only attendant. Thomas F. Conlon, Jr., will serve as Mr. Carney's best man and the ushers will be Earl Smith, brother of the bride, and Louis Knight, brother - in - law of the bridegroom.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in a wedding gown of Dutchess satin, styled with a sheer marquisette yoke and off the shoulder effect, a basque bodice and long sleeves tapering to a point on the hand. Her full skirt is made with a bustle effect and short train. Her fingertip length veil of imported bridal illusion falls from a coronet of seed pearls and satin beads. A bouquet of white rosebuds, stephanotis and white orchid center with a shower of white satin ribbons will complete her costume.

Her attendant is to wear a blue marquisette gown fashioned with cap sleeves, high round neckline and full skirt. With it she will wear matching lace mitts and a headband of assorted flowers matching her nosegay bouquet.

Mrs. Smith has chosen an eggshell crepe gown trimmed in gold for her daughter's wedding; with it she will wear black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Carney will be attired in an aqua print on a dark background and will wear all white accessories. A corsage of white roses will complete her costume.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1946, where she was secretary of the senior class, on the staff of the year book and a member of the Girls' Tri-Hi-Y. She has been employed as bookkeeper for her father at the Dingle Esso Station.

Mr. Carney is a graduate of LaSalle High School and a veteran of 27 months' service in the Army Air Corps. He is employed by his father at Carney's Auto Parts Store, and is a member of the Junior Association of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will entertain with a wedding breakfast honoring their daughter and her bridal party at Minke's, Christie Road, immediately following the ceremony. An arrangement of white flowers will center the table and the bridal theme will be carried out in the tiered cake. Roses are to be used throughout the room. They will be hosts at a wedding reception at their home at 2 o'clock. White flowers are being used throughout the house and the refreshment table will be centered with a tiered wedding cake and flowers.

For traveling the bride will wear a pink suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage. After an eastern trip Mr. Carney and his bride will reside at 318 Fayette Street.

Out-of-town guests here for the ceremony are Rev. Father Bernard Nickel, O. M. Cap., Hays, Kans.; Mrs. Elizabeth Nickel, Miss Clara Nickel, Mr. and Mrs. Len Schuster, Mrs. Theora Haggerty, John Haggerty, Pittsburgh; Joseph Flood, Mrs. Edward Brennan, Mrs. Blanche Watt, Youngstown, O.; Mr. and Mrs. John Howe, Olney; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Morrison, Charleston, W. Va.; Edward V. Smith, Petersburg, W. Va., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Heyer and daughters, Mary Elizabeth, Marcella, Doris Anne, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kimble, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Smith and children, Mrs. George Deadrick, and Miss Doris Kimble, Petersburg.

Miss Smith was honored by Miss Edith Lewis and Mrs. Carl Lee McIntyre at a linen shower earlier in the week at the latter's home in LaVale. The bridal theme was combined with the shower motif with a white sprinkling can with a shower of pink satin ribbons suspended above the gifts, and a miniature silver-covered sprinkling can adorning the wedding cake, which was decorated with lilies and roses. Fourteen guests attended.

Miss Geatz wore aqua with yellow ribbons; Mrs. Nelson, yellow with aqua, and Mrs. Davis all pink. All carried prayerbooks with markers of roses blending with their color scheme.

Mrs. Long wore blue with darker blue accessories and Mrs. Geatz wore green and white print with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Catholic Girls Central High School and is employed in the office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. The bridegroom, a graduate of LaSalle and a veteran of 18 months in the Navy, is attending the University of Maryland where he is a member of the university baseball team.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Elks Club after which Mr. Gleatz and his bride left for a trip to New England.

IS WED-- Mrs. Cecil LeRoy Webb, the former Miss Dorothy Louise Wilder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Wilder, Washington, D. C., and granddaughter of Mrs. Lottie Twigg, 701 Lincoln Street, was married to the son of Earl B. Webb, Washington, and the late Mrs. Webb, on June 2.

Dorothy L. Wilder Becomes Bride Of Cecil L. Webb

Former Visitor Wed In Washington

Miss Dorothy Louise Wilder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Wilder, Washington, D. C., and granddaughter of Mrs. Lottie Twigg, 701 Lincoln Street, became the bride of Cecil LeRoy Webb, son of Earl B. Webb, Washington, and the late Mrs. Webb June 2. The wedding ceremony was solemnized in Hamlin Methodist Church, Washington, with Rev. Harry W. Burgan, D. D., officiating. Palms, ferns, white snapdragons and candelabra of lighted tapers decorated the church.

Miss Mary Frances Keiser, Waynesboro, Va., was the maid of honor and Miss Ruth Anderson, Baltimore, and Miss Barbara Heiss, Washington, were the bridesmaids. John W. Jackson served as best man and the ushers were Ralph Childs and Jack Woods, all of Washington.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight satin fashioned with a marquisette yoke, off the shoulder effect with bertha of double satin, fitted bodice, long sleeves with pointed cuffs, full skirt and long circular train. Her veil of bridal illusion was held by a tiara studded with pearls. She carried a white Bible covered with white roses and a shower of baby's breath.

All her attendants were dressed alike in white marquisette made with off the shoulder lines similar to the bride's, with deep tucks at the waist line and full skirts. The maid of honor carried an arm bouquet of red roses tied with a shower of red ribbons. The bridesmaids had nosegays of red roses and fever few.

The bride, who graduated cum laude from Western Maryland College this year, majored in sociology. The bridegroom, a veteran of Army service, is attending American University.

After a reception in the church parlor the couple left for a trip to the Pocono Mountains. Upon their return they will reside in Washington.

Out-of-town guests besides Mrs. Twigg were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Beegle, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hinkle, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hinkle, all of Cumberland, and Mrs. James Neilson, Philadelphia.

DeMolay Alumni To Hold Annual Picnic

Sanford H. Buley, DeMolay Alumni, will entertain members and their families at an annual picnic Sunday. It is to be held at "Uncle Bill Lewis'" Camp Cliffside, beginning at 2 o'clock.

A program of games has been planned for the various age groups and prizes will be awarded. There also will be the usual swimming, and canoeing and a basket supper will be held in the evening.

John Workmeister is general chairman of arrangements. His committee includes Myron Landis, Henry Jammer, Richard Smith and William J. Armbruster.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Riggs, 502 Park Street, have announced the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Rushie Jean Riggs, to Paul Alfred Morgret, son of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan Morgret, Little Orleans.

The engagement of Miss Doris Jean Wallace to Arthur Hanfeld Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Miller, Brooklyn, N. Y., has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wallace, 820 Shawnee Avenue, parents of the bride-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover P. Bridges, Flintstone, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss F. Irene Bridges, to Milton H. McDonald, son of Mrs. E. R. Martin, Little Orleans, and the late Harry McDonald.

Hairdressers To Attend State Meet

The Allegany Hairdressers and Cosmetologists held their monthly dinner meeting Monday night at Central YMCA and discussed the state meeting, which several members will attend. It is to be held June 27 at the Emerson Hotel, with a dinner preceding the business session. A dance will be held June 26.

Mrs. Virginia O'Hara Powell presided and Miss Eloise Rodriguez called the roll and Mrs. Catherine Welton gave her report. Mrs. Leona Lewis gave the Sunshine report. Mrs. Mamie Scott was appointed chairman for group insurance, assisted by Miss Nyna Fey, Mrs. Pauline Smith and Mrs. Alberta Lindner.

Others present were Miss Edith Crabtree, Mrs. Irene Critzman, Miss Ethel Henry, Miss Eloise Henry, Mrs. Alberta Lindner, Mrs. Esther Smith, Mrs. Mildred Spicer, Mrs. Virginia Sunderlin and Mrs. Ruby Griffith.

Mr. And Mrs. B. E. Burkey Entertain For Son's Fiancee

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Burkey entertained in honor of their son's fiancee, Miss Mary Eulalia Jolley, recently at their home, 601 Patterson Avenue.

The marriage of Miss Jolley, daughter of Mrs. Nora M. Jolley, 101 Park Street, to Edward Richard Burkey will be performed by Very Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

A pink and white color scheme was combined with the bridal motif in the decorations. Covers were laid for 24 guests.

Associates in the Maryland Unemployment Board and Employment Service entertained recently for Miss Jolley at the Clary Club.

W. H. Wiegand Weds Mrs. Mayme Willison

The marriage of Mrs. Mayme H. Willison, 501 Columbia Avenue, to William H. Wiegand, LaVale, has been announced. The ceremony was performed June 19 in Centre Street Methodist Church parsonage.

HONEYMOON BOUND-- Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burtis Liller are shown leaving St. Paul's Lutheran Church following their marriage Saturday. The bride is the former Miss Elisabeth Ann Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wineow Holmes, 416 Beall Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. J. Hovermale, 411 Avirett Avenue, and the late Carl A. Liller. After September 1, the couple will be at home at 417 Washington Street.

Elizabeth Ward Becomes Bride Of J. H. Parker, Jr.

Miss Elizabeth Lee Ward, daughter of Mrs. Frank B. Ward, Baltimore, and the late Mr. Ward was married to James H. Parker, Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Parker, Baltimore, formerly of here, May 29. The ceremony was performed in the First Church of the Nazarene, Baltimore, by the father of the bridegroom, who is district superintendent of Washington-Philadelphia District of the Church of the Nazarene. Rev. E. S. Phillips assisted.

Mrs. Jack Walz was matron of honor and Carlton W. Kissner, city, was his brother-in-law's best man. Mrs. E. S. Phillips was vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Morgan, sister of the bridegroom.

After a trip east the couple will reside in Baltimore where the bridegroom is employed by the Western Electric Company.

James Richards Weds Betty Jean Simmons

The marriage of Miss Betty Jean Simmons to James Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Richards, Bellefonte, Pa., has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simmons, 217 Union Street, parents of the bride. The ceremony was performed May 22 in St. Mark's Reformed Church by Rev. C. H. Clapp. Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll were the attendants.

The bride attended Rhodes School for Girls, Cleveland, O., and Fort Hill High School. She is employed at the Baltimore Street store of Ford's Drug Store. The bridegroom is a graduate of Bellefonte High School and is a veteran of three years' service in the ETO.

On July 5 the couple will leave for Torrence, Calif., where they will reside.

Girl Scout Camp Is Almost Ready; Ann Adams Enrolls

Things are humming at the new Girl Scout Camp on Blue Lick Run in Garrett County. Under the supervision of Mrs. Althea Correll, executive director, and director of the camp, a corps of boys spent four days there building two new tent platforms, cleaning brush and getting the site in readiness for campers, who will arrive for the first session, beginning July 19.

The camp will use tents exclusively, four girls living in a tent 12 by 14 feet, all with raised wooden floors. The fee will include transportation.

Registrations have begun to come in to the Girl Scout Office, and Ann Adams, Troop No. 17, has the honor of being the first to register. Two whole troops are planning to go together, one from Cresaptown and one from Frostburg. The capacity of the camp is 24 and applications are accepted in the order in which they are received. There will be three one-week sessions, and girls may stay for two weeks, or even three, if there is room without depriving another girl of a camping experience.

The program is planned by the girls and staff together, and includes such things as: early morning bird walks, wading and building dams in the many streams flowing through the camp, cooking one's meal out-of-doors at the end of a hike, treasure hunts, archery, folk dances as part of some planned entertainment, songs and stories around a blazing campfire, and expeditions to New Germany and nearby points of interest.

Lions no longer exist in South Africa.

OUR Class Makes Two $5 Donations

The OUR Class of Cresaptown Methodist Church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Mary Long with Mrs. Ruth Long as cohostess, at which time the group discussed sending delegates to the Summer Assembly at Westminster.

Two donations of $5 each were voted also, one to the Methodist Youth Fellowship Association at Westminster and the other to the Church Nursery class to purchase new toys.

Plans were also discussed for the next meeting to be held in the form of a picnic in the church yard July 20. It is for all members and their families.

Miss Betty Simpson presided and opened with the reading of the 23rd Psalm, after which a prayer circle was held.

Eva Peron, wife of the Argentine President, has won a concession for her actor friends—no more matinees because their working day is too long. . . . Sibyl Bowan, currently at the Paramount, sprained her back while doing an impersonation of Gracie Fields and is carrying on in a cast. . . . Hold-It, the models' magazine, exposing the racketeering in that profession in their June issue.

BROADWAY

By DANTON WALKER

The Roaring '40s

Scrambled Politics Dept.: Harold Stassen may not get the nod from the GOP delegates, but he is being wooed by all factions in the party to play a key role in picking the victor. . . . Senator Vandenberg's alleged private reason for not seeking the GOP nomination is that he believes he can better fight reactionaries in his present Senatorial capacity than he could as President. . . . While President Truman may prefer Washington's Governor Wallgren as a running mate, important labor leaders insist that Senator Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming has a better chance. . . . As a sop to the Southerners, ex-Governor Arnall of Georgia, a Liberal Democrat, may be named for Secretary of Labor. . . . Leon Henderson, former OPA chief, will be one of the behind-the-scenes key figures at the Democratic convention, heading the anti-Truman faction. . . . A former Congressman and a former Senator (one an important New Dealer) are the hub of a new and serious drive to wrest the Democratic nomination from H.S.T.

Ex-Senator James M. Mead of New York has given up his home in Washington and is now living permanently in Buffalo, where he plans to become a director in charge of the Buffalo Baseball Club. . . . Republicans in Philadelphia are squawking that they are being charged more for lodging in some places than the Democrats. . . . Major candidates, who at previous conventions stayed in the background like a bride at a wedding, are reversing tactics because of radio and television, appearing as guests on established air shows, etc. . . . A flood of literature on how to talk well, succeed politically, etc., being pushed on Philly street corners.

●—●—●

Bill Robinson discussing question of an eye operation with doctors at Sydenham Hospital. . . . Mae West being paged by the Shuberts for the Leonard Gersh musical, "Horse Opera." . . . Fred Allen's wife, Portland Hoffa, to be off the show for the rest of the season, to fully recuperate from her virus attack. . . . The wife of Cuban sugar millionaire George Sanchez, the beautiful former show girl Brownie Sanchez, actually contemplating a return to the footlites in an act modeled after Kay Thompson's. . . . Felecia Pablos, one of the ex-wives of roving reporter Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Conrad Hilton are what columnists call an item. . . . Sophie Tucker to repeat her one-woman show, a recent triumph at London's Palladium, at a New York playhouse under William Morris' auspices. . . . MCA reports that due to the hit the Hartmans made on our WPIX show last Tuesday, they now have three outstanding video offers. . . . The London Mirror will profile Philadelphia's fabulous nite club phenomenon, Frank Palumbo. . . . Charles Horowitz, of the N. Y. Picture and Frame Co., who has done work for every U. S. President since Benjamin Harrison, putting the finishing touches to his autobiography, yclept "People I Framed."

●—●—●

Jane Russell, currently at the New York Strand, is preparing for a tour of European theatres in July (France and England) then a vacation in Capri. . . . Yvonne DeCarlo will have to wear a neck brace for three month because of a damaged vertebra. . . . The tall and beautiful Miss Chen Yu, leading Chinese fashion model who will be profiled in the New Yorker magazine next week, will have to call off her career temporarily because of the death of a sister in China. The Chinese cannot wear make-up while in mourning. . . . David Selznick arranging to film the entire reportory of the Monte Carlo Ballet Russe. . . . Gregory Peck definitely will have the lead in the much-discussed "The Robe," a film spectacle to cost around $5,000,000. . . . Eva Peron, wife of the Argentine President, has won a concession for her actor friends—no more matinees because their working day is too long. . . . Sibyl Bowan, currently at the Paramount, sprained her back while doing an impersonation of Gracie Fields and is carrying on in a cast. . . . # Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

PHILADELPHIA, June 22—An astonishing thing about delegates and their alternates is the way they judge a candidate by his personality.

●—●—●

That's like square car-wheels on a cross-town bus. It doesn't change the subject. It only makes it noisier.

●—●—●

The food that Caesar ate that men called him great had nothing to do with the way Caesar skipstopped the Rubicon. John Randolph's mackerel in the moonlight may have shone and fermented. But still Henry Clay was a great politician.:

●—●—●

Let's look over the candidates and diagnose their personalities. Taft of Ohio is as blunt as pewter and as honest as a thirty-seven inch yardstick. But Taft has a smile like cracked plaster and a handshake like a tired oyster.

●—●—●

He has to best Dewey who has hung up a neat career as governor of New York. But Tom is only as tall as I am. And the records indicate we would rather vote for a tall, phlegmaticm president than a short, brilliant one.

In case of a tie between Taft and Dewey then Vandenberg will get the Duke. Vandy is an able administrator, is a student of international affairs and when you hand him a job you aren't sending a cabbage leaf by a rabbit. But his over-all sales appeal is that of a deck chair on a submarine. The ladies prefer Charles Boyer, toupee or no toupee.

Martin of Massachusetts has the kind of personality you get fresh every day. He is a great organizer and party man. But he is liable to be like the brush salesman who forgot the handles. That goes for Stassen, too, whose recent transcontinental spread lost him more ground than a Mississippi flood. Each man has a record as clean as a roof after a rain.

MacArthur, Bricker and Warren have that aurora of greatness as intangible as a photograph through Venetian blinds. They have lifetime averages of public service and integrity on land, on sea and have never made a nine the hard way. I mean with three threes.

●—●—●

But if you don't smile all the time they say you are a sore-head. If you do they say you are a crackpot. If you wear a high topper you are silk-stocking. And you cannot be folksy wearing an old hat a crow would kick out of a nest.

●—●—●

Lincoln said you couldn't fool 'em all some of the time. And Abe might have added you couldn't please none of 'em any of the time.

sale of 25 dozen cans of fruit and vegetables, along with the clothing and yard goods. Expenses of the sale are shown as $49.

Mrs. Hinrichs has, according to Orphans Court officials, qualified as administratrix of her sister's estate. A brother, George House, also of near McCoole, has filed a letter of renunciation, claiming no interest in the estate.

Mrs. Hinrichs claims she has spent more than $300 in funeral and other expenses in the case. She returned more of the drugs to the sheriff, which she said she found amidst the collection of hoarded items, and declared, "I want no part of that stuff."

A daughter of the dead woman was reported missing for sometime, and an extensive effort was made to find her when her mother died. She was not located, but authorities said last night they believe she has since been found.

DAV To Plan New Membership Drive

Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, will hold its last meeting of the current fiscal year tonight at 8 o'clock at the Chapter headquarters South Centre Street.

Plans are to be made and launched for the annual membership campaign, officers said.

Equity Suits Filed

Three bills of complaint have been filed in Circuit Court as follows: Mary A. Hartsock vs Ward G. Hartsock; Flora A. Connor vs George F. Connor; Juanita O. Loundy vs Abe Loundy.

County Will Claim Full Insurance Payment

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners said yesterday that the county will claim the full amount of $42,500 on its insurance policy covering the Union Street County Building which was gutted by fire April 21.

Proof of the damage and a listing of the cost of the building and replacement costs, as furnished by a local contractor, has been turned over to the adjustor handling the matter for the insurance firms holding policies.

The board is seeking a speedy settlement in the case as it hopes to rebuild the second floor of the damaged building while the weather is seasonable for construction.

Members of the board feel that the rebuilding of the second floor and repairs to the water damaged first floor can be done for about $40,000.

The board also sold a piece of property which had been on the county tax books since 1934, to Florian Nickel, Frostburg, for $1,800. This tract includes 97 acres of surface land and 385 acres of mineral rights.

The Nickel interests expect to deep mine the tract and it was stated that only about 50 acres are suitable for this purpose as most of the land is on a steep hillside. The tax basis of the property will be decided on the value of the coal removed.

Mayor Endorses YMCA Swimming Classes

Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday endorsed the "learn to swim" campaign which will be conducted by Central YMCA for boys and girls from 9 to 12 years of age, starting tomorrow and continuing to July 3.

"Health authorities agree swimming is one of the most beneficia' of all sports," Mayor Post said. "No non-swimmer should miss this opportunity."

Instruction periods, free of charge, will be held at the YMCA pool between 2 and 4 p. m. daily except Sunday. Participants will be divided into three classes to insure adequate instruction. Each class period will last 35 minutes.

Deadline for filing registration cards, which must be signed by parents, is today. Cards should be turned in to the YMCA office.

A "learn to swim" program is conducted annually throughout the nation by all local YMCA organizations. This will be the third such program in Cumberland.

Plans for an adult "learn to swim" program will be announced later.

Chamber Of Commerce Groups Will Meet

Two committees of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will meet this week in the Chamber of fices, Harold W. Smith, manager, announced yesterday.

A meeting of the advertising committee of the Mercantile Bureau will be held today at 10 a. m. The Membership Committee of the Chamber will meet Friday at 11:45 a. m.

Fort Ashby Lions Plan Charter Night

Plans for a Charter Night celebration to be held July 21 by the newly organized Lions Club of Fort Ashby, W. Va., are being made by a special committee of the club.

The club, sponsored by the Keyser Lions Club, now has 22 members. Officials said they hope to have at least 35 members when the charter closes July 1.

Further organization of the club was completed at a meeting held last Wednesday. Guests, members of the Keyser Club, were Past District Governor Frank Rice, Howard Fuller and Henry Growden.

DAV To Plan New Membership Drive

Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, will hold its last meeting of the current fiscal year tonight at 8 o'clock at the Chapter headquarters South Centre Street.

Plans are to be made and launched for the annual membership campaign, officers said.

Equity Suits Filed

Three bills of complaint have been filed in Circuit Court as follows: Mary A. Hartsock vs Ward G. Hartsock; Flora A. Connor vs George F. Connor; Juanita O. Loundy vs Abe Loundy.

County Will Claim Full Insurance Payment

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners said yesterday that the county will claim the full amount of $42,500 on its insurance policy covering the Union Street County Building which was gutted by fire April 21.

Proof of the damage and a listing of the cost of the building and replacement costs, as furnished by a local contractor, has been turned over to the adjustor handling the matter for the insurance firms holding policies.

The board is seeking a speedy settlement in the case as it hopes to rebuild the second floor of the damaged building while the weather is seasonable for construction.

Members of the board feel that the rebuilding of the second floor and repairs to the water damaged first floor can be done for about $40,000.

The board also sold a piece of property which had been on the county tax books since 1934, to Florian Nickel, Frostburg, for $1,800. This tract includes 97 acres of surface land and 385 acres of mineral rights.

The Nickel interests expect to deep mine the tract and it was stated that only about 50 acres are suitable for this purpose as most of the land is on a steep hillside. The tax basis of the property will be decided on the value of the coal removed.

Mayor Endorses YMCA Swimming Classes

Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday endorsed the "learn to swim" campaign which will be conducted by Central YMCA for boys and girls from 9 to 12 years of age, starting tomorrow and continuing to July 3.

"Health authorities agree swimming is one of the most beneficia' of all sports," Mayor Post said. "No non-swimmer should miss this opportunity."

Instruction periods, free of charge, will be held at the YMCA pool between 2 and 4 p. m. daily except Sunday. Participants will be divided into three classes to insure adequate instruction. Each class period will last 35 minutes.

Deadline for filing registration cards, which must be signed by parents, is today. Cards should be turned in to the YMCA office.

A "learn to swim" program is conducted annually throughout the nation by all local YMCA organizations. This will be the third such program in Cumberland.

Plans for an adult "learn to swim" program will be announced later.

Chamber Of Commerce Groups Will Meet

Two committees of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will meet this week in the Chamber of fices, Harold W. Smith, manager, announced yesterday.

A meeting of the advertising committee of the Mercantile Bureau will be held today at 10 a. m. The Membership Committee of the Chamber will meet Friday at 11:45 a. m.

Fort Ashby Lions Plan Charter Night

Plans for a Charter Night celebration to be held July 21 by the newly organized Lions Club of Fort Ashby, W. Va., are being made by a special committee of the club.

The club, sponsored by the Keyser Lions Club, now has 22 members. Officials said they hope to have at least 35 members when the charter closes July 1.

Soot Observation Stations Planned

Sixteen fly ash and soot installations will be erected in Cumberland by July 1 at an estimated cost of $300, according to George M. Hitchcock, city smoke abatement engineer.

Hitchcock said the observation stations will be placed on top of buildings within a 500-yard radius of City Hall. The stations, he explained, will record air wastes and dust fall, and will give the smoke abatement bureau clues to the source of smoke and dust.

Readings of the observation stations will be taken every 30 days by Hitchcock or his deputy, after the latter is appointed, the engineer said. The readings will be analyzed to give the source of the smoke and dust and the density of each.

He declared he is mapping plans now for monthly meetings with railroad and industrial workers who deal with smoke-producing machinery. Master mechanics, roadmasters and boiler tenders will be invited to the meetings, he said.

Hitchcock asserted he plans to stress a program of smoke abatement education for every citizen of Cumberland.

Library Purchases 1,000 New Books

The Cumberland Free Public Library has spent almost all of the $2,985 bequest of the late Dr. Adrian C. Kintner to purchase 1,000 new books, it was announced yesterday by Miss Mary Walsh, librarian.

A large number of books also has been presented recently in the memory of Mrs. Louisa P. Henderson, who was killed in an automobile accident in May.

Among these are the following books given by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Carter, New York City; "National Road," by P. D. Jordan; "Roses For Every Garden," by R. C. Allen; and "Treasury Of American Folklore," by B. A. Botkin.

Also given in Mrs. Henderson's name are the following gifts of W. Earle Cobey, Thomas E. Gilchrist and William R. Carscaden: "The American Past," by R. Butterfield; "Houses and Garden Book of Interior Decoration," edited by R. Wright; "Springtime In Virginia," by S Chamberlain; and "Woman's Home Companion Garden Book," edited by J. C. Wister.

Miss Walsh states that many of Mrs. Henderson's friends have indicated their desire to donate books dealing with Woodrow Wilson, who was a close friend of the late Judge Robert P. Henderson.

Among the newest books in the library is J. H. Ewing's "29 Let's Go!", the story of Maryland's own division, the 29th.

Inspection Planned

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan and Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka will go to Pittsburgh today to inspect a Seagraves aerial ladder truck.

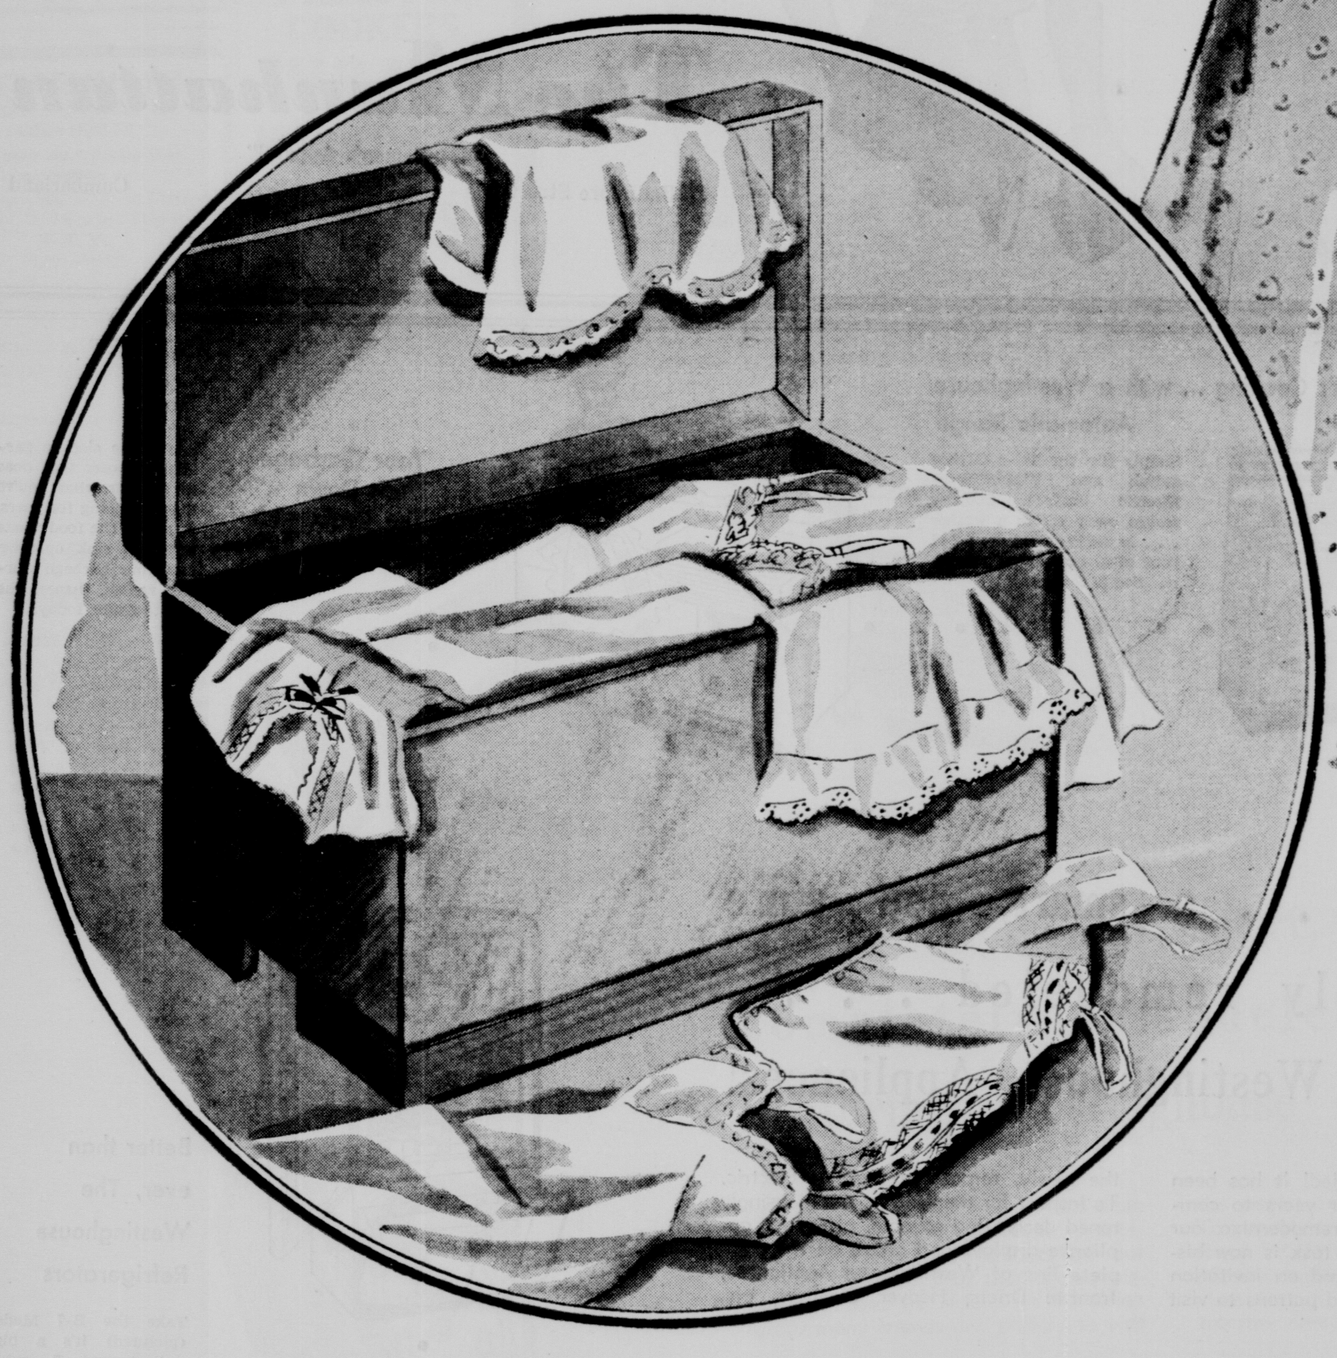

Last week the commissioner visited Elmira, N. Y., Baltimore, Washington and New York City, inspecting models made by other companies.

Fire Department Wins Top Rating

Cumberland's fire department has been given top rating in a report of the National Fire Protection Association, according to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

Cumberland's record of fire prevention and control during the past year proved to be better than that of most cities in the United States over 20,000 population, according to the association. Nearly 500 cities submitted comparable data to the association.

Cumberland ended the year with a total fire loss of $58,000, or $1.47 per capita. This rate compares favorably with the average loss of $3.20 per person in the other cities and with Cumberland's own five-year average of $2.72.

All of the 243 home and building fires that broke out were brought under control quickly and damage kept to a minimum. The average loss per fire was $238 compared with $770 in the other cities.

Three Women To Get Police Posts

Three women will be appointed to the Police Department to serve as police matron, file clerk and secretary to Chief R. Emmett Flynn, according to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

Keegan said he plans to confer with the Board of Civil Service Commissioners regarding examinations for the three positions within the next few weeks.

Four women have already taken the Civil Service examination for police matron and failed it. Keegan said he may appoint a matron temporarily pending another Civil Service examination.

Chief Flynn's secretary will have charge of the clerical routine of his office, answering the telephone, taking dictation, writing letters, and preparing statistical reports.

The appointment of the file clerk is being made upon recommendation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which recently surveyed the Police Department facilities.

Commissioner Keegan said he expects the delivery soon of the combination police patrol and ambulance and a new cruiser car for the detective bureau.

Man Who Assaulted Wife Given Suspended Sentence

William Dean, 507 Maryland Avenue, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assaulting his wife, Mrs. Betty Dean, on Sunday and was given a 60 day suspended sentence in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday. Magistrate Frank A. Perdew in sentencing Dean paroled him for a year on condition that he refrain from molesting his wife.

Storage batteries and coverings for electric cables account for half the United States' use of lead.

Ronald Uplinger Sues Leslie Boor For $5,000

A suit for $5,000 damages was docketed in Circuit Court yesterday by Ronald Uplinger against Leslie Boor for injuries allegedly received in a motor car crash last December 7.

Through his attorney, Edward J. Ryan, the plaintiff declares he was invited by Boor to ride in his car and that the defendant operated his machine at an excessive rate of speed and in a negligent manner.

As a result, he charges, the machine left the highway and overturned. Uplinger claims he suffered a fractured skull and was hospitalized for a long period of time. He also states he suffered severe pain and incurred medical and hospital expenses and lost much time from work.

Oldtown Road Man Fined $5 After Family Tussle

Walker Huff, 1420 East Oldtown Road, was fined $5 in Police Court yesterday after he was apprehended on a disorderly conduct charge at his home here.

According to police, Huff threatened suicide during a family quarrel. It was brought out at the hearing that he took a pocketknife from his pocket and cut his wife on the leg. Neither Mrs. Huff nor an 18-year-old son appeared at the hearing.

In another hearing, Clarabelle Simmons, Cumberland, was found guilty of loitering and given a suspended sentence.

Whitworth To Speak

Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Westernport, chairman of the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly, will address the Cumberland Kiwanis Club Thursday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Whitworth will discuss "The State Legislature."

Berlin, Pa., Youngster Sustains Gunshot Wound

Eight-year-old William Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gordon, Berlin, Pa., is recovering from a gunshot wound of his right leg. He was accidentally shot while preparing to go swimming in a nearby stream.

Game Protector Millard Crooks, Somerset, said the Gordon boy was shot when a .22 calibre rifle carried by William Croughenour, 16, also of Berlin, accidentally discharged.

His condition was reported good by hospital attaches.

Washington Crews Make Sweep At Poughkeepsie

Huskies Beat Golden Bears, Navy Is Third

Coast Oarsmen Make Sweep For 3rd Time

By TED SMITS

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 22 (AP) — The towering, lion-hearted crews of the University of Washington won all three races in the 46th annual Poughkeepsie regatta today to sweep the river just as they did in 1936 and 1937.

The smashing victory in the varsity three mile race made Washington the favorite for the final Olympic tryouts that start at Princeton, N. J., June 30. In 1936, after Washington took all the Poughkeepsie honors, the Huskies won the Olympic tryouts, and then the Olympic championship itself.

The order of finish in the varsity race was: 1-Washington, 2-California, 3-Navy, 4-Cornell, 5-Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 6-Princeton, 7-Pennsylvania, 8-Wisconsin, 9-Syracuse, 10-Columbia, 11-Rutgers.

The time was 14:06.4 compared to the course record of 13:33.6 set by Navy in 1922. Weather conditions were perfect.

The varsity race was a thriller, but Washington's margin over California at the finish was a good two lengths. Navy, the 1947 champion, and Cornell battled with the leaders all the way.

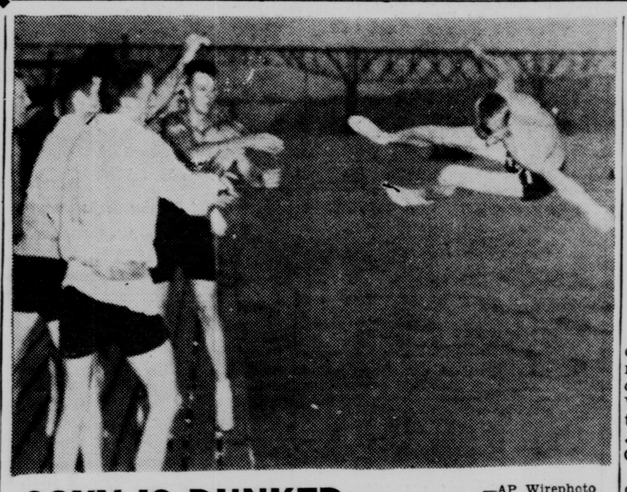

With only a half mile to go, Washington held a length lead with a powerful 33 beat, and Navy was second. Cornell was third, and California was fourth.

California raised its beat from 33 to 38 and so powerful was this that the Golden Bears overtook Navy and finished three feet ahead of the Middies. Navy came up 42 from 35 in a vain but gallant effort to gain the honors again for the east.

Washington is the only university ever to "sweep the river" and the shells of Coach Al Ulbrickson now have done this three times. There is poetic justice in it, because nine of the 11 coaches represented in the big regatta are Washington men, and modern American rowing stems in the great part from the principles laid down by Coach Hiram Connibear at Washington in the early years of the century.

The order of the finish in the freshman race was: Washington, Navy, Wisconsin, MIT, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Rutgers, Penn and Syracuse.

In the Jayvee race the order was: Washington, Cornell, MIT and Syracuse.

COXY IS DUNKED-- Bob Lee, winning Washington coxswain, gets tossed in the Hudson river by his victorious teammates after the Huskies won the varsity crew race in the annual Poughkeepsie (N.Y.) regatta yesterday. The west coast oarsmen defeated California by two lengths. Navy was third. Washington won all three races.

Willard Resigns As Secretary Of Interstate Loop

Bob Whip, Basketball Magnate, Is Successor

Daniel D. Willard resigned as secretary-treasurer of the Interstate Baseball League and Robert Whip, well known local basketball magnate and baseball fan, was named as his successor at a special meeting of the circuit last night.

Willard asked to be relieved of his duties because of pressure of other business.

Whipp stepped in the local sports picture two years ago when he organized the Cumberland Amvets, local professional cage team, and is the owner of the Cumberland Dukes of the All-American Basketball League.

President John Long announced that the problem concerning umpires' fees for postponed games was settled at last night's session. Plate umpire will be paid $8 and base umpires $7 per game. If the game is limited to four innings by rain the arbiters will be paid at the rate of $1 per inning. If the game is postponed by rain each umpire will receive $2 for traveling expenses. Each team will be required to donate $1 per game to an umpires' fund from which the arbiters will be paid for games that are postponed by financially embarrassed clubs. In event there is any money left at the close of the season all clubs will share equally.

Due to the fact that a number of the games have been marked by discrepancies in scoring, President Long urged scorekeepers to sit together away from the teams. Umpires were requested to be on the scene 30 minutes before the scheduled starting time of each game.

The all-star game with the Bi-State League will be staged in Westernport, August 4 at 5:15 p. m., and the Interstate League's all-star contest will be held the latter part of August. A committee was named for the all-star game and managers and league officers will meet with this committee July 13 at the Moose Home to complete arrangements.

Clarence Fisher, manager of the 1947 championship Moorefield team will direct the Interstate all-stars in the game with the Bi-State League team. Art Garbark, manager of the local American Legion team, will be his assistant.

In the Interstate all-star tilt Fisher will head the team composed of players of Barrelville, Moorefield, Romney, Hyndman and Centerville while Garbark will lead the club comprising players of the Cumerland Legion, Moose and Eagles and the Ridgeley American Legion.

Merchants Upset Narrows Park, 3-2

Ellerslie Surprises Potomac Valley, 2-0

Tailenders provided the surprise in the County Softball League yesterday when the last place Corner Merchants knocked off Narrows Park's Cardinals by the score of 3-2 in a game halted by rain in the fifth inning and Ellerslie upset the Potomac Valley Cubs, recent conquerers of Wellersburg and Narrows Park, by the score of 2-0.

Leighty gained the verdict over Johnny Horn in the Merchants-Narrows Park tilt in which only nine hits were made. Shaffer's single drove home what proved to be the winning run in the second inning. Eckard was the leading hitter with a double and single for the Merchants.

Herb Devore was the pitching and batting star in Ellerslie's triumph. He limited the Cubs to three hits and won his own game with a timely single in the 4th frame. Cecil of Potomac Valley and Mason of Ellerslie hit three-baggers.

Rain halted the Allegany Grove-Phone Workers' game in the 4th with the latter team trailing 4-3. Wellersburg was out in front 2-1 in its game with the Hyndman Firemen when rain broke up the game in the second stanza.

Today Bedford Road plays at Allegany Grove and Potomac Valley is host to the Phone Workers. The scores:

Gus Lesnevich Hurls Challenge At Louis

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich tonight challenged heavyweight king Joe Louis to meet him in the ring.

Appearing on a radio program (We The People), Lesnevich said: "I challenge you Joe Louis, whether you win or lose tomorrow. You're the man I always wanted to take the title away from.

"I challenge you to meet me in the ring any time or any place, I hope you will answer the challenge."

Louis meets Jersey Joe Walcott in a return 15-rounder at Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

PAUL ABELE TO COACH AT JOHNSTOWN CENTRAL

Paul Abele, football and basketball coach at Ligonier, Pa., High School, has resigned his post to join the coaching staff of Central High School in Johnstown, Pa.

Abele will assist Clark E. Shaffer, head football mentor, and tutor the junior varsity basketball squad, Abele's new salary is reported to be $3,700.

A graduate of Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, where he captained the varsity football team, played basketball and served as secretary to Elmer Layden when the latter was athletic director, Abele coached at Johnstown (Pa.) Catholic High School and Meyersdale High School before going to Ligonier.

Abele is a brother-in-law of Paul Sheehe, of Sheehe's Restaurant, North Mechanic Street.

THOMPSON ASSIGNS BI-STATE UMPIRES

Umpires for Saturday and Sunday games in the Bi-State Baseball League were assigned last night by Ed Thompson, umpire-in-chief, as follows:

SATURDAY

Mt. Savage at Barton, Middleton and DiUbaldo.
Midland at Queen City, Thompson and Johnson.
Keyser at Westvaco, Dunn and Atkinson.
Frostburg at Amvets, Davis and Kelly.
Lonaconing at Hyndman, C. Warnick and Martin.

SUNDAY

Westvaco at Hyndman, Dunn and G. Warnick.
Amvets at Mt. Savage, Thompson and Johnson.
Barton at Midland, Davis and DiUbaldo.
Frostburg at Lonaconing, Barton and Atkinson.
Keyser at Queen City, C. Warnick and Lowery.

Oakland And 'Coney To Clash Thursday

Rain washed out the game scheduled yesterday at Lonaconing between the American Legion junior baseball teams of Oakland Post and James P. Love Post of Lonaconing after Oakland had taken its turn at bat in the first inning.

Lonaconing, leader of the western division of the Mountain District League, with four wins and no losses, will play off the game with Oakland here Thursday at 6:30 p. m.

James P. Love Post will play Victory Post in a league game at Westernport Friday.

Winners Announced In CCC Tournaments

Mrs. W. Royce Hodges and Mrs. Haydn Butler won golf tournaments yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Hodges won the 18 hole sour hole tournament in which 20 participated and Mrs. Butler took the 9-hole odd hole tourney in which there were 15 entries.

In the women's 18-hole spring handicap tourney, Mrs. Benjamin W. Wright won the second flight by defeating Mrs. Fred W. Mills, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Paul Fletcher defeated Mrs. A. Fuller, 5 and 4, to win the first flight in the women's nine-hole spring handicap tournament.

Peck's Beats Twigg's In Frostburg League

FROSTBURG, June 22 — Peck's defeated Twigg's Restaurant by the score of 15-0 in the opening game of a Frostburg Softball League doubleheader today at State Teacher's College Field but the second game was postponed on account of rain.

Rain brought a halt to two other contests.

The Aristocrats were leading Allegany 11-1 when Jupe Pluvius made his appearance in the third inning and the Century Athletic Club held the long end of a 9-4 score in their game with St. Michael's when hostilities were halted in the fourth.

Moonlight Fisherman Lands 3-Pound Bass

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., June 22—Milton McNeill landed a three pound, 18 inch small mouth black bass Monday night, the largest catch reported for the 1948 season to date. Jimmy Harrison caught a two pound 15 inch bass on opening day.

McNeill got his bass on a plug while fishing in the moonlight.

Game Is Postponed

The Bi-State Baseball game between Midland and Barton, scheduled for Sunday at Barton, has been postponed by mutual agreement due to the American Legion picnic at Barton on that day.

North End And Reed's Will Clash Thursday

Announcement was made last night that North End and Reed's Electricians will play a City Softball League game Thursday at Stitcher Field. This contest will conclude the first half campaign.

Today Astor Cab meets Joe's Crusaders on the Rolling Mill diamond and the Amvets oppose North End at Stitcher Field.

Purple Heart Wins

Teams Clash Today

Ballard's Cleaners of the City Softball League will play the Ridgeley American Legion of the Ridgeley Softball League today at 6 p. m. at Celanese Field.

Cucelli Upsets Jaroslav Droby, Czech Net Star

Lt. Com. Charles Jones Loses At Wimbledon

LONDON, June 22 (AP)—A bundle of Latin temperament, Italy's Gianni Cucelli, supplied most of the excitement in the second day of the Wimbledon tennis championships today by throwing the skids under Jaroslav Drobny, the high-seeded Czech star.

Cucelli, a somewhat subby individual with an excellent twist service and a fine net game, outlasted and outfought Drobny by scores of 6-4, 16-14, 1-6, 2-6, 6-3, in a bristling match witnessed by 5,000 persons on the No. 1 court.

None of the American stars, men or women, had any real difficulty today, mostly winning in straight sets. Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., dropped a set to Joy Gannon of England on the center court, but then ate her young opponent alive, 4-6, 6-0, 6-1.

Frank Parker, playing between showers, gave Finn Carlson, a blond British youngster, a quick lesson, 6-0, 6-0, 6-2. Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, still treading lightly on his ailing feet, ousted Hans Redl, one-armed Austrian war veteran, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

Two other lesser known Americans were among the day's losers. Argyle Rice of Hartford, Conn., lost to Joan Curry of Britain, 6-2, 8-6, in the first round of women's play.

Lt. Comdr. Charles Jones of Cumberland, Md., bowed to G. R. B. Meredith of Britain, 7-5, 6-3, 6-1.

Moose Tossers Wallop Amvets

Elks And Outdoor Club Also Bag League Tilts

The Loyal Order of Moose moved to within 2½ games of first place in the Rocking Chair Softball League by walloping the Amvets yesterday on the Rolling Mill diamond by the score of 12-5.

Frank Fogtman yielded five runs in the first two innings then pitched shutout ball thereafter, yielding two hits in the last five frames. It was his 7th victory.

Frank Williams, Walter Hite and Norman Mason belted homers and Jim Angellatta and Lonnie Jackson rapped out three hits apiece. Hinkle garnered a double and single for the Amvets.

The B.P.O. Elks defeated Potomac Edison by the score of 4-2 in a game halted by rain in the last of the 6th frame.

Lear led the winners with two hits in three trips while Van Roby smashed a long homer with one aboard in the first inning. Long's double was P.E.'s only extra base hit. He also made a nice catch of Roeder's hard drive over third base.

The Outdoor Club scored a 5-2 victory over Celanese at East Side Field. Miller hit a homer and single for the losers.

Rain halted the Eagles-K. of C. game in the 4th with the Eagles leading 4-1.

LaSalle Seeks Grid Game Here On Oct. 22

LaSalle High School has an open date on its schedule Friday, October 22 and would like to play a district high school on that date here, John J. Long, director of athletics at the local school, announced last night.

Keyser High School was originally slated to play the Explorers here on that date but Coach Fred "Tack" Clark advised Long that Keyser is scheduled to meet another team on the same date and would be unable to play here.

Sam Zoldak Hurls Tribe To Victory Over Yankees, 5-2

DiMaggio Clouts 16th Homer, Tying Keltner

CLEVELAND, June 22 (AP) — Sam Zoldak pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees today in his first appearance in a Cleveland uniform since his recent acquisition from the St. Louis Browns.

The victory enabled the Indians to increase their first place margin in the American League pennant fight to three-and-one-half games over the runner-up Yankees.

Zoldak gave up eight hits and needed help from Russ Christopher in the ninth. Christopher came to Zoldak's rescue with two on and two out and got Johnny Lindell to pop to Joe Gordon on his first pitch to end the game.

Joe DiMaggio collected three of the hits yielded by Zoldak including his 16th homer of the season which enabled him to tie Cleveland's Ken Keltner for the league leadership in that department of play. It was DiMag's fifth four-bagger in three days.

Spec Shea started for the Yanks and was charged with the loss, his eighth as against three victories. Box:

The Sportlight by GRANTLAND RICE

The Big Spot

On July 4th, 1934, a 20-year-old fighter by the name of Joe Louis knocked out Jack Kracken in Chicago. The flattening punch came in the first round.

Tonight, fourteen years later, at the age of 34, eleven years of which have been spent in the game's throne room, the same Joe Louis defends his title as heavyweight champion of the world against Jersey Joe Walcott, another 34-year-old veteran.

Only it isn't the same Joe Louis. Not by a margin of 14 years. In this 25th defense of his title, after he has earned over $3,300,000, has won 60 out of 61 starts, 51 by knockouts, an amazing record, Joe Louis comes to the big spot of his career —the contest with Joe Walcott, who beat him so badly six months back.

The importance of this contest doesn't concern so much the greatness of Joe Walcott, the challenger, as it does the fighting form of Joe Louis, who last December looked as if he had gone over the stark hill of softness and middle age, never to return. Walcott has been only a fair fighter, who apparently now is at his best.

Louis has been one of the ring's great men who, in his last appearance, fell with a dizzy dip. How much will he have left tonight at the Yankee Stadium before some 55,000 witnesses? How much of the Louis that used to be still remains?

The champion was badly shocked on the night of last December 5th. He had no idea that he had dropped down that far or that Walcott had become that good. Unprepared for any such bewildering turn, Louis was caught off guard mentally, and never found his balance through the fight. He has no such excuse this time. Whoever won the first fight, Louis knows he took most of the beating.

He has been hard at work for over two months shedding weight and searching for that will-o'-the-wisp know as reflex action plus fading speed. All the training in the world will never bring them back—if they have said good-bye. They vanish like ghosts at sunrise, leaving behind only the mocking memories of other years of youth.

All the experts in the world can't tell you how much Louis has lost—how much he has left. I doubt that Louis knows. It is something he will find only after the fight has started.

He is still easy to hit with a right hand. In his prime he was never fast on his feet, but faster than a striking black mamba with both hands. Much of that hand speed has gone, but almost full power remains if he can only find a parking space for either fist. There is a vast difference, once you have slowed down, between hitting a moving target and a stationary object.

Oddly enough, the older, life-battered Walcott, is faster with both hands and feet, and here rests his only chance to win. He must throw speed against power. As for skill, Walcott has never seen the day he could box with the Louis of yesterday. Only this is tonight. The yesterdays have left.

What Will Happen?

In picking a winner tonight, one must go to the past performance chart and pick Louis.

This is rather leaning on the years that used to be. Louis showed nothing in his last fight, and he has shown nothing in his training to justify picking him over any first-class fighter. But, again, in his sixteen or seventeen years of competition, Jersey Joe Walcott has shown little to prove that he was ever a first-class fighter. He has been just an average below-par fighter in an average below-par group of heavyweights.

After Gene Tunney, Joe Louis became the last of the top-flight fighters, and with the Louis descent into mediocrity there has been no one to take his place.

A Joe Louis victory would simply mean that Jersey Joe Walcott was still just another heavyweight.

A Walcott victory would mean that Joe Louis has taken a deeper descent than Lucifer ever took in his passage from the uplands of heaven to the lowlands of hell. It would mean that Louis had practically disintegrated through soft living and the rather sudden loss of most things that make a fighter.

I can't believe this has happened. Louis says he has slipped 20 per cent. I'd make it 40 per cent. But even with a downward crash of 40 per cent he should have enough left to beat Walcott off on the latter's round of the last ten or twelve years.

Tony Zale said the heat, not Graziano, beat him in Chicago. Zale proved this to be a true statement. Graziano could never beat a good boxer.

Walcott says that hunger and malnutrition were responsible for his knockouts and his many defeats. It might be that Walcott is right.

This takes us back to the best fight story we ever read. It was written by Jack London and was called "A Piece of Steak." Walcott, minus the steaks, was something of a push-over. He had the steaks for the first Louis fight—and won. Now he has even more steaks for this last fight.

"A Piece Of Steak" may be the answer to Walcott's career. Walcott was eating crackers when Joe Louis was eating sirloins. It was hunger that made Walcott a top challenger, and it was sirloins that cut Louis down to the Walcott level. Hunger is no big help, but it is better than being over-stuffed.

Quoting George M. Cohan

George M. Cohan once wrote—"It isn't what you used to be, it's what you are today." It isn't what Joe Louis used to be it's what he will be tonight. This is something no expert can tell you. It is something Joe Louis can't tell you. Remember, back in December, Louis said he was in perfect shape and would demolish Walcott in a few rounds. The experts had Louis at 1 to 10.

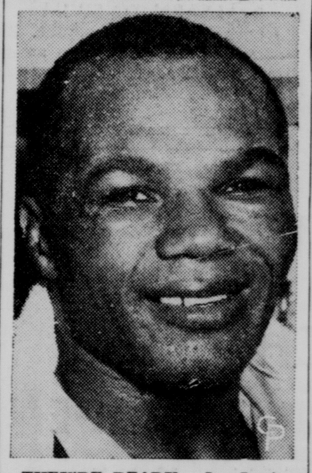

Joe Louis' pride in his title—the big switch in his mental attitude—his physical advantage—his past record—all favor his chance to win. It might even come in the first round, as it did against Max Schmeling in their second meeting, with a cyclonic blast.

Louis should win, but unless he is far better than the Louis of last December, where he was not only beaten but outclassed, Louis can also lose.

Joe (The Bomber) Louis has been a fine fighter—but never a Superman. His main qualities have been his honesty, his decency, his courage and his two fast, hard-hitting hands. He still has his honesty, his decency and his courage. The value of his two fast, hard-hitting hands will be known before midnight tonight.

(Released by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

Champ Looms As 2-1 Choice In Go Tonight

Money On Walcott Shows In Dribbles

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 22—(INS)—Approximately 55,000 otherwise nice, normal people will—weather permitting — foregather in Yankee Stadium tomorrow night to see an aging Joe Louis put his heavyweight title on the line once more.

Put it on the line, in fact, against that other aging gent of the squared circle, Jersey Joe Walcott — the same Jersey Joe who very nearly knocked the champion from under his crown last December.

To Start At 10 P. M.

The starting time is 10 p. m., (EDT), the estimated receipts $800,000 or better, and the scheduled distance the usual 15 rounds.

But rain is a factor to be reckoned with. It rained last night, and kept raining lightly but doggedly today —and the forecast is for much the same tomorrow, with thunder on the side.

This desultory display no doubt had its effect upon ticket sales, which, however, the management fearlessly referred to as "brisk." Meantime, the advance receipts are said to be about $700,000 or more.

For a time, it seemed possible that Walcott's gaudy performance against Louis last Dec. 5 might exploit itself into the eighth million-dollar extravagana the sport (sic.) of boxing has known.

For many left that first ringside convinced that the disdained challenger — a shoddy 10-1 pariah—had been victimized by a miscarriage of justice. Another sound selling point was the obvious dislike with which champion and challenger regard one another.

Ticket Sales Lag

But once having hit the 32nd ringside row over the week-end, the sale seemed to reach a state of suspended animation and gave little evidence today that a final 24-hour rush impended.

Perhaps the restored belief in Louis' supremacy, as reflected in the betting odds, was responsible for this late lag in sales. Possibly an unavoidable shortage of $50 bills, representing the established ringside fee, has deterred the belated buyer. And of course the weather hasn't helped.

Incidentally, rain tomorrow would transfer the program to Thursday night—with the rest of the week at the stadium "open" in the event of a continuance.

Training Completed

That would be mildly calamitous to the principals who, having completed their training chores, sat around today looking intently at the scenery — Louis at Pompton Lakes and Jersey Joe more than 100 miles to the south at Grenloch, N. J.

The latter was to arrive in New York tonight, with Louis planning to motor down from camp tomorrow in time for the official weigh-in at noon. The champion, clearly improved over his physical condition of the first fight, was 214 on the scales after his final workout yesterday. Walcott, at 195½, was a pound over his official weight for the December match.

Walcott Money Shows

Oddly enough, Walcott's ability to out-feint and out-punch the champion that time—he had Louis down in the first and fourth rounds —seemed to have left Broadway's professional price - makers vastly unimpressed. They had Louis a 5-13 favorite at the beginning of the week, and he was exactly that when they re-opened for business today.

Late this afternoon, the first Walcott money began to show—not in chunks, however; in dribbles. But these served to beat the price down to around 2-1.

TALE OF THE TAPE

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Here is how Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott compare physically for their fight in New York's Yankee Stadium tomorrow night:

| LOUIS | | WALCOTT |

LOUIS ALWAYS KO'D FOES IN 2ND BOUT

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — Joe Louis was noted for his ability to make a better showing against a man the second time they fought.

Prior to his second match with Jersey Joe Walcott he fought nine men twice, winning all the matches except against Max Schmeling, by whom he was knocked out the first time in 12 rounds.

Here is the record:

| Opponent | First Fight | Second Fight |
|---|---|---|
| Willie Davis | K in 3 | KO in 2 |
| Lee Ramage | KO in 8 | KO in 2 |
| Natie Brown | won decision, 10 | KO in 4 |
| Max Schmeling | KO by, 12 | KO in 1 |
| Bob Pastor | won decision, 10 | KO in 11 |
| Arturo Godoy | won decision, 15 | KO in 8 |
| Abe Simon | KO in 13 | KO in 6 |
| Buddy Baer | KO in 7 | KI in 1 |
| Billy Conn | KO in 13 | KO in 8 |

Washington Crews Make Sweep At Poughkeepsie

Huskies Beat Golden Bears, Navy Is Third

Coast Oarsmen Make Sweep For 3rd Time

By TED SMITS

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 22 (AP) — The towering, lion-hearted crews of the University of Washington won all three races in the 46th annual Poughkeepsie regatta today to sweep the river just as they did in 1936 and 1937.

The smashing victory in the varsity three mile race made Washington the favorite for the final Olympic tryouts that start at Princeton, N. J., June 30. In 1936, after Washington took all the Poughkeepsie honors, the Huskies won the Olympic tryouts, and then the Olympic championship itself.

The order of finish in the varsity race was: 1-Washington, 2-California, 3-Navy, 4-Cornell, 5-Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 6-Princeton, 7-Pennsylvania, 8-Wisconsin, 9-Syracuse, 10-Columbia, 11-Rutgers.

The time was 14:06.4 compared to the course record of 13:33.6 set by Navy in 1922. Weather conditions were perfect.

The varsity race was a thriller, but Washington's margin over California at the finish was a good two lengths. Navy, the 1947 champion, and Cornell battled with the leaders all the way.

With only a half mile to go, Washington held a length lead with a powerful 33 beat, and Navy was second. Cornell was third, and California was fourth.

California raised its beat from 33 to 38 and so powerful was this that the Golden Bears overtook Navy and finished three feet ahead of the Middies. Navy came up 42 from 35 in a vain but gallant effort to gain the honors again for the east.

Washington is the only university ever to "sweep the river" and the shells of Coach Al Ulbrickson now have done this three times. There is poetic justice in it, because nine of the 11 coaches represented in the big regatta are Washington men, and modern American rowing stems in the great part from the principles laid down by Coach Hiram Connibear at Washington in the early years of the century.

The order of the finish in the freshman race was: Washington, Navy, Wisconsin, MIT, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Rutgers, Penn and Syracuse.

In the Jayvee race the order was: Washington, Cornell, MIT and Syracuse.

COXY IS DUNKED—Bob Lee, winning Washington coxswain, gets tossed in the Hudson river by his victorious teammates after the Huskies won the varsity crew race in the annual Poughkeepsie (N.Y.) regatta yesterday. The west coast oarsmen defeated California by two lengths. Navy was third. Washington won all three races.

Merchants Upset Narrows Park, 3-2

Ellerslie Surprises Potomac Valley, 2-0

Tallenders provided the surprise in the County Softball League yesterday when the last place Corner Merchants knocked off Narrows Park's Cardinals by the score of 3-2 in a game halted by rain in the fifth inning and Ellerslie upset the Potomac Valley Cubs, recent conquerers of Wellersburg and Narrows Park, by the score of 2-0.

Leighty gained the verdict over Johnny Horn in the Merchants-Narrows Park tilt in which only nine hits were made. Shaffer's single drove home what proved to be the winning run in the second inning. Eckard was the leading hitter with a double and single for the Merchants.

Herb Devore was the pitching and batting star in Ellerslie's triumph. He limited the Cubs to three hits and won his own game with a timely single in the 4th frame. Cecil of Potomac Valley and Mason of Ellerslie hit three-baggers.

Rain halted the Allegany Grove-Phone Workers' game in the 4th with the latter team trailing 4-3. Wellersburg was out in front 2-1 in its game with the Hyndman Firemen when rain broke up the game in the second stanza.

Today Bedford Road plays at Allegany Grove and Potomac Valley is host to the Phone Workers. The scores:

Gus Lesnevich Hurls Challenge At Louis

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich tonight challenged heavyweight king Joe Louis to meet him in the ring.

Appearing on a radio program (We The People), Lesnevich said: "I challenge you Joe Louis, whether you win or lose tomorrow. You're the man I always wanted to take the title away from.

"I challenge you to meet me in the ring any time or any place, I hope you will answer the challenge."

Louis meets Jersey Joe Walcott in a return 15-rounder at Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

Willard Resigns As Secretary Of Interstate Loop

Bob Whip, Basketball Magnate, Is Successor

Daniel D. Willard resigned as secretary-treasurer of the Interstate Baseball League and Robert Whip, well known local basketball magnate and baseball fan, was named as his successor at a special meeting of the circuit last night.

Willard asked to be relieved of his duties because of pressure of other business.

Whipp stepped in the local sports picture two years ago when he organized the Cumberland Amvets, local professional cage team, and is the owner of the Cumberland Dukes of the All-American Basketball League.

President John Long announced that the problem concerning umpires' fees for postponed games was settled at last night's session. Plate umpire will be paid $8 and base umpires $7 per game. If the game is limited to four innings by rain the arbiters will be paid at the rate of $1 per inning. If the game is postponed by rain each umpire will receive $2 for traveling expenses. Each team will be required to donate $1 per game to an umpires' fund from which the arbiters will be paid for games that are postponed by financially embarrased clubs. In event there is any money left at the close of the season all clubs will share equally.

Due to the fact that a number of the games have been marked by discrepancies in scoring, President Long urged scorekeepers to sit together away from the teams. Umpires were requested to be on the scene 30 minutes before the scheduled starting time of each game.

The all-star game with the Bi-State League will be staged in Westernport, August 4 at 5:15 p. m., and the Interstate League's all-star contest will be held the latter part of August. A committee was named for the all-star game and managers and league officers will meet with this committee July 13 at the Moose Home to complete arrangements.

Clarence Fisher, manager of the 1947 championship Moorefield team will direct the Interstate all-stars in the game with the Bi-State League team. Art Garbark, manager of the local American Legion team, will be his assistant.

In the Interstate all-star tilt Fisher will head the team composed of players of Barrelville, Moorefield, Romney, Hyndman and Centerville while Garbark will lead the club comprising players of the Cumerland Legion, Moose and Eagles and the Ridgeley American Legion.

Peck's Beats Twigg's In Frostburg League

FROSTBURG, June 22 — Peck's defeated Twigg's Restaurant by the score of 15-0 in the opening game of a Frostburg Softball League doubleheader today at State Teacher's College Field but the second game was postponed on account of rain.

Rain brought a halt to two other contests.

The Aristocrats were leading Allegany 11-1 when Jupe Pluvius made his appearance in the third inning and the Century Athletic Club held the long end of a 9-4 score in their game with St. Michael's when hostilities were halted in the fourth.

Moonlight Fisherman Lands 3-Pound Bass

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., June 22—Milton McNeill landed a three pound, 18 inch small mouth black bass Monday night, the largest catch reported for the 1948 season to date. Jimmy Harrison caught a two pound 15 inch bass on opening day.

McNeill got his bass on a plug while fishing in the moonlight.

Game Is Postponed

The Bi-State Baseball game between Midland and Barton, scheduled for Sunday at Barton, has been postponed by mutual agreement due to the American Legion picnic at Barton on that day.

PAUL ABELE TO COACH AT JOHNSTOWN CENTRAL

Paul Abele, football and basketball coach at Ligonier, Pa., High School, has resigned his post to join the coaching staff of Central High School in Johnstown, Pa.

Abele will assist Clark E. Shaffer, head football mentor, and tutor the junior varsity basketball squad, Abele's new salary is reported to be $3,700.

A graduate of Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, where he captained the varsity football team, played basketball and served as secretary to Elmer Layden when the latter was athletic director, Abele coached at Johnstown (Pa.) Catholic High School and Meyersdale High School before going to Ligonier.

Abele is a brother-in-law of Paul Sheehe, of Sheehe's Restaurant, North Mechanic Street.

THOMPSON ASSIGNS BI-STATE UMPIRES

Umpires for Saturday and Sunday games in the Bi-State Baseball League were assigned last night by Ed Thompson, umpire-in-chief, as follows:

SATURDAY

Mt. Savage at Barton, Middleton and DiUbaldo.
Midland at Queen City, Thompson and Johnson.
Keyser at Westvaco, Dunn and Atkinson.
Frostburg at Amvets, Davis and Kelly.
Lonaconing at Hyndman, C. Warnick and Martin.

SUNDAY

Westvaco at Hyndman, Dunn and G. Warnick.
Amvets at Mt. Savage, Thompson and Johnson.
Barton at Midland, Davis and DiUbaldo.
Frostburg at Lonaconing, Barton and Atkinson.
Keyser at Queen City, C. Warnick and Lowery.

Oakland And 'Coney To Clash Thursday

Rain washed out the game scheduled yesterday at Lonaconing between the American Legion junior baseball teams of Oakland Post and James P. Love Post of Lonaconing after Oakland had taken its turn at bat in the first inning.

Lonaconing, leader of the western division of the Mountain District League, with four wins and no losses, will play off the game with Oakland here Thursday at 6:30 p. m.

James P. Love Post will play Victory Post in a league game at Westernport Friday.

Winners Announced In CCC Tournaments

Mrs. W. Royce Hodges and Mrs. Haydn Butler won golf tournaments yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Hodges won the 18 hole sour hole tournament in which 20 participated and Mrs. Butler took the 9-hole odd hole tourney in which there were 15 entries.

In the women's 18-hole spring handicap tourney, Mrs. Benjamin W. Wright won the second flight by defeating Mrs. Fred W. Mills, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Paul Fletcher defeated Mrs. A. Fuller, 5 and 4, to win the first flight in the women's nine-hole spring handicap tournament.

North End And Reed's Will Clash Thursday

Announcement was made last night that North End and Reed's Electricians will play a City Softball League game Thursday at Stitcher Field. This contest will conclude the first half campaign.

Today Astor Cab meets Joe's Crusaders on the Rolling Mill diamond and the Amvets oppose North End at Stitcher Field.

Purple Heart Wins

Teams Clash Today

Ballard's Cleaners of the City Softball League will play the Ridgeley American Legion of the Ridgeley Softball League today at 6 p. m. at Celanese Field.

Cucelli Upsets Jaroslav Droby, Czech Net Star

Lt. Com. Charles Jones Loses At Wimbledon

LONDON, June 22 (AP)—A bundle of Latin temperament, Italy's Gianni Cucelli, supplied most of the excitement in the second day of the Wimbledon tennis championships today by throwing the skids under Jaroslav Drobny, the high-seeded Czech star.

Cucelli, a somewhat subby individual with an excellent twist service and a fine net game, outlasted and outfought Drobny by scores of 6-4, 16-14, 1-6, 2-6, 6-3, in a bristling match witnessed by 5,000 persons on the No. 1 court.

None of the American stars, men or women, had any real difficulty today, mostly winning in straight sets. Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., dropped a set to Joy Gannon of England on the center court, but then ate her young opponent alive, 4-6, 6-0, 6-1.

Frank Parker, playing between showers, gave Finn Carlson, a blond British youngster, a quick lesson, 6-0, 6-0, 6-2. Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, still treading lightly on his ailing feet, ousted Hans Redl, one-armed Austrian war veteran, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

Two other lesser known Americans were among the day's losers. Argyle Rice of Hartford, Conn., lost to Joan Curry of Britain, 6-2, 8-6, in the first round of women's play.

Lt. Comdr. Charles Jones of Cumberland, Md., bowed to G. R. B. Meredith of Britain, 7-5, 6-3, 6-1.

Moose Tossers Wallop Amvets

Elks And Outdoor Club Also Bag League Tilts

The Loyal Order of Moose moved to within 2½ games of first place in the Rocking Chair Softball League by walloping the Amvets yesterday on the Rolling Mill diamond by the score of 12-5.

Frank Fogtman yielded five runs in the first two innings then pitched shutout ball thereafter, yielding two hits in the last five frames. It was his 7th victory.

Frank Williams, Walter Hite and Norman Mason belted homers and Jim Angellatta and Lonnie Jackson rapped out three hits apiece. Hinkle garnered a double and single for the Amvets.

The B.P.O. Elks defeated Potomac Edison by the score of 4-2 in a game halted by rain in the last of the 6th frame.

Lear led the winners with two hits in three trips while Van Roby smashed a long homer with one aboard in the first inning. Long's double was P.E.'s only extra base hit. He also made a nice catch of Roeder's hard drive over third base.

The Outdoor Club scored a 5-2 victory over Celanese at East Side Field. Miller hit a homer and single for the losers.

Rain halted the Eagles-K. of C. game in the 4th with the Eagles leading 4-1.

LaSalle Seeks Grid Game Here On Oct. 22

LaSalle High School has an open date on its schedule Friday, October 22 and would like to play a district high school on that date here, John J. Long, director of athletics at the local school, announced last night.

Keyser High School was originally slated to play the Explorers here on that date but Coach Fred "Tack" Clark advised Long that Keyser is scheduled to meet another team on the same date and would be unable to play here.

Sam Zoldak Hurls Tribe To Victory Over Yankees, 5-2

DiMaggio Clouts 16th Homer, Tying Keltner

CLEVELAND, June 22 (AP) — Sam Zoldak pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees today in his first appearance in a Cleveland uniform since his recent acquisition from the St. Louis Browns.

The victory enabled the Indians to increase their first place margin in the American League pennant fight to three-and-one-half games over the runner-up Yankees.

Zoldak gave up eight hits and needed help from Russ Christopher in the ninth. Christopher came to Zoldak's rescue with two on and two out and got Johnny Lindell to pop to Joe Gordon on his first pitch to end the game.

Joe DiMaggio collected three of the hits yielded by Zoldak including his 16th homer of the season which enabled him to tie Cleveland's Ken Keltner for the league leadership in that department of play. It was DiMag's fifth four-bagger in three days.

Spec Shea started for the Yanks and was charged with the loss, his eighth as against three victories. Box:

13 District Gunners Enter Maryland Title Trapshoot

Event Opens Saturday At Oriole Gun Club

Thirteen gunners of Cumberland and nearby Maryland and West Virginia communities will participate in the Maryland State Championship Trapshooting Tournament to be held at the Oriole Gun Club, Baltimore, Saturday and Sunday, June 26 and 27, it was announced last night by Tony Francis, trapshooting chairman of the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club.

The program will get under way on Saturday at 10 a. m. On the opening day the scatter gun artists will shoot 100 doubles and 100 handicap targets. Two hundred 16-yard single targets will be shot in A, B, C and D classes on Sunday.

A number of the gunners from this section will compete on Sunday only while the others will shoot in all events on both days.

Those planning to compete are: Arthur P. Hoffa, Barton; Graham Gray, Midand; Harry Barton, Pinto; Ed McDonald, Headsville, W. Va.; Walter Whitfield, Donald Reeves and Tony Francis, Westernport; John Lighter, Charles "Lefty" Jordon, Russell McElfish, Charles Simpson, Roy Maphis and Paul Nycum, of Cumberland.

The Sportlight by GRANTLAND RICE

The Big Spot

On July 4th, 1934, a 20-year-old fighter by the name of Joe Louis knocked out Jack Kracken in Chicago. The flattening punch came in the first round.

Tonight, fourteen years later, at the age of 34, eleven years of which have been spent in the game's throne room, the same Joe Louis defends his title as heavyweight champion of the world against Jersey Joe Walcott, another 34-year-old veteran.

Only it isn't the same Joe Louis. Not by a margin of 14 years. In this 25th defense of his title, after he has earned over $3,300,000, has won 60 out of 61 starts, 51 by knockouts, an amazing record, Joe Louis comes to the big spot of his career —the contest with Joe Walcott, who beat him so badly six months back.

The importance of this contest doesn't concern so much the greatness of Joe Walcott, the challenger, as it does the fighting form of Joe Louis, who last December looked as if he had gone over the stark hill of softness and middle age, never to return. Walcott has been only a fair fighter, who apparently now is at his best.

Louis has been one of the ring's great men who, in his last appearance, fell with a dizzy dip. How much will he have left tonight at the Yankee Stadium before some 55,000 witnesses? How much of the Louis that used to be still remains?

The champion was badly shocked on the night of last December 5th. He had no idea that he had dropped down that far or that Walcott had become that good. Unprepared for any such bewildering turn, Louis was caught off guard mentally, and never found his balance through the fight. He has no such excuse this time. Whoever won the first fight, Louis knows he took most of the beating.

He has been hard at work for over two months shedding weight and searching for that will-o'-the-wisp know as reflex action plus fading speed. All the training in the world will never bring them back—if they have said good-bye. They vanish like ghosts at sunrise, leaving behind only the mocking memories of other years of youth.

All the experts in the world can't tell you how much Louis has lost—how much he has left. I doubt that Louis knows. It is something he will find only after the fight has started.

He is still easy to hit with a right hand. In his prime he was never fast on his feet, but faster than a striking black mamba with both hands. Much of that hand speed has gone, but almost full power remains if he can only find a parking space for either fist. There is a vast difference, once you have slowed down, between hitting a moving target and a stationary object.

Oddly enough, the older, life-battered Walcott, is faster with both hands and feet, and here rests his only chance to win. He must throw speed against power. As for skill, Walcott has never seen the day he could box with the Louis of yesterday. Only this is tonight. The yesterdays have left.

What Will Happen?

In picking a winner tonight, one must go to the past performance chart and pick Louis.

This is rather leaning on the years that used to be. Louis showed nothing in his last fight, and he has shown nothing in his training to justify picking him over any first-class fighter. But, again, in his sixteen or seventeen years of competition, Jersey Joe Walcott has shown little to prove that he was ever a first-class fighter. He has been just an average below-par fighter in an average below-par group of heavyweights.

After Gene Tunney, Joe Louis became the last of the top-flight fighters, and with the Louis descent into mediocrity there has been no one to take his place.

A Joe Louis victory would simply mean that Jersey Joe Walcott was still just another heavyweight.

A Walcott victory would mean that Joe Louis has taken a deeper descent than Lucifer ever took in his passage from the uplands of heaven to the lowlands of hell. It would mean that Louis had practically disintegrated through soft living and the rather sudden loss of most things that make a fighter.

I can't believe this has happened. Louis says he has slipped 20 per cent. I'd make it 40 per cent. But even with a downward crash of 40 per cent he should have enough left to beat Walcott off on the latter's round of the last ten or twelve years.

Tony Zale said the heat, not Graziano, beat him in Chicago. Zale proved this to be a true statement. Graziano could never beat a good boxer.

Walcott says that hunger and malnutrition were responsible for his knockouts and his many defeats. It might be that Walcott is right.

This takes us back to the best fight story we ever read. It was written by Jack London and was called "A Piece of Steak." Walcott, minus the steaks, was something of a push-over. He had the steaks for the first Louis fight—and won. Now he has even more steaks for this last fight.

"A Piece Of Steak" may be the answer to Walcott's career. Walcott was eating crackers when Joe Louis was eating sirloins. It was hunger that made Walcott a top challenger, and it was sirloins that cut Louis down to the Walcott level. Hunger is no big help, but it is better than being over-stuffed.

Quoting George M. Cohan

George M. Cohan once wrote—"It isn't what you used to be, it's what you are today." It isn't what Joe Louis used to be it's what he will be tonight. This is something no expert can tell you. It is something Joe Louis can't tell you. Remember, back in December, Louis said he was in perfect shape and would demolish Walcott in a few rounds. The experts had Louis at 1 to 10.

Joe Louis' pride in his title—the big switch in his mental attitude—his physical advantage—his past record—all favor his chance to win. It might even come in the first round, as it did against Max Schmeling in their second meeting, with a cyclonic blast.

Louis should win, but unless he is far better than the Louis of last December, where he was not only beaten but outclassed, Louis can also lose.

Joe (The Bomber) Louis has been a fine fighter—but never a Superman. His main qualities have been his honesty, his decency, his courage and his two fast, hard-hitting hands. He still has his honesty, his decency and his courage. The value of his two fast, hard-hitting hands will be known before midnight tonight.

Champ Looms As 2-1 Choice In Go Tonight

Money On Walcott Shows In Dribbles

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 22—(INS)—Approximately 55,000 otherwise nice, normal people will—weather permitting — foregather in Yankee Stadium tomorrow night to see an aging Joe Louis put his heavyweight title on the line once more.

Put it on the line, in fact, against that other aging gent of the squared circle, Jersey Joe Walcott — the same Jersey Joe who very nearly knocked the champion from under his crown last December.

To Start At 10 P. M.

The starting time is 10 p. m., (EDT), the estimated receipts $800,000 or better, and the scheduled distance the usual 15 rounds.

But rain is a factor to be reckoned with. It rained last night, and kept raining lightly but doggedly today

TALE OF THE TAPE

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Here is how Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott compare physically for their fight in New York's Yankee Stadium tomorrow night:

| LOUIS | | WALCOTT |
|---|---|---|
| 34 | Age | 34 |
| 6 feet 2 in. | Height | 6 feet |
| 211½ pounds | Weight-x | 194 pounds |
| 76 inches | Reach | 74 inches |
| 42 inches | Chest, normal | 40 inches |
| 45 inches | Chest, expanded | 42 inches |
| 17 inches | Neck | 17 inches |
| 15 inches | Biceps | 16 inches |
| 12 inches | Forearm | 13 inches |
| 8 inches | Wrist | 7¾ inches |
| 11¾ inches | Fist | 12 inches |
| 36½ inches | Waist | 35 inches |
| 22½ inches | Thigh | 21 inches |
| 14 inches | Calf | 14 inches |
| 10 inches | Ankle | 9¾ inches |

—and the forecast is for much the same tomorrow, with thunder on the side.

This desultory display no doubt had its effect upon ticket sales, which, however, the management fearlessly referred to as "brisk." Meantime, the advance receipts are said to be about $700,000 or more.

For a time, it seemed possible that Walcott's gaudy performance against Louis last Dec. 5 might exploit itself into the eighth million-dollar extravagana the sport (sic.) of boxing has known.

For many left that first ringside convinced that the disdained challenger — a shoddy 10-1 pariah—had been victimized by a miscarriage of justice. Another sound selling point was the obvious dislike with which champion and challenger regard one another.

Ticket Sales Lag

But once having hit the 32nd ringside row over the week-end, the sale seemed to reach a state of suspended animation and gave little evidence today that a final 24-hour rush impended.

Perhaps the restored belief in Louis' supremacy, as reflected in the betting odds, was responsible for this late lag in sales. Possibly an unavoidable shortage of $50 bills, representing the established ringside fee, has deterred the belated buyer. And of course the weather hasn't helped.

Incidentally, rain tomorrow would transfer the program to Thursday night—with the rest of the week at the stadium "open" in the event of a continuance.

Training Completed

That would be mildly calamitous to the principals who, having completed their training chores, sat around today looking intently at the scenery — Louis at Pompton Lakes and Jersey Joe more than 100 miles to the south at Grenloch, N. J.

The latter was to arrive in New York tonight, with Louis planning to motor down from camp tomorrow in time for the official weigh-in at noon. The champion, clearly improved over his physical condition of the first fight, was 214 on the scales after his final workout yesterday. Walcott, at 195½, was a pound over his official weight for the December match.

Walcott Money Shows

Oddly enough, Walcott's ability to out-feint and out-punch the champion that time—he had Louis down in the first and fourth rounds—seemed to have left Broadway's professional price - makers vastly unimpressed. They had Louis a 5-13 favorite at the beginning of the week, and he was exactly that when they re-opened for business today.

Late this afternoon, the first Walcott money began to show—not in chunks, however; in dribbles. But these served to beat the price down to around 2-1.

LOUIS ALWAYS KO'D FOES IN 2ND BOUT

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — Joe Louis was noted for his ability to make a better showing against a man the second time they fought.

Prior to his second match with Jersey Joe Walcott he fought nine men twice, winning all the matches except against Max Schmeling, by whom he was knocked out the first time in 12 rounds.

Here is the record:

| Opponent | First Fight | Second Fight |
|---|---|---|
| Willie Davis | K in 3 | KO in 2 |
| Lee Ramage | KO in 8 | KO in 2 |
| Natie Brown | won decision, 10 | KO in 4 |

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, June 22.—(INS)—Joan Crawford has bought the schoolteacher story, "Miss O'Brien," from Warners and it is now her exclusive property.

She doesn't even have to make it for Warners. Under terms of the sale, Joan is free to produce it for any company she chooses.

Spencer Tracy

Not in years have I known her to be so hepped on a story — which, by the way, was written by Millard Lampell.

Joan told me, "it's high time somebody stepped in and did something about the American school teacher. I believe in this story with all my heart, that is why I want to have the full say-so about the production."

"Miss O'Brien" was supposed to have followed "Flamingo Road" on her Warner picture schedule—until Miss Crawford stepped in and bought it for herself.

Tuning up for the "Monty Stratton" picture, director Roy Rowland takes off with a troupe of players for Chicago this week to join the White Sox. The movie crowd will swing around the circuit with the baseball team getting color and background shots.

It was with the White Sox that Monty Stratton pitched his way to fame before the tragic hunting accident in which he lost his leg. Of course, Jimmy Stewart is set for his role on the screen.

This is one location jaunt the Hollywooders don't mind. They should be upset about traveling for six weeks in the big leagues during the baseball season?

When he finishes "Numbers Racket" in the movie, John Garfield stars in it for a one month's run on Broadway—obviously to stir up interest in the film production.

Then he steps into a modern stage version of Henryk Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" to be produced by himself and Cheryl Crawford. They are working from a specially translated version of the Ibsen play rather than from the standardized version and there is a lot of excitement over it.

This about ties Garfield up for the rest of the year.

What a whirl our girl friend, Louella Parsons, had in England. In a big, fat cable full of news, she says:

Don't ever underestimate the good sense of Spencer Tracy. He has carried himself in London with such dignity that he has won the respect and admiration of the Britons and that—let me add—is difficult to do right now on top of the Lana Turner debacle.

"If Lana had been as well advised here as Spencer she might not have received such criticism from press and public. Curiously enough, the Brtish objected to her opening the midget auto races half-owned by her husband, Bob Topping. Londoners considered the races a commercial sporting event and resented the idea of a movie star used for ticket bait."

"Getting back to Spencer," LOP's cable goes on, "The only social appearance he made in London was at the cocktail party given in our honor by Mr. and Mrs. Buster Collier. Spence, who is here making 'Edward My Son,' arrived from the studio looking better than I have ever seen him. In the midst of all the merry making, he drank a good old American soft drink.

"The Collier party was so much fun. Stevie Collier had whipped up tomato pie (it is wonderful) and among those returning for helping after helping were the Marquis of Milford Haven and Noel Langley, author of 'Edward My Son.'

"The young Marquis brought a beautiful girl named Tanya Pitt and he told me he is coming to America soon on a lecture tour. He is the closest friend of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh and was best man at their wedding.

"Deborah Kerr was at the party looking like a fashion plate—all new look and her hair very short."

Snapshot of London from LOP: "Sat next to Robert Donat at the charming dinner given by Sir Alex Korda. Donat bitterly resents the reports of his bad health, says he is susceptible to colds and that is the measure of it.

"Donat was with Renee Asherson and the London talk is that he is madly in love with her. But his divorce isn't final yet. Over here, it isn't good taste to ask about new romances under the circumstances—and not being a working reporter these days, I am just loaded with good taste."

That's all today.

Twelve Men Enlist In Armed Service

Twelve men, including two brothers from Piedmont, enlisted in the Army and Air Forces at the local recruiting office yesterday. Capt. Laurence M. Bairstow, announced.

The brothers are John Marshall and Robert Roy Lemon, residents at 47 West Harrison Street, Piedmont, W. Va.

Street Signs May Be Delivered In August

The city has been notified that the 200 street marker signs ordered from Lyle Signs, Inc., Minneapolis, will probably be ready for shipment during the first part of August, according to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

In a letter to City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, the firm explained that all orders are from six to eight weeks behind schedule because of delay in sheet steel deliveries and in casting work done for the company by Minneapolis foundries.

Rizer wrote the firm earlier this month regarding the delivery date of the signs, which the city ordered several months ago.

Radio Club Gets 500 Points In Field Day

Members of the Mountain Radio Club received about 500 points in the recent field day of the American Radio Relay League, an official of the club said yesterday.

Miserable weather conditions, he explained hampered operations of the portable radio sets. The field day here, however, was a severe test of such emergency operations, he said.

Members of the club set up a television receiver at the camp site on Nicholas Mountain and received satisfactory voice signals but no images from stations in the Baltimore area. Only the fact that the set was operating from a high point made it possible to get that much, a club official said.

Find Stolen Bicycle

A motorbike stolen from the John J. Mattingly basement, 313 Caroline Street, has been recovered, police reported. The bicycle was found undamaged on a vacant lot on Maple Street.

New Industries Seek Smaller Communities

The smaller cities are beginning to get the lion's share in new industrial development.

That's the trend, according to a newsletter of the American Society of Planning Officials received by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Harold W. Smith, manager, said the society reported that 46 per cent of industrial construction contracts of over $100,000 went to cities of under 50,000 population.

A recent study in Georgia revealed that 67 per cent of new industries coming into that state during 1947 located in towns of less than 50,000 and 39 per cent in towns of less than 5,000.

In Tennessee, towns under 5,000 attracted 30.6 of the state's new industries last year.

The letter stated, Smith said, that one of the determining factors in the selection of plant location, which appears to be of growing importance, is what a community has to offer towards the health and contentment of labor.

"Y" Clubs Contribute To New Building On Guam

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of Central Y.M.C.A. have contributed $120 this year toward the fund for building a $225,000 Y.M.C.A. on Guam for American military and civilian personnel on the island.

The structure will be a one-floor building of reinforced concrete covering 14,000 square feet, and will contain an auditorium, clubrooms, restaurant, lounge, game rooms, snack bar and outdoor patio. It is expected to be in operation by next spring.

162 Are Registered At Virginia Ave. Playground

Mrs. Eloise Krapf, president of the Virginia Avenue Playground Association, reported Monday that 162 children were registered at the playground on the opening day.

This compares with a total of 171 registered during the entire season last year.

Mrs. Vivian L. Turley was substitute playleader Monday morning and Mrs. Dorothy Sibley was playleader during the afternoon session.

Mayor Thomas S. Post reported that only one complaint, regarding the age limit for children, was received at City Hall on the first day of operation of the 13 city playgrounds.

The minimum age limit for all playgrounds is five years, unless the child is accompanied by an adult or an older child.

Cresap Society Holds Annual Meeting Here

The 23rd annual meeting of the Cresap Society was held Saturday at Queen City Hotel.

Mrs. Florence P. Lewis, president, Cleveland, O., called the meeting to order, after which Rev. J. Ord Cresap, secretary and treasurer of the society, offered prayer. Mrs. Lewis read the minutes of the last meeting, which was held at Columbus, O.

Col. Fred Powell gave a talk, and Ross F. Shaw moved that the society place a tablet at Oldtown in honor of Col. Thomas Cresap. The motion was approved and carried.

The group then went to Riverside Park, where a wreath was placed on the Cresap monument.

Approximately 50 members attended the meeting. The society plans to hold its next meeting at Oldtown.

Twelve Men Enlist In Armed Service

Twelve men, including two brothers from Piedmont, enlisted in the Army and Air Forces at the local recruiting office yesterday. Capt. Laurence M. Bairstow, announced.

The brothers are John Marshall and Robert Roy Lemon, residents at 47 West Harrison Street, Piedmont, W. Va.

Street Signs May Be Delivered In August

The city has been notified that the 200 street marker signs ordered from Lyle Signs, Inc., Minneapolis, will probably be ready for shipment during the first part of August, according to Mayor Thomas S. Post.

In a letter to City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, the firm explained that all orders are from six to eight weeks behind schedule because of delay in sheet steel deliveries and in casting work done for the company by Minneapolis foundries.

Rizer wrote the firm earlier this month regarding the delivery date of the signs, which the city ordered several months ago.

Radio Club Gets 500 Points In Field Day

Members of the Mountain Radio Club received about 500 points in the recent field day of the American Radio Relay League, an official of the club said yesterday.

Miserable weather conditions, he explained hampered operations of the portable radio sets. The field day here, however, was a severe test of such emergency operations, he said.

Members of the club set up a television receiver at the camp site on Nicholas Mountain and received satisfactory voice signals but no images from stations in the Baltimore area. Only the fact that the set was operating from a high point made it possible to get that much, a club official said.

Find Stolen Bicycle

A motorbike stolen from the John J. Mattingly basement, 313 Caroline Street, has been recovered, police reported. The bicycle was found undamaged on a vacant lot on Maple Street.

New Industries Seek Smaller Communities

The smaller cities are beginning to get the lion's share in new industrial development.

That's the trend, according to a newsletter of the American Society of Planning Officials received by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Harold W. Smith, manager, said the society reported that 46 per cent of industrial construction contracts of over $100,000 went to cities of under 50,000 population.

A recent study in Georgia revealed that 67 per cent of new industries coming into that state during 1947 located in towns of less than 50,000 and 39 per cent in towns of less than 5,000.

In Tennessee, towns under 5,000 attracted 30.6 of the state's new industries last year.

The letter stated, Smith said, that one of the determining factors in the selection of plant location, which appears to be of growing importance, is what a community has to offer towards the health and contentment of labor.

"Y" Clubs Contribute To New Building On Guam

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of Central Y.M.C.A. have contributed $120 this year toward the fund for building a $225,000 Y.M.C.A. on Guam for American military and civilian personnel on the island.

The structure will be a one-floor building of reinforced concrete covering 14,000 square feet, and will contain an auditorium, clubrooms, restaurant, lounge, game rooms, snack bar and outdoor patio. It is expected to be in operation by next spring.

162 Are Registered At Virginia Ave. Playground

Mrs. Eloise Krapf, president of the Virginia Avenue Playground Association, reported Monday that 162 children were registered at the playground on the opening day.

This compares with a total of 171 registered during the entire season last year.

Mrs. Vivian L. Turley was substitute playleader Monday morning and Mrs. Dorothy Sibley was playleader during the afternoon session.

Mayor Thomas S. Post reported that only one complaint, regarding the age limit for children, was received at City Hall on the first day of operation of the 13 city playgrounds.

The minimum age limit for all playgrounds is five years, unless the child is accompanied by an adult or an older child.

Coney Minister Accepts Call To Toronto, Ontario

Rev. Bailey Will Leave In July

LONACONING — Rev. Glenn I. Bailey, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church, Jackson Street, will conclude his fourth year as local pastor on June 30. He has accepted a call to the First Pentecostal Holiness Church, known as "Evangelistic Center," in Toronto, Ontario.

The Evangelistic Center is located in the heart of the historic Canadian city. In connection with the regular duties of the pastor, Rev. Bailey will conduct a weekly radio program from the church auditorium each Sunday morning from 10:05 to 11 o'clock.

Since coming to Lonaconing, Rev. Bailey has been active in the work of the church and community, and has served the Lonaconing Ministerium as secretary and treasurer for the past three years.

Rev. Bailey has been engaged in several activities of the Conference, having served the youth of the Maryland Conference of the Pentecostal Holiness Church for two years, one year as board member, and one year as president. He has also served on the official board of the Conference for the past two years.

Rev. Bailey will leave here early in July.

The Pentecostal Holiness Church will conduct its pre-conference church meeting Thursday night, June 24, when a general survey of church work will be made and the reports of the secretary and the treasurer will be given.

The local congregation will also call their pastor for the coming year, and elect delegates to the annual conference in Washington, D. C., July 9 to 12.

Last Saturday morning Rev. Bailey drove four young people to the church to Greenville, Pa., to attend the youth institute of the Pennsylvania Conference.

The Youth Institute will close Saturday. Those attending are Misses Margaret Jean Loar, Esther Whiteman and Elaine Robertson, Lonaconing, and John Russell, Barton.

TO BE HONORED-- Mrs. Annie Louise Layman, 94, one of Frostburg's oldest residents will be the guest of honor at a birthday party and family reunion to be given by her children on July 7.

Mrs. Annie Louise Layman, 94, To Be Honor Guest At Party And Reunion

FROSTBURG—Mrs. Annie Louise Layman, 94, a native of the Porter Settlement, near Eckhart, and one of Frostburg's oldest residents, will be the guest of honor Wednesday, July 7, at a family reunion and birthday party to be given by her children at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Thelma Wilson, wife of Robert Wilson, Baltimore Pike, near Minke's, where part of the festivities will be held.

Mrs. Layman, daughter of the late Nelson Crowe and Mary Ann Winebrenner Crowe, Garrett County, is the widow of George Louis Layman, farmer and carpenter, who died at the family home in Carlos in 1913 at the age of 64. Mr. and Mrs. Layman were married November 7, 1873, at the home of the bride, then residing with her parents on the Braddock Farm in Garrett County, near here. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Joseph Mason, a circuit riding minister of the Methodist Church.

After their marriage, the young couple started housekeeping on the Graham farm, at Grahamtown, this city, residing first in one of the small farm houses near Wright's Crossing and later in the residence now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Zack Arnold. During their married life, they resided in various localities in the Georges Creek region, including the stone house on the Koontz farm, near Midland, Shaft and Carlos, moving to the latter place in 1894 and remaining there until after the death of Mr. Layman. Since that time, Mrs. Layman has been making her home with her children, residing at the present time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Layman, 15 Welsh Street, wife of Fuller Davis, governor of Frostburg Lodge, No. 348, Loyal Order of Moose.

Mr. and Mrs. Layman were the parents of 16 children, nine living and seven dead. The surviving children are Robert Layman, Detroit; Benjamin Layman, Syracuse, N. Y.; George Layman, Shaft; Mrs. Nellie Byrnes, Mrs. Annie Neat and Mrs. Ada Koelker, Cumberland; Mrs. Oma Wolfe, Hagerstown; Mrs. Ruth Davis, Frostburg, and Lawrence Layman, Alexandria, Va. The deceased children are Mrs. Elsie Diehl, wife of Russell Diehl, manager of the Frostburg office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, who died March 31, 1947, and Ernest Layman, president of the Shaft Water Company, who died March 25, 1948; Grace, John, Algie, William and Owen Layman.

Mrs. Layman has 47 living grandchildren, 69 great-grandchildren and 12 great-great-grandchildren.

A Methodist since childhood when, she said, she was converted at Zion Church on Longstretch in Garrett County, Mrs. Layman is a communicant member of Shaft Methodist Church.

Possessing an excellent memory and enjoying splendid health, Mrs. Layman reads without the aid of glasses during the morning hours, but resorts to the aid of reading glasses in the afternoons. In discussing the early years of her life, one of the incidents that made the greatest impression on her mind, she said, was watching the return of Civil War veterans traveling to the homes over the National Highway, following the close of the Civil War.

On one occasion, she recalled, while she was at a family picnic of farmers in a grove near Layman's farm in Garrett County, there seemed no end of the wagons carrying Civil War veterans westward on the old pike. One of the most terrifying experiences of her life, she related, was the cyclone that struck Frostburg and vicinity in October, 1891, and razed many of the farm building in the Shaft area where she and her husband resided at that time.

Frostburg Women Leave For Ocean City

FROSTBURG — Mesdames Beatrice LaPorta, Mary Nickel, Ruth Snyder, Juanita Hendley and Edna Engle left yesterday for Ocean City to attend the State Volunteer Firemen's convention. The Ladies Auxiliary will hold its meeting in the Atlantic Hotel.

A successful project begun last year pertaining to selling "Black Eyed Susans," the Maryland State flower, for the benefit of disabled veterans of the volunteer companies, will probably be continued. The amount collected, through the efforts of the Ladies' Auxiliaries, was over $1,000.

Mrs. Hendley, a member of the Frostburg auxiliary, who was elected state president last year at the convention in this city, will preside at the business meetings. Mrs. Engle, past state president, will be pianist, and installing officer for new officers.

Frostburg Briefs

The VanDyke Bible class of First Methodist Church will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Sunday School room of the church. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Cora Griffith, Mrs. Estelle Powers, Miss Elizabeth Barnes and Mrs. Margaret Kight. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. Dora Willison, Mrs. H. B. Marten and Mrs. Virgie Dennison.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillips, this city, announce the birth of a daughter Sunday in Miners Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bean, Consolidation Village, announce the birth of a son Sunday in Miners Hospital.

Mrs. James McNeill, East Main Street, was admitted to Miners Hospital Monday after suffering a fractured hip in a fall at her home.

Bicycle Race Is Planned Tonight For Keyser Youth

Contestants To Be Divided Into Groups

KEYSER, W. Va.—A bicycle race for the youth of Keyser up to the age of 17 will be held on the playground of Keyser High School today at 7 p. m., according to Coach Frederick Clark, director of activities for the Keyser youth recreation program.

The event will mark the second in a series of Wednesday evening outdoor events. Both boys and girls are eligible to compete for the city championship of Keyser, Clark said.

The race will be run in the same manner as midget cars are raced on small auto tracks, Coach Clark said. The boys and girls will start from a stand beside their bicycles and race across the field for 80 yards. The race will be run in laps with each lap winner to receive as prize money a dime for each bicycle in the particular lap. The lap winners will race for a grand prize of a silver dollar to be provided by the recreation group.

The races will be broken into groups as follows:

No. 1, youths of ages 14-17; No. 2, boys and girls from 11 to 13; and No. 3, all boys and girls under the age of 10.

Each entrant must file an entry blank and pay a fee of 10 cents, with the fee to be used as lap money, and each bicycle entered must be a single-seat bike with no motor attached. Entries must be filed by noon today with Edgell Grayson at the Sporting Goods Store, corner of Mineral and Piedmont Streets.

Clark pointed out that the playground committee will not be responsible for injuries received during the races, including those entered in the races and bystanders who might get in the race line. Russell "Bull" Bishop, well known track starter, will serve as starter for Wednesday's race, Clark said.

Other attractions on tap for today include a tricycle race for all boys and girls under six years of age; horseback riding, and the clown acts of Frank Kight, who will be on the playground from six o'clock until dark, entertaining the large crowd.

Youngsters entering the tricycle race need not file an entry blank, the playground director said, adding that all they need to do is bring their tricycles and get in the race. It is hoped to have a small prize for all riders and a grand prize for the winner, Coach Clark said.

Ponies for the horseback riding will be furnished by S. E. Hanna of the Hanna Pony Farm. This sport proved very popular with the youngsters at last Wednesday's event.

The Women of the Moose swimming party, postponed last week due to the rain and cool weather, will be held today at Constitution Park in Cumberland. The truck will leave from the Grade School promptly at 12:30 p. m. and will return in the evening in time for the big event.

Scouts To Camp

MIDLAND — Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 65 will hike to Dan's Mountain this weekend where they expect to make a camp and remain out in the open Saturday night. Scoutmaster Herbert Dye, Jr., will be in charge.

Miss Romi Femi To Become Bride Of Frederick Grato

FROSTBURG—The marriage of Miss Romy Femi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nazarene Femi, Morantown, and Frederick Crato, Carnegie, Pa., will be celebrated Saturday, July 26, at 10 a. m., in St. Michael's Catholic Church, with Rev. Regis L. Larkin, assistant pastor, performing the double ring ceremony and celebrating the nuptial mass.

The church altar is to be elaborately decorated with lighted candles, palms and summer flowers. Bouquets of mixed flowers tied with white satin bows will be used to mark off the pews for family and friends. Mrs. Richard Goldsworthy will be the organist for the wedding and Miss Drucilla Shriner will sing.

The bride-elect has chosen her sister, Miss Madeline Femi, as her maid of honor and for bridesmaids she has selected her cousin, Miss Benilda Fabbri, her sister, Miss Patsy Femi, and Miss Dolores Lupi, Carnegie, Pa. Fernard Crato, Carnegie, Pa., a brother of the prospective bridegroom, will be best man. Robert Montuse, a cousin of the bride-elect will be ring bearer and Leo Adams, Samuel Domenick and Carl Lupi will be the ushers. Rosalie Femi, Ellerslie, niece of the bride-elect, will serve as flower girl.

The bride, to be given in marriage by her father, will wear a gown of white brocaded marquisette fashioned with a high neckline and fitted bodice, trimmed with seed pearls and sapphires, and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt will have a long ruffled train. Her fingertip veil of bride's illusion will be attached to a bonnet of the same material. She will carry a cascade of mixed flowers centered with orchids and tied with white satin streamers.

The maid of honor will wear a light orchid taffeta gown with matching head piece, shoulder length veil and gloves. She will carry a nosegay of mixed flowers with satin streamers.

Miss Patsy Femi will wear a nile green taffeta gown with matching head piece, shoulder length veil and gloves. Miss Benilda Femi will wear a pink taffeta gown with matching headpiece, shoulder length veil and gloves and Miss Delores Lupi will wear yellow taffeta with matching head piece, shoulder length veil and gloves. The bridesmaids will carry nosegays of mixed flowers with satin streamers.

The little flower girl will wear a yellow and blue taffeta gown and will carry a small basket of mixed flowers.

The bride's mother has chosen a navy and pink dress and an orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding.

Following the ceremony, a dinner will be served at the bride's home for the bridal party. The reception for friends and relatives will be held in the evening at St. Michael's Hall, First Street.

After a short honeymoon in Atlantic City, the couple will reside in Carnegie, where the prospective groom is employed as a steel worker. Until recently the bride-elect has been employed by the Michael Berkowitz Company, this city.

Coney Minister Accepts Call To Toronto, Ontario

Rev. Bailey Will Leave In July

LONACONING — Rev. Glenn I. Bailey, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church, Jackson Street, will conclude his fourth year as local pastor on June 30. He has accepted a call to the First Pentecostal Holiness Church, known as "Evangelistic Center," in Toronto, Ontario.

The Evangelistic Center is located in the heart of the historic Canadian city. In connection with the regular duties of the pastor, Rev. Bailey will conduct a weekly radio program from the church auditorium each Sunday morning from 10:05 to 11 o'clock.

Since coming to Lonaconing, Rev. Bailey has been active in the work of the church and community, and has served the Lonaconing Ministerium as secretary and treasurer for the past three years.

Rev. Bailey has been engaged in several activities of the Conference, having served the youth of the Maryland Conference of the Pentecostal Holiness Church for two years, one year as board member, and one year as president. He has also served on the official board of the Conference for the past two years.

Rev. Bailey will leave here early in July.

The Pentecostal Holiness Church will conduct its pre-conference church meeting Thursday night, June 24, when a general survey of church work will be made and the reports of the secretary and the treasurer will be given.

The local congregation will also call their pastor for the coming year, and elect delegates to the annual conference in Washington, D. C., July 9 to 12.

Last Saturday morning Rev. Bailey drove four young people to the church to Greenville, Pa., to attend the youth institute of the Pennsylvania Conference.

The Youth Institute will close Saturday. Those attending are Misses Margaret Jean Loar, Esther Whiteman and Elaine Robertson, Lonaconing, and John Russell, Barton.

TO BE HONORED-- Mrs. Annie Louise Layman, 94, one of Frostburg's oldest residents will be the guest of honor at a birthday party and family reunion to be given by her children on July 7.

Mrs. Annie Louise Layman, 94, To Be Honor Guest At Party And Reunion

FROSTBURG—Mrs. Annie Louise Layman, 94, a native of the Porter Settlement, near Eckhart, and one of Frostburg's oldest residents, will be the guest of honor Wednesday, July 7, at a family reunion and birthday party to be given by her children at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Thelma Wilson, wife of Robert Wilson, Baltimore Pike, near Minke's, where part of the festivities will be held.

Mrs. Layman, daughter of the late Nelson Crowe and Mary Ann Winebrenner Crowe, Garrett County, is the widow of George Louis Layman, farmer and carpenter, who died at the family home in Carlos in 1913 at the age of 64. Mr. and Mrs. Layman were married November 7, 1873, at the home of the bride, then residing with her parents on the Braddock Farm in Garrett County, near here. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Joseph Mason, a circuit riding minister of the Methodist Church.

After their marriage, the young couple started housekeeping on the Graham farm, at Grahamtown, this city, residing first in one of the small farm houses near Wright's Crossing and later in the residence now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Zack Arnold. During their married life, they resided in various localities in the Georges Creek region, including the stone house on the Koontz farm, near Midland, Shaft and Carlos, moving to the latter place in 1894 and remaining there until after the death of Mr. Layman. Since that time, Mrs. Layman has been making her home with her children, residing at the present time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Layman, 15 Welsh Street, wife of Fuller Davis, governor of Frostburg Lodge, No. 348, Loyal Order of Moose.

Mr. and Mrs. Layman were the parents of 16 children, nine living and seven dead. The surviving children are Robert Layman, Detroit; Benjamin Layman, Syracuse, N. Y.; George Layman, Shaft; Mrs. Nellie Byrnes, Mrs. Annie Neat and Mrs. Ada Koelker, Cumberland; Mrs. Oma Wolfe, Hagerstown; Mrs. Ruth Davis, Frostburg, and Lawrence Layman, Alexandria, Va. The deceased children are Mrs. Elsie Diehl, wife of Russell Diehl, manager of the Frostburg office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, who died March 31, 1947, and Ernest Layman, president of the Shaft Water Company, who died March 25, 1948; Grace, John, Algie, William and Owen Layman.

Mrs. Layman has 47 living grandchildren, 69 great - grandchildren and 12 great-great-grandchildren.

A Methodist since childhood when, she said, she was converted at Zion Church on Longstretch in Garrett County, Mrs. Layman is a communicant member of Shaft Methodist Church.

Possessing an excellent memory and enjoying splendid health, Mrs. Layman reads without the aid of glasses during the morning hours, but resorts to the aid of reading glasses in the afternoons. In discussing the early years of her life, one of the incidents that made the greatest impression on her mind, she said, was watching the return of Civil War veterans traveling to the homes over the National Highway, following the close of the Civil War.

On one occasion, she recalled, while she was at a family picnic of farmers in a grove near Layman's farm in Garrett County, there seemed no end of the wagons carrying Civil War veterans westward on the old pike. One of the most terrifying experiences of her life, she related, was the cyclone that struck Frostburg and vicinity in October, 1891, and razed many of the farm building in the Shaft area where she and her husband resided at that time.

Frostburg Women Leave For Ocean City

FROSTBURG — Mesdames Beatrice LaPorta, Mary Nickel, Ruth Snyder, Juanita Hendley and Edna Engle left yesterday for Ocean City to attend the State Volunteer Firemen's convention. The Ladies Auxiliary will hold its meeting in the Atlantic Hotel.

A successful project begun last year pertaining to selling "Black Eyed Susans," the Maryland State flower, for the benefit of disabled veterans of the volunteer companies, will probably be continued. The amount collected, through the efforts of the Ladies' Auxiliaries, was over $1,000.

Mrs. Hendley, a member of the Frostburg auxiliary, who was elected state president last year at the convention in this city, will preside at the business meetings. Mrs. Engle, past state president, will be pianist, and installing officer for new officers.

Frostburg Briefs

The VanDyke Bible class of First Methodist Church will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Sunday School room of the church. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Cora Griffith, Mrs. Estelle Powers, Miss Elizabeth Barnes and Mrs. Margaret Kight. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. Dora Willison, Mrs. H. B. Marten and Mrs. Virgie Dennison.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillips, this city, announce the birth of a daughter Sunday in Miners Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bean, Consolidation Village, announce the birth of a son Sunday in Miners Hospital.

Mrs. James McNeill, East Main Street, was admitted to Miners Hospital Monday after suffering a fractured hip in a fall at her home.

Contestants To Be Divided Into Groups

KEYSER, W. Va.—A bicycle race for the youth of Keyser up to the age of 17 will be held on the playground of Keyser High School today at 7 p. m., according to Coach Frederick Clark, director of activities for the Keyser youth recreation program.

The event will mark the second in a series of Wednesday evening outdoor events. Both boys and girls are eligible to compete for the city championship of Keyser, Clark said.

The race will be run in the same manner as midget cars are raced on small auto tracks, Coach Clark said. The boys and girls will start from a stand beside their bicycles and race across the field for 80 yards. The race will be run in laps with each lap winner to receive as prize money a dime for each bicycle in the particular lap. The lap winners will race for a grand prize of a silver dollar to be provided by the recreation group.

The races will be broken into groups as follows:

No. 1, youths of ages 14-17; No. 2, boys and girls from 11 to 13; and No. 3, all boys and girls under the age of 10.

Each entrant must file an entry blank and pay a fee of 10 cents, with the fee to be used as lap money, and each bicycle entered must be a single-seat bike with no motor attached. Entries must be filed by noon today with Edgell Grayson at the Sporting Goods Store, corner of Mineral and Piedmont Streets.

Clark pointed out that the playground committee will not be responsible for injuries received during the races, including those entered in the races and bystanders who might get in the race line. Russell "Bull" Bishop, well known track starter, will serve as starter for Wednesday's race, Clark said.

Other attractions on tap for today include a tricycle race for all boys and girls under six years of age; horseback riding, and the clown acts of Frank Kight, who will be on the playground from six o'clock until dark, entertaining the large crowd.

Youngsters entering the tricycle race need not file an entry blank, the playground director said, adding that all they need to do is bring their tricycles and get in the race. It is hoped to have a small prize for all riders and a grand prize for the winner, Coach Clark said.

Ponies for the horseback riding will be furnished by S. E. Hanna of the Hanna Pony Farm. This sport proved very popular with the youngsters at last Wednesday's event.

The Women of the Moose swimming party, postponed last week due to the rain and cool weather, will be held today at Constitution Park in Cumberland. The truck will leave from the Grade School promptly at 12:30 p. m. and will return in the evening in time for the big event.

Scouts To Camp

MIDLAND — Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 65 will hike to Dan's Mountain this weekend where they expect to make a camp and remain out in the open Saturday night. Scoutmaster Herbert Dye, Jr., will be in charge.

Miss Romi Femi To Become Bride Of Frederick Grato

FROSTBURG—The marriage of Miss Romy Femi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nazarene Femi, Morantown, and Frederick Crato, Carnegie, Pa., will be celebrated Saturday, July 26, at 10 a. m., in St. Michael's Catholic Church, with Rev. Regis L. Larkin, assistant pastor, performing the double ring ceremony and celebrating the nuptial mass.

The church altar is to be elaborately decorated with lighted candles, palms and summer flowers. Bouquets of mixed flowers tied with white satin bows will be used to mark off the pews for family and friends. Mrs. Richard Goldsworthy will be the organist for the wedding and Miss Drucilla Shriner will sing.

The bride-elect has chosen her sister, Miss Madeline Femi, as her maid of honor and for bridesmaids she has selected her cousin, Miss Benilda Fabbri, her sister, Miss Patsy Femi, and Miss Dolores Lupi, Carnegie, Pa. Fernard Crato, Carnegie, Pa., a brother of the prospective bridegroom, will be best man. Robert Montuse, a cousin of the bride-elect will be ring bearer and Leo Adams, Samuel Domenick and Carl Lupi will be the ushers. Rosalie Femi, Ellerslie, niece of the bride-elect, will serve as flower girl.

The bride, to be given in marriage by her father, will wear a gown of white brocaded marquisette fashioned with a high neckline and fitted bodice, trimmed with seed pearls and sapphires, and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt will have a long ruffled train. Her fingertip veil of bride's illusion will be attached to a bonnet of the same material. She will carry a cascade of mixed flowers centered with orchids and tied with white satin streamers.

The maid of honor will wear a light orchid taffeta gown with matching head piece, shoulder length veil and gloves. She will carry a nosegay of mixed flowers with satin streamers.

Miss Patsy Femi will wear a nile green taffeta gown with matching head piece, shoulder length veil and gloves. Miss Benilda Femi will wear a pink taffeta gown with matching headpiece, shoulder length veil and gloves and Miss Delores Lupi will wear yellow taffeta with matching head piece, shoulder length veil and gloves. The bridesmaids will carry nosegays of mixed flowers with satin streamers.

The little flower girl will wear a yellow and blue taffeta gown and will carry a small basket of mixed flowers.

The bride's mother has chosen a navy and pink dress and an orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding.

Following the ceremony, a dinner will be served at the bride's home for the bridal party. The reception for friends and relatives will be held in the evening at St. Michael's Hall, First Street.

After a short honeymoon in Atlantic City, the couple will reside in Carnegie, where the prospective groom is employed as a steel worker. Until recently the bride-elect has been employed by the Michael Berkowitz Company, this city.

Tri-Towns Scouts Capture Ribbons

WESTERNPORT—Troops of the Tri-Towns District which participated in the camporee in the camp of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, near Oldtown Saturday and Sunday, captured four blue ribbons and two red ribbons. There were 28 boys representing seven patrols of three troops.

The Owl patrol of Troop 34, which won a blue ribbon, was composed of Noel Obenshain, scoutmaster; Harry McCulloh, patrol leader; Odis Alkire, assistant patrol leader; Perry Grove, James Bevers and Ward Jenkins.

Members of the Wolf patrol of troop 34 which won a red ribbon, were Edward Lease, assistant partol leader; Robert Murray, Irvine Steiding and Harry Houser.

Senior patrol of Troop 33, winner of a blue ribbon, consisted of Robert Wilt and Eugene Marsh. Bear patrol of the troop, which won a blue ribbon, included Donald Moyer, Richard Wiltison, Carlyle Boyce and Robert Barber, and the Beaver patrol, which won a red ribbon, was composed of Richard Schoppert, Harry Kyle, Jr., Randy Machin, Virgil Seaber, Ronald Harmon, Tommy Bothwell and Guy Wilt, leader. Chester Kenner of the Flying Eagle patrol also took part.

A blue ribbon was won by the Indian patrol of Troop 36, comprised of Martin O'Rourke, Charles Wiltison, Kenneth Howe, Thomas Hanlin and Vernon Lutman.

Kenneth McIntyre and Walter Moore, Troop 30, camped all night but did not take part in the camporee.

Harry Biggs and Paul DeVore also attended.

The boys were taken to camp in a bus and automobiles by Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, rector of St. James Episcopal Church here, and Noel Obenshain.

GOP Convention And Title Boxing Top Air Programs

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, June 22—Both the Republican convention and the second Louis-Walcott heavyweight boxing bout are on the networks and television agenda for Wednesday.

The convention is expected to have about the same schedule as on the preceding days, with morning and later sessions. The day session, around 11 a. m., is expected to deal primarily with the platform. After that is taken care of nominating speeches for presidential candidates will be in order. Time of the night session will depend on procedure deevlopments.

ABC has scheduled the fight for 10 p. m., providing weather conditions do not interfere with the outdoor event. NBC television also plans to put on this event as it has championship bouts in the past.

Previous to the fight ABC at 9:30 will have a preview half-hour in which Ted Husing and others are to discuss events later on.

Getting back to the convention, among the announced additional events are these: ABC 4:30 delegate interviews continue; CBS 5 Roundtable on the Platform; ABC 11:35 Convention roundtable.

The Breakfast Club of ABC will celebrate its fifteenth anniversary when it has its regular 9 a. m. broadcast. To those who listen it isn't exactly news that this still is the Don McNeil program.

Ed Gardner and his Duffy's tavern bid goodbye for another summer, promised to return to NBC at 9 p. m. in the fall.

RADIO IN REVIEW

Giveaways

One of the most intriguing aspects of the giveaway mania—and mania, if anything, is too mild a word—is that no one approves of it. It is almost universally condemned as harmful both inside and outside the industry. I suspect that some of the more voiceferous critics among the listeners spend quite a lot of time listening to giveaway programs. At any rate, my correspondents on the subject seem appallingly well informed about them. Some of the most outspoken critics inside radio are intimately associated with giveaway shows. Nobody likes it but everybody does it.

John Crosby

The one indisputable fact about giveaways is that they attract listeners. Even such veterans as Fred Allen and Edgar Bergen have lost listeners to A. B. C.'s "Stop the Music," one of the most devilish ideas to come along in some time. CBS almost immediately imitated it with its "Sing It Again" program on Saturday nights. Now Mutual is getting into the act with something called the "Big Money Game" which kicks off next Saturday. Prizes on this last one will run as high as $50,000, which used to be a rather respectable sum of money.

● — ● — ●

All these programs, as I suppose every one in America now knows, involve long - distance telephone calls to the homes of listeners, who are invited to identify tunes or other things for cash prizes. The telephone and the radio have been combined to produce the perfect come-on—greed set to dance music.

All this is more than a little alarming to entertainers who have spent years perfecting their acts only to lose their audiences to the man with the checkbook. Some of the more serious thinkers in radio feel they have a bear by the tail. It's rather interesting to note that the new code of the National Association of Broadcasters has one paragraph which reads: "Any broadcasting designed to buy the radio audience by requiring it to listen in hope of reward rather than for the quality of its entertainment should be avoided."

"Tide,' the advertising news magazine, observes sourly; "At the time that pious provision was being adopted, the four national networks had some thirty giveaway programs running regularly and each of the four was wondering whether to plan still bigger ones or suffer the consequences.

"The thing is now so out of hand that no one network, advertiser or producer can be blamed for it or expected to stop it. The very people who have the greatest stake in radio at the most and best interest in it are so deep in this particular craze that nothing short of the boldest sort of collective action will stop it."

The magazine went on to point out that when "Truth or Consequences" set the country on its heels with Miss Hush and the Walking Man contest, an ad agency conducted a survey to find out how much people knew about the program. The results were illuminating. Seventy per cent knew about Miss Hush or the Walking Man. Eighty per cent of those who did knew that the stunt was connected with a radio program. But only 23 per cent knew the name of the program and only 12 per cent successfully identified the product advertised on it.

"Radio Daily" points out rather hopelessly that the chances of any individual's being telephoned are 22,000,000 to 1. This, I feel, is a little over pessimistic. Not counting "Truth or Consequences," which employs the long-distance telephone only fitfully, there are six and will soon be seven shows on which the home audience is phoned. Since these programs telephone from six to a dozen people and since there are 22,000,000 phones in the country, your chances are a little better than 22,000,000 to 1. But they're still pretty dim.

When informed of the newly created radio, G. K. Chesterton is reputed to have said: "Too bad they invented it when no one had anything to say." Mr. Chesterton failed to realize that money talks. It is talking louder and louder on the air and, while not exactly silencing our best entertainers, it is certainly out shouting them.

The giveaway gimmick is a form of pandering that a number of other enterprises besides radio, notably newspapers and the motion pictures, have succumbed to in the past. The craze passed, sanity was restored. But as "Tide" points out, it's doubtful whether the picture industry ever fully recovered from bank night, and radio may have a few scars to show for its fling with the giveaway mania too.

Railroad Stocks Show Speed Burst Leaving Rest Of Market Far Behind

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Railroad stocks put on a burst of speed today that left the rest of the market far in the rear.

Volume quickened as the rails took over market leadership but turnover for the day dropped to 1,410,000 shares from 1,750,000 Monday.

Nickel Plate Railroad, with a gain of 5 at 71, and Reading Company, up 4¼ at 26¾, were brilliant pacesetters as they climbed to new highs for the year or longer. St. Paul also reached a 1948 peak with a 1-point gain at 11½.

Higher prices were paid for Illinois Central 40¾, Baltimore & Ohio 15⅝, Northern Pacific 26, Southern Railway 49, Southern Pacific 59½, and Santa Fe 113.

Several of the oils which were strong points Monday continued to advance but at reduced speed. These included Maracaibo (at a new high), Richfield Oil and Panhandle Producing.

Plymouth Oil, on the other hand, broke 4¼ to 61½. Also lower were General Motors, International Harvester, American Telephone, General Electric, Owens-Illinois, Lily-Tulip Cup, and Paramount Pictures.

Railroad issues led the bond market downward. There were some advances, a few of them substantial, but the general trend was easier.

Missouri Pacific General 4s dropped a half point to 47¼ on sales aggregating $481,000. The 5s of 1977, however, advanced 1½ to 88½ on about half that volume.

Central Railroad of New Jersey 5s fell 2 points to 75 on fair demand while the registered 5s were steady at 73½ on sales of 229 bonds.

U. S. Government bonds continued their easing tendencies of yesterday in over-the-counter dealings. The long term 2½s, due September 1967-72 dropped 10:32.

GOP Convention And Title Boxing Top Air Programs

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, June 22—Both the Republican convention and the second Louis-Walcott heavyweight boxing bout are on the networks and television agenda for Wednesday.

The convention is expected to have about the same schedule as on the preceding days, with morning and later sessions. The day session, around 11 a. m., is expected to deal primarily with the platform. After that is taken care of nominating speeches for presidential candidates will be in order. Time of the night session will depend on procedure deevlopments.

ABC has scheduled the fight for 10 p. m., providing weather conditions do not interfere with the outdoor event. NBC television also plans to put on this event as it has championship bouts in the past.

Previous to the fight ABC at 9:30 will have a preview half-hour in which Ted Husing and others are to discuss events later on.

Getting back to the convention, among the announced additional events are these: ABC 4:30 delegate interviews continue; CBS 5 Roundtable on the platform; ABC 11:35 Convention roundtable.

The Breakfast Club of ABC will celebrate its fifteenth anniversary when it has its regular 9 a. m. broadcast. To those who listen it isn't exactly news that this still is the Don McNeill program.

Ed Gardner and his Duffy's tavern bid goodbye for another summer, promised to return to NBC at 9 p. m. in the fall.

Radio In Review

Giveaways

One of the most intriguing aspects of the giveaway mania—and mania, if anything, is too mild a word—is that no one approves of it. It is almost universally condemned as harmful both inside and outside the industry. I suspect that some of the more vociferous critics among the listeners spend quite a lot of time listening to giveaway programs. At any rate, my correspondents on the subject seem appallingly well informed about them. Some of the most outspoken critics inside radio are intimately associated with giveaway shows. Nobody likes it but everybody does it.

John Crosby

The one indisputable fact about giveaways is that they attract listeners. Even such veterans as Fred Allen and Edgar Bergen have lost listeners to A. B. C.'s "Stop the Music," one of the most devilish ideas to come along in some time. CBS almost immediately imitated it with its "Sing It Again" program on Saturday nights. Now Mutual is getting into the act with something called the "Big Money Game" which kicks off next Saturday. Prizes on this last one will run as high as $50,000, which used to be a rather respectable sum of money.

All these programs, as I suppose every one in America now knows, involve long - distance telephone calls to the homes of listeners, who are invited to identify tunes or other things for cash prizes. The telephone and the radio have been combined to produce the perfect come-on—greed set to dance music.

All this is more than a little alarming to entertainers who have spent years perfecting their acts only to lose their audiences to the man with the checkbook. Some of the more serious thinkers in radio feel they have a bear by the tail. It's rather interesting to note that the new code of the National Association of Broadcasters has one paragraph which reads: "Any broadcasting designed to buy the radio audience by requiring it to listen in hope of reward rather than for the quality of its entertainment should be avoided."

"Tide," the advertising news magazine, observes sourly: "At the time that pious provision was being adopted, the four national networks had some thirty giveaway programs running regularly and each of the four was wondering whether to plan still bigger ones or suffer the consequences.

"The thing is now so out of hand that no one network, advertiser or producer can be blamed for it or expected to stop it. The very people who have the greatest stake in radio and the most and best interest in it are so deep in this particular craze that nothing short of the boldest sort of collective action will stop it."

The magazine went on to point out that when "Truth or Consequences" set the country on its heels with Miss Hush and the Walking Man contest, an ad agency conducted a survey to find out how much people knew about the program. The results were illuminating. Seventy per cent knew about Miss Hush or the Walking Man. Eighty per cent of those who did knew that the stunt was connected with a radio program. But only 23 per cent knew the name of the program and only 12 per cent successfully identified the product advertised on it.

"Radio Daily" points out rather hopelessly that the chances of any individual's being telephoned are 22,000,000 to 1. This, I feel, is a little over pessimistic. Not counting "Truth or Consequences," which employs the long-distance telephone only fitfully, there are six and will soon be seven shows on which the home audience is phoned. Since these programs telephone from six to a dozen people and since there are 22,000,000 phones in the country, your chances are a little better than 22,000,000 to 1. But they're still pretty dim.

When informed of the newly created radio, G. K. Chesterton is reputed to have said: "Too bad they invented it when no one had anything to say." Mr. Chesterton failed to realize that money talks. It is talking louder and louder on the air and, while not exactly silencing our best entertainers, it is certainly out shouting them.

The giveaway gimmick is a form of pandering that a number of other enterprises besides radio, notably newspapers and the motion pictures, have succumbed to in the past. The craze passed, sanity was restored. But as "Tide" points out, it's doubtful whether the picture industry ever fully recovered from bank night, and radio may have a few scars to show for its fling with the giveaway mania too.

Railroad Stocks Show Speed Burst Leaving Rest Of Market Far Behind

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Railroad stocks put on a burst of speed today that left the rest of the market far in the rear.

Volume quickened as the rails took over market leadership but turnover for the day dropped to 1,410,000 shares from 1,750,000 Monday.

Nickel Plate Railroad, with a gain of 5 at 71, and Reading Company, up 4¼ at 26⅝, were brilliant pacesetters as they climbed to new highs for the year or longer. St. Paul also reached a 1948 peak with a 1-point gain at 11½.

Higher prices were paid for Illinois Central 40¾, Baltimore & Ohio 15¾, Northern Pacific 26, Southern Railway 49, Southern Pacific 59½, and Santa Fe 113.

Several of the oils which were strong points Monday continued to advance but at reduced speed. These included Maracaibo (at a new high), Richfield Oil and Panhandle Producing.

Plymouth Oil, on the other hand, broke 4¼ to 61½. Also lower were General Motors, International Harvester, American Telephone, General Electric, Owens-Illinois, Lily-Tulip Cup, and Paramount Pictures.

Railroad issues led the bond market downward. There were some advances, a few of them substantial, but the general trend was easier.

Missouri Pacific General 4s dropped a half point to 47¼ on sales aggregating $481,000. The 5s of 1977, however, advanced 1½ to 88½ on about half that volume.

Central Railroad of New Jersey 5s fell 2 points to 75 on fair demand while the registered 5s were steady at 73½ on sales of 229 bonds.

U. S. Government bonds continued their easing tendencies of yesterday in over-the-counter dealings. The long term 2½s, due September 1967-72 dropped 10:32.

Miriam Orndorff Becomes Bride Of J. M. Templeton

WESTERNPORT—In a ceremony performed Sunday afternoon in First Baptist Church before an altar banked with green spruce and roses, Miss Miriam Klair Orndorff, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William B. Orndorff, became the bride of J. Milton Templeton, son of Mrs. Margaret Templeton, Charlotte Court House, Va., and the late Thomas A. Templeton.

The bride's father, pastor of the church, officiated. Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Garland E. Likens.

The Girls' Choir of the church, which was organized and formerly directed by the bride, sang several selections. Miss Eileen Watson, Eckhart, sang "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, E. Finley Orndorff, Burlington, W. Va., was attired in a white satin gown with a lace yoke and long sleeves. Her finger-tip veil of lace was crowned with seed pearls.

Miss Grace Elaine Orndorff, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Clyde Thaxton, Charlotte Court House, were attired in matching gowns of hyacinth blue with cap sleeves. They carried bouquets of yellow roses and baby's-breath.

Flower girls were Carolyn and Catherine Riley, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Riley, Westernport. They wore pink gowns and carried bouquets of pink rosebuds.

Noah Templeton, Charlotte Court House, was his brother's best man and Herbert Koch, Oakland, was the groom's attendant. The ushers were Paul DeWitt, Oakland, and Frank Ravenscroft, Westernport.

Out of town guests included Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. David L. Rinker, Cumberland; Miss Etta B. Orndorff and Mrs. Thelma Staggs, Burlington, W. Va.; Rev. and Mrs. Sidney S. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, Mrs. Mollie Bannatyne, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Snyder and daughters, Rena and Delcres, and James Logsdon, Eckhart.

Rev. and Mrs. Donald Vossler and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller, Frostburg; Benjamine Koch, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Paugh, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaffer and family and Miss Fannie Mae, Fred and Earl Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Enlow, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Logsdon, Cresaptown, and Peter Legon, Lynchburg, Va.

Following a short trip through southern states, the couple will reside at 513 Autumn Drive, Lynchburg, Va.

Moorefield Firemen Seek New Members

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — The Moorefield Fire Company will meet at 8 o'clock each Thursday evening during the months of July, August and September instead of at 7:30.

The annual membership drive will be held during September and will be climaxed with a public dinner to be held at the Fire Hall.

The firemen are divided into teams and winners of the campaign for associate members will be served a dinner by the losers, who will be dressed in ladies' costumes. Any member collecting more than $50 in the drive will be exempt from wearing such a costume if he is on the losing team.

Excavation Started For New Homes

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Workmen of the Valley Housing Corporation, Harrisonburg, Va., started work this week excavating basements for the new homes of M. A. Bean on Main Street and Dr. M. H. Maxwell across from the Court House on Washington Street.

The company will work on both houses simultaneously and expects to complete them before fall.

Oil-Bearing Sand Found On Cebu

MANILA, (AP)—Oil has never been found in the Philippines, but geologists have hopes that a producer may be spouting before long. They have gathered at Daanbatayan, on the island of Cebu in the central Philippines, to check the deep oil-bearing sand found there recently. They are hopeful it may be a commercial sand. The sand was struck at 9,600 feet by the Philippine Development Company, only independent Philippine company engaged in oil exploration in the islands.

Outdoor Program For Tri-Towns Children Begins

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—The 10-week outdoor program being sponsored by the Tri-Towns Recreation Association got under way Monday on the Bruce High School Grounds at Westernport.

Miss Fern Christofel, Clairton, Pa., met with the 50 children who reported on the Piedmont High School grounds yesterday morning and with the youngsters took advantage of the Bruce playground.

Swings are provided at the playgrounds and slides have been ordered and are expected in the near future.

The program will include folk dancing. Miss Christofel also expects to organize a glee club, which would give a program once each month with the community being invited to attend.

A tennis court will be provided on the Bruce grounds and horseshoes will be played.

Softball teams will be organized with teams from both play grounds.

A movie was shown at the Majestic Theatre, Piedmont Saturday afternoon which 51 children attended. A similar program is scheduled each Saturday afternoon with a nominal admission fee to be charged.

Swimming instruction will be given at the Piedmont swimming pool Monday through Friday from 10 a. m. until noon, when Miss Toni Dayton and Tracy Riggins, Piedmont, return from Minnehaha, W. Va., where they are taking a 10-day Red Cross aquatic school course.

A story hour from 1:30 to 3 p. m. is held on Wednesdays at the Piedmont and Westernport Libraries for children from 4 to 8 years of age.

The first story telling hour for children from eight to 12 years will be held today at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Z. Clyde Kalbaugh, Church Street, Westernport. Beginning Wednesday, June 30, the programs will be held at the Westernport Service Center.

ORDINANCE NO. 1843

AN ORDINANCE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE TO REPEAL AND REENACT WITH AMENDMENTS SECTION 9, OF CHAPTER 22, OF THE CITY ORDINANCES, AS PUBLISHED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, IN THE CITY CODE OF 1926, AND PERTAINING TO THE HEIGHT OF AWNINGS ABOVE SIDEWALKS."

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That Section 9, of Chapter 22, of the City Ordinances, as published by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, in the City Code of 1926, be and the same is hereby repealed and reenacted with amendments so as to read as follows:

SECTION 9. No landlord, property owner or tenant shall erect or cause to be erected a line, cloth canvas, wood, composition or metal awning in any street, lane or alley of the City except that the lowermost stationary part of said awning structure and said awning covering be at least seven feet six inches (7' 6") above the pavement, under a penalty of Five Dollars ($5.00) for each offense, and One Dollar ($1.00) fine for each day such awning shall remain after notice to remove the same has been given.

SECTION 9-a. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That any provisions contained in sub-section E and sub-section EE of sub-section 4 of Section 37 of Article 4 of a Building Code of the City of Cumberland which is inconsistent herewith, shall likewise be repealed.

SECTION 9-b. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That the provisions of this ordinance shall be applicable to future, new and replacement awning installations only.

SECTION 9-c. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That this ordinance shall take effect from the date of its passage and publication thereof, as required by law. Passed this 21st day of June, 1948.
MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND:
By: THOMAS S. POST, Mayor.
Attest:

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Harold V. Ambrose vs. Nettie V. Ambrose, No. 20198 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the Cross-Complainant, Nettie V. Ambrose, from the Cross-Respondent, Harold V. Ambrose.

The Bill states that the parties were married December 25, 1932, and that they lived together until October, 1942; that two children were born to the parties, namely, Marlene Marie Ambrose and Norma Jean Ambrose, both of whom are in the custody of the Cross-Complainant; and that the Cross-Respondent has deserted and abandoned the Cross-Complainant, and which said desertion has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, prior to the filing of the said Cross Bill of Complaint; wherefore, the Cross-Complainant prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii.

It is, thereupon, this 29th day of May, 1948, orcered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Cross-Complainant cause a copy of this order with the object of said Cross Bill of Complaint to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week for four consecutive weeks before the 1st day of July, 1948, giving notice to the said Harold V. Ambrose to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of July, 1948, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Olive W. Rose vs Paul A. Rose. No. 20706 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states that the parties hereto were married on the 10th day of December, 1944, in Morris Plains, New Jersey, and that one child was born of the said marriage, namely: Patricia Ann Rose, age 2½ years and who is residing with the plaintiff; and that the defendant on the 7th of January, 1947, without just cause or reason deserted and abandoned the plaintiff and has declared his intention to live with her no longer, and that such desertion and abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted for more than eighteen (18) months, and is deliberate and final and without any reasonable hope of reconciliation; that the plaintiff is a resident of the State of Maryland and that the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and that his present whereabouts are unknown.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 8th day of June, 1948 by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be published in some newspaper, once in each of four (4) successive weeks, before the 9th day of July, 1948, giving notice to the absent defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 26th day of July, 1948, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

'41 WINNER-- As Cumberland boys and girls made final plans to take part in the bicycle safety parade to be held Friday morning, older residents recalled the first bicycle parade seven years ago this month, when William E. "Billy" Davis, only son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank U. Davis, 24 Washington Street, was judged the winner. He is shown above as he appeared in that parade. Young Davis, now 17 years old, has just completed his junior year at Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg, Pa.

7 Chapters Represented At Tri-State Night

Officers of seven chapters attended McKinley Chapter, OES, "Tri-State Night" recently at the temple, and presided at the conferring of degrees. Guest officers were Mrs. Bessie Lamp, Cumberland Chapter; Mark Jennings, Hagerstown Chapter; Mrs. Ella Harshman, Queen Esther Chapter, Hagerstown; Mrs. Maude Shives, Hancock Chapter; Mrs. Sylvia Elrick, Mountain Chapter, Frostburg; Mrs. Earlie Nefflin, Barton Chapter; and Mrs. Mary B. Meyers, Trinity Chapter, Somerset.

Each officer escorted her guest to a rose arbor in the east room, introduced her to the members and presented her with a rose. Plans were formulated for a basket picnic on July 10.

A covered dish supper preceded the ceremony after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Marie Allender, Mrs. Anna Hartman, Mrs. Eileen Appel, Mrs. Lillie Miller, Mrs. Emma Miller, Mrs. Betty Gross, Mrs. Buelah Messmer, Mrs. Eleanor Morley, Mrs. Marie Long, Mrs. Artie Durrett, Mrs. Ethel Askey, Mrs. Mary Robinson and Mrs. Myrtle Martin were in charge of the supper. The social concluding the evening was under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Sheets, Mrs. Sara Barringer, Mrs. Dorothy Rinker, Mrs. Marie Arve, Mrs. Mabel Miller, Mrs. Sue Ginevan and Miss Mildred Ginevan.

Rawlings Bible School Has 68 Enrolled

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Harold V. Ambrose vs. Nettie V. Ambrose. No. 20198 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the Cross-Complainant, Nettie V. Ambrose, from the Cross-Respondent, Harold V. Ambrose.

The Bill states that the parties were married December 25, 1932, and that they lived together until October, 1942; that two children were born to the parties, namely, Marlene Marie Ambrose and Norma Jean Ambrose, both of whom are in the custody of the Cross-Complainant; and that the Cross-Respondent has deserted and abandoned the Cross-Complainant, and which said desertion has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, prior to the filing of the said Cross Bill of Complaint; wherefore, the Cross-Complainant prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii.

It is, thereupon, this 29th day of May, 1948, orcered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, that the Cross-Complainant cause a copy of this order with the object of said Cross Bill of Complaint to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week for four consecutive weeks before the 1st day of July, 1948, giving notice to the said Harold V. Ambrose to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of July, 1948, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Relief Client's Home Yields Drugs, Clothes

Woman Who Died Last Month Had Unusual Hoard

Jennie Virginia Peyton Left Puzzling Estate

The story of a local recluse who hoarded and saved almost everything she laid her hands on, rivaling the much publicized Collyer brothers of New York City on a smaller scale, unfolded here yesterday as authorities pondered an accumulation of canned goods, clothing, yard goods, money and drug and medical supplies found at 1105 Lexington Avenue.

The story was one of those that local authorities are disinclined to talk about, but came to light through the probing of one or two officials and newspapermen not fully satisfied with the "shape of things."

Here's the story:

On May 17, last, at about 7:30 a. m. Mrs. Jennie Virginia Peyton, 59, was found dead in her single-room apartment at 1105 Lexington Avenue, by a neighbor.

Mrs Peyton was well known to local and private relief authorities and for many months had been receiving public assistance checks from the Allegany County Welfare Board. She was known to suffer from a diabetic condition, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, who was called when the woman's body was found.

In the house, according to Sheriff Edward R. Muir, Deputy Sheriff William Orr and Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis, were found quantities of women's clothing, and quantities of yard goods and unused wearing apparell, described as "enough to start a small store."

Hoarded Money

Found in an old pocketbook, in the fingers of gloves and various other unusual hiding places was a total of about $512. Much of the money was in pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters, with only a few bills of large denomination in the lot.

A large quantity of canned goods and foodstuffs also was found.

But one of the most puzzling things to authorities was a large quantity, enough to fill two suit cases, of drugs and medical supplies. The drugs were described to reporters yesterday as "sleeping compounds," some morphine, perhaps some codine and insulin.

Included in the cache were supplies of hypodermic needles, test tubes, gauze bandages, and several other unidentified drug compounds.

Druggists questioned on the value of the drug collection said it would be worth more than $500 retail and "perhaps much more if it fell into the hands of dope peddlers."

Filled On Prescription

Most of the drugs were in boxes and bottles displaying the labels of the same local pharmacy, perscription numbers were clearly shown, and three local doctors' names appeared frequently throughout the collection. Druggists questioned about the prescription numbers explained that the letter "N" in front of a number symbolizes narcotics. This symbol appears frequently on the pill boxes.

Druggists expressed the same amazement several local authorities evidenced over the quantity of narcotics and sleeping compounds and pain killers one person could accumulate, especially through apparent legitimate channels.

Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, executive secretary of the Allegany County Welfare Board, said yesterday that Mrs. Peyton had been a client of the relief roles and was known to be handicapped due to illness. She was hospitalized on a number of occasions, and had received considerable treatment.

Mrs. Westerfeld said the Welfare Board does not pay for or provide medicine or drugs or medical care in such cases, as this is administered through a separate fund and separate department.

State Medical Aid

She said it is her opinion that when the Welfare Board referred this case for state medical aid to the State Department of Health, the county health officials were notified and medical aid at state expense was provided under the State Medical Care Program.

Mrs. Westerfeld said the legislature appropriates money for this purpose. Druggists explained that special prescription forms are issued and medicine suplied on them is charged to the state.

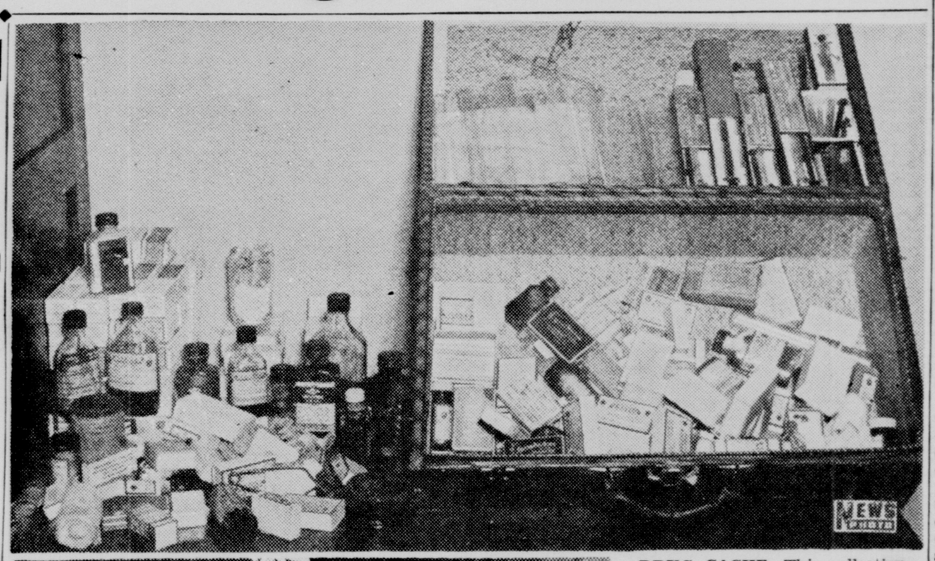

The cache of drugs was turned over to the sheriff here and it is believed that much of it can be salvaged, authorities said.

The money found in the dead woman's apartment was turned over to her sister, Mrs. Emma Hinrichs, McCoole, who also had the clothing and other possessions found in the place hauled to McCoole.

Had Public Auction

Mrs. Hinrichs spent long hours, she said yesterday, washing, laundering and cleaning and pressing the vast collection of clothing and material found in her sister's house. On June 12, an auction sale was held in McCoole, and according to records filed in Orphans Court here by Mrs. Hinrichs, $347 was realized from the sale. This included the DRUG CACHE—This collection of drugs, including various forms of sedatives, sleeping pills and some narcotics, along with a large supply of insulin, hypodermic needles and test tubes, was taken from the home of the late Mrs. Jennie Virginia Peyton, 1105 Lexington Avenue. Mrs. Peyton, a client of the Allegany County Welfare Board who received a monthly cash allotment as public assistance, was found dead in her home May 17. The home contained over $500 in cash, a large collection of food stuffs, clothing, yard goods and wearing apparel, described by authorities as "enough stuff to start a store." The drug cache was turned over to the sheriff's office and the clothing, food and money to relatives.

The Weather

Although the rain cooled it off a little in the early afternoon, temperatures at midday yesterday soared to a high of 84 degrees. The thunder and lightning caused little disturbance in this area; the rainfall was recorded at 0.18 inches. At 11 o'clock last night the mercury slipped to 69, but was expected to remain at about that notch until morning. For tomorrow the forecaster promises warmer weather with high humidity, followed by scattered showers and thunder storms.

Coats Is Tied For Eighth Place In League At National Marbles Tourney

With a two-day standing of 11 wins and 13 losses, Lowell Coats, city marbles champion, was tied for eighth place in a league of 13 contestants yesterday in the second day of the national marbles tournament at Wildwood, N. J.

Young Coats, 10-year-old student at Columbia Street School, is one of 74 youngsters in six leagues who are competing for the national title. He won four games and lost six yesterday.

Twenty-four additional games, making a total of 48, will be played by each contestant today and Thursday, and on Friday the six league finalists will compete for the national title.

Coats' league is led by Glenn Whitmore, a Negro boy from Phoenix, Ariz., with 19 wins and five losses for the two days. Whitmore traveled the farthest of any of the contestants to attend the tourney.

Most of the 74 cities represented are in the Middle West and Atlantic Seaboard areas, and as far south as Augusta, Ga.

In League No. 1, Cumberland leads the cities of Dayton, O., Pittsburgh, Wildwood, N. J., McKeesport, Pa., and Mays Landing, N. J.

Other leaders in that league, besides Phoenix, are Huntington, W. Va., Canton, O., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Marathon County, Wis., and Dickson City, Pa.

The 74 contestants were selected to attend the national tournament from three million school children from all parts of the country who entered preliminary local contests.

The tournament is being conducted at specially constructed rings on the beach just off the boardwalk at Wildwood. The Cumberland champion had his picture taken yesterday with a girl contestant from Canton, O., and the Phoenix boy, according to J. William Hunt, who accompanied young Coats to Wildwood.

Following today's matches, a boat trip has been arranged for the contestants.

Several newsreel companies will send representatives to Wildwood Friday to take pictures of the finalists.

Coats' trip to the national tournament is financed by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, sponsor of the tournament here.

Banquet To Feature Opening Of Conclave

OCEAN CITY, Md., June 22 (AP)—A banquet tonight for the officers of the Maryland State Firemen's Association was scheduled to be the first event of the Association's four-day convention.

The business sessions of the meeting begin tomorrow with registration of delegates at the Ocean City High School.

Governor Lane has been invited to speak. Among other prominent speakers who will address the group tomorrow are Rep. Edward T. Miller, First District Congressman; J. Millard Tawes, State Banking Commissioner, and Dr. H. C. Byrd, President of the University of Maryland.

One of the high points of the convention will be the selection Thursday night of Miss Firefighter at the Ladies Auxiliary ball.

Civil Service Board Hears Stewart Case

Members of the Civil Service Board heard both sides in the case of the dismissal of Charles Stewart from the City Police Force at a meeting last night, but failed to hand down a decision.

According to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn and C. P. Jolley, Civil Service Board member, the board members will review the stenographer's minutes of the session and make a decision before the end of the week.

Blind Pianist Will Entertain Lions Club

The Cumberland Lions Club will be entertained at the luncheon meeting at 12:15 p. m. today by a blind pianist who will be brought here by Roger B. Wolf, of the Frederick Lions Club.

Milton O. Pyle will be inducted into the club at the meeting. International Counsellor Donald Brake will conduct the induction ceremony.

265 Entries Are Received For City's Bicycle Safety Parade On Friday

Approximately 265 entries have been received for the Cumberland bicycle safety parade to be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock under the sponsorship of Montgomery Ward and Company, the Cumberland Safety Council and The Cumberland News.

B. L. Parkinson, assistant manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, will act as parade marshal.

Judges will be Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, James Kendall, assistant to H. W. Smith, secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and Robert V. Kincaid, of The Cumberland News.

The first bicycle safety parade, held in June, 1941, shortly after the opening of the Montgomery Ward store, was won by William E. "Billy" Davis, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. U. Davis, 24 Washington Street, who appeared as "Uncle Sam."

Entries in Friday's event, the first to be held since 1941, must be made by tomorrow at 3 p. m. Contestants of all ages are eligible.

Nearly 300 costumed riders on decorated bikes are expected to participate in the event. Prizes are now on display at the Baltimore Street store of the company.

All contestants must register with Edward Young, manager of the sporting goods department. A list of 12 rules of safety is given with each entry blank, together with a set of colorful wheel discs bearing the slogan, "I Ride Safely, Do You?"

The parade route will be from the store's Harrison Street parking lot, to South Centre Street, to Baltimore Street, to George Street and return to the parking lot.

First prize is a new bicycle, second prize, table model radio; third prize, fishing rod and reel; fourth prize,

Wyatt Testimonial Banquet Tonight

A testimonial banquet for H. F. Wyatt, former superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Cumberland Division, will be held tonight at Ali Ghan Country Club.

The banquet will begin at 7 o'clock with visiting executives from the entire system expected to be on hand for the occasion. Various talks will be given during the night, with a social hour to be held at the conclusion.

Wyatt was promoted earlier this month to the position of general manager of the railroad's Chicago region office. He had been in Cumberland since March 1, 1942, coming here from the Baltimore Division. He formerly resided on Windsor Road, The Dingle.

The banquet will also serve to welcome R. A. J. Morrison, who succeeded Wyatt in the local post. Wyatt is expected to arrive early today and depart later in the week. A similar banquet was held in Chicago on May 26.

Allegany Bar Members Ready For Convention

Cumberalnd and Allegany County will be well represented at the annual Maryland Bar Association convention, which opens tonight at the Traymore Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J.

Justice Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme Court will be the principal speaker of the three-day session. Others who will address the delegates are Mayo A. Shattuck, member of the Boston Bar Association, and Judge Joseph Sherbow of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City. Frederick L. Brune, president of the Maryland Bar, will preside.

Former Judge D. Lindsey Sloan, Cumberland, is chairman of the nominating committee, which will put William C. Walsh's name before the gathering for President. It is expected that he will be unopposed. Members of the local bar who are on standing committees of the state association are Judge George Henderson, who will be unable to attend, Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney, and William A. Gunter.

Members known to be going to the convention include Thomas B. Fian, Walsh Magistrate, Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., Edward J. Ryan, William L. Wilson, Leslie G. Clark, Gunter, former Judge Sloan, W. Earle Cobey, H. P. Whitworth and H. P. Whitworth, Jr.

NLRB Officer To Check Union Complaint Here

An official of Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, reported last night that a representative of the National Labor Relations Board will arrive in Cumberland today to conduct an investigation into charges of unfair labor practices filed by the union against the Cement Products Company here.

C. E. Bramble, president, said the union filed the charge early in May. In the action taken by C. E. Stutzman, business agent, the union said five men were discharged for failing to report back to work before the deadline set by management.

The strike of some 20 workers represented by the Teamsters and Laborers unions here began early in May as a result of a contract and wage dispute.

Lonaconing Restaurant Yields $100 To Thief

State Police are investigating a breaking and entering of the Princess Pat restaurant in Lonaconing early Tuesday morning, when about $100 in cash was stolen.

According to State Police, the intruder broke the window in the rear of the restaurant and gained entrance to the cash drawer.

Michigan Man Held Here On Charge Of Fraud

L. B. Strong To Be Arraigned Today

L. B. Strong, Hamtract, Mich., will be arraigned in Trial Magistrates Court at 10 a. m. today on a charge of obtaining merchandise by fraud, Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney, said last night.

Strong was arrested here on a warrant issued to Goldsmit-Black, Inc., local tobacco wholesalers and distributors, on June 11. Since that time he has been under investigation and has been questioned by state, county and federal authorities.

The check involved in the warrant, Fletcher said, is for $375, but a total of more than $4,500 is involved in the entire transaction, he indicated.

Fletcher said Strong and an unidentified companion came here several months ago, purchased a quantity of cigars, tobacco and other merchandise for which they paid cash. They became steady customers of the local distributor and eventually began paying for merchandise purchased and hauled away with checks, he added.

Recently, these checks began "bouncing," the assistant prosecutor explained. They were returned from banks marked "no funds" or "insufficient funds."

One official said the name Strong may be an alias. The man was questioned at length by an FBI agent here because his transactions carried him across state lines, and it was believed a federal violation might have been involved. No federal charge has been placed against him, however, and he is to be arraigned in local court today.

Fletcher said Strong is represented by Estel C. Kelley and John M. Robb, attorneys. Strong is being held in the County Jail.

Legion Post 13 Holds Nomination

Members of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, met last night and nominated candidates for officers for the annual election to be held next month, according to Thomas R. Farrell, post commander.

The nominations follow:

Commander, Robert G. Doty, Jesse E. Hopcraft and Paul C. Weisenmiller.

First vice commander, Patrick J. Carroll, Clyde S. Kuhns and Howard M. Spiker.

Second vice commander, Walter T. Hensel, Thomas L. Popp, Kenneth H. Ramage and H. Raymond Snyder.

Adjustant, Russell C. Paupe.

Finance officer, William F. Findlay, Charles E. Burke and Richard H. Mathews.

Chaplain, Paul W. Weisenmiller.

Historian, Edward J. Rider

Sergeant-at-arms, John R. Neff.

Executive Committeemen, Thomas R. Farrell, Wesley H. Abrams, Vincent P. Ingram, Bruce F. Richardson, John H. Riggleman, Lester W. Underdonk, and Carl E. Wintermeyer.

Delegates to the State Department convention to be held at Ocean City September 8 to 12 were also nominated. Thirty-six were named.

Allegany Crops Behind Because Of Bad Weather

Cumberland, as well as other sections of Maryland are far behind in crops this year due to the cold and damp weather that continued all through the spring.

A report issued by the Weather Bureau terms Allegany and Garrett Counties alike and is as follows: "Corn is backward due to cool weather and cultivation of some fields has been delayed by frequent rains. Wheat is heading well and beginning to turn, harvesting expected to begin in about two weeks.

"Barley is being cut as the weather permits. Oats are fair to good and growing favorably. Truck crops and gardens are only fair. Seeded crops have germinated poorly and tomato plants are developing slowly. Prospects for the apple crop range from good to very good, depending on variety and location.

"Peaches are being thinned, the promise of this fruit remains very good. May crops are ready for cutting. Those already cut have suffered in quality from the frequent rains. Pastures are good," the report concludes.

Celanese And Union May Meet On Contract Today

Contract talks between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America are tentatively scheduled to resume this afternoon at 2 o'clock, James A. Dundon, TWUA official, said last night.

The company and union met Monday. That meeting ended without a definite agreement as to the next meeting.

A union official said the union is asking a 25-cent hourly increase and added the company rejected that figure but has made no wage offer.

A full report of contract negotiations to date will be presented at special membership meetings planned tonight at 7:30 p. m. and Thursday at 10:30 a. m. at the union hall.

City Selects Luttrell For Boys State

The name of Marvin Luttrell, a Fort Hill High School student, was drawn from a list of 22 Allegany, Fort Hill and LaSalle students yesterday at City Hall to attend Boys State at Fort George G. Meade under the sponsorship of the Mayor and Council.

Miss Mary E. Clay, secretary to Mayor Thomas S. Post, officiated at the drawing.

The city has donated $25 to cover Luttrell's expenses at the Boys State session, to be held July 5 through July 19 by Department of Maryland, American Legion.

New Selective Service Act Expected To Lessen Voluntary Enlistments

Regular recruiting services of the Cumberland area were "mum" yesterday on what effect the new draft law might have on present recruiting programs.

The new compromise selective service law approved early Sunday morning calls for a period of service of 21 months for non-veterans 19 to 25.

At the present time the Navy and Marine Corps accept enlisments for no less than three years, while the Army has a two-year enlistment which hasn't been pushed too strongly.

The 21-month draft, it is thought, might wreck Navy and Marine Corps enlistment programs since the prospective draftees might prefer the short military period under the draft rather than the three-year enlistment turn. Tech Sgt. Vernon B. Debnam said the Marine "regulars" had always been on a volunteer basis, except for a short time during the last World War. Torpedoman Chief Robert Belnap of the Navy said "no comment."

The Army recruiting office in summing up the new draft program says it does not expect any dropping off, as the new enlistees may select their branch of service before enlisting, while in the draft, the youth must take what is needed at the time.

National Guard Full

Meanwhile, President Truman has delayed signing of the draft law to enable youths to join the National Guard, but Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, executive officer of the 115th Infantry Regiment, said midnight last night was the deadline for enlistments. It is believed there has been some misunderstanding about Guard enlistments, since Baltimore and other areas are continuing the recruiting program.

On the other hand, enlistments in the Navy and Marine Reserves are still open, according to reserve officers, although Lt. Cmdr. Walter N. Hedrick said he had not received official word.

Lt. E. H. Walker, Marine Reserve, announced that his office would be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day, while a booth will be erected on Baltimore Street to take care of the overflow which is expected. The only requirements for the Marine Reserve are those of attending drill and summer camp attendance. The local office is presently located in the Postoffice building basement, Room 1.

Draft Boards Ready

Maryland's draft boards are ready to swing into action as soon as President Truman signs the new selective service act, Cpl. Henry C. Stanwood, wartime head of the state's draft system said.

All but three National Guard units in the state have been filled to their authorized strength by the rush of young men seeking to avoid the peacetime draft. The National Guard strength in Maryland now stands at 4,000. The quota authorized by the Army Department is 4,500.

Cumberland Camera Club Meets Tonight

A traveling photographic salon from Akron, Ohio, will be discussed at a meeting of the Cumberland Camera Club at 8 o'clock tonight in Knights of Malta Hall, Prospect Square.

The regular monthly competition in black and white prints and color slides also will be held with Charles S. Fields to be the judge in the black and white contest. Judge of color slides has not been selected.

A short business meeting will precede the judging of prints.

New Army District Engineer Makes First Visit Here

Col. Wolfe, Bird Tour Flood Area

Col. H. C. Wolfe, the sixth Army engineer to take charge of the flood control program for Cumberland and Ridgeley, came here yesterday from Washington, D. C., to inspect the area to be affected by the project.

He was accompanied by Byron Bird, chief of the engineering division of the Corps of Engineers.

Col. Wolfe succeeds Col. D. G. White, who resigned his post as district engineer April 30.

Col. Wolfe and Bird plan to visit the Savage River dam site this morning before returning to Washington.

They conferred at City Hall yesterday with Mayor Thomas S. Post and City engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

Col. Wolfe said last night the purpose of his initial inspection trip here was to become acquainted with the problems and scope of the flood control project.

Automatic Stamp Machine Obsolete Before Arrival

Postoffice officials are in a dither these days due to the increase in price of the 5 cent airmail stamp to 6 cents.

The increase really isn't anything, they say, but the fact that they have a new automatic stamp vender coming makes things difficult, as the machine slot is stamped 5 cents and by no shape of the imagination can you put in a nickel and a penny, the machine instructions say.

As far as 6 cent stamps are concerned, the postoffice has sufficient on hand to begin the July 1 increase date. On the other hand though, they have in their possession 25,000 rolled 5 cent airmail stamps to be used in the new machine and after the first of July, they are obsolete, just like the machine. One consolation, the rolled stamps can be teamed with one cent stamps and be sold as airmail postage.

Rubber Union Plans Talks On Wage Issues

Officials of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, CIO, reported last night there was "some progress" made in yesterday's contract talks with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

A. E. Johnson, union president, said the talks will be resumed today at 10 a. m., adding some wage issues will be taken up today. One issue in yesterday's talks involved money, he added.

The stage has been set for the opening of active wage negotiations with the receipt of official details of the recent contract settlement with the Goodyear Company. The offer included an 11-cent increase.

The union is asking a wage increase under a wage reopening clause in its contract which is undergoing annual modification.

10 Students Will Begin Novitiate Into Capuchin Order Here July 13

In a symbolic service to be held in SS. Peter and Paul Monastery here next month, 10 students will be invested with the simple brown habit of the Order of Friars Minor Capuchin as they begin the rigorous course of training which will in time culminate in their ordination into the priestly band of followers of St. Francis of Assisi.

One Garrett County youth, Edward Pope, Avilton, will be included in the class which will begin training here during the anniversary year of SS. Peter and Paul parish.

The candidates, all of whom graduated from St. Fidelis Seminary, Herman, Pa., June 12, will also include William Lee Edmond, the first negro to enter the order in this country.

The candidates, with tentative religious names, are Joseph Skolout, Beardsley, Kan., who will become Friar Francis Joseph; Vincent Hohman, Wheeling, W. Va., Crispin; William Lee Edmond, Pittsburgh Pa., Peter Claver; Richard Fugini, Cichora, Pa., Francis; Charles Knoll, Cichora, Aloysius.

Floyd Litzenberg, North Oakland, Pa., Eric; Richard Wilhelm, Pittsburg, Benedict; Robert Bich, Pittsburgh, Andrew; William Malloy, Pittsburgh, Bennet; Edward Pope, Avilton, Md., Bernadine.

The students will arrive here July 5 to begin an eight-day retreat at the local monastery. The investiture service will be held Tuesday, July 13, at 1:45 p. m. in the chapel of the monastery.

Rev. Peter Hohman, OFM Cap., novice master, will officiate at the ceremony and will be in charge of the religious training of the novices during the year they will spend here.

During the impressive ceremony,

Lane Refuses To Extradite Harlan Harmon

Governor Seeks Clean Slate For Veteran

It was a joyful reunion at the Harmon residence in Locust Grove last night when Harlan G. Harmon, 32-year-old combat veteran, returned home and told his wife and four minor children that Governor William Preston Lane said he would not have to return to Ohio to serve an old reformatory sentence.

Harmon was taken to Annapolis yesterday by William F. Baker, State Police investigator, accompanied by Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, for a special hearing on efforts to extradite him to Ohio to serve the balance of a sentence imposed 13 years ago.

As a youth of 19, Harmon was arrested in Ohio and ordered to spend from one to 20 years in the state reformatory for operating an automobile without the owner's consent.

Enlisted In 1943

Harmon, represented by Harold E. Naughton, local attorney, who arranged the hearing, told state authorities in the State House he had served about nine months of his sentence when he escaped from Grafton Honor Camp.

Harmon then returned to Cumberland, where he spent his early boyhood, he explained, got a job here and was married. In 1943, he enlisted in the Army.

The young man was first taken before Assistant Attorney General Joseph D. Buscher who conducted the extradition hearing and obtained all the details needed. Then he was taken to Gov. Lane's office where he was questioned by the state's chief executive.

Lane noted that a letter from the Bureau of Prisons in 1943 advised Harmon, "The warrant has been withdrawn and your record cleared."

Even at the time Harmon escaped from the prison camp, he had been recommended for a pardon, Gov. Lane said.

Excellent War Record

During the War Harmon earned five battle stars in European campaigning as an Infantry machine gunner, serving in the North American volunteer division made up of American and Canadian troops.

After his honorable discharge, Harmon returned here and obtained a GI loan to buy a grocery store at Locust Grove. To help finances he hauled coal in off-hours.

"I want to square this whole thing up," Harmon told Buscher at the hearing. "I want to do the right thing. But now I'm just getting started."

Harmon's children range from 18 months to 11 years old, and authorities here told Governor Lane the man has been making an effort to take care of his family. It was pointed out that he has not taken advantage of unemployment payments available to GIs, known as "52--20," but has attempted to earn his own way.

The Governor said he received many letters "attesting to Harmon's character in the community."

He asserted extradition would "not only work an undue and unreasonable hardship on the State of Maryland, since his family would likely become public charges," but would work a hardship on Harmon.

It would also nullify the previous "assurance" that his record had been cleared, Governor Lane pointed out. In a letter to Governor Herbert of Ohio, Lane recommended executive clemency to wipe out the unfinished sentence, and asked Gov. Herbert's co - operation in clearing up the case.

Officials Here Pleased

Harmon was picked up here early this month by authorities on a warrant charging him with a driving violation in West Virginia. His fingerprints had been circulated after his arrest and Ohio authorities then began a new effort to extradite him. When an Ohio official came here to get Harmon, the young veteran's attorney, Naughton, filed for a writ of habeas corpus and notified Gov. Lane of the case. Gov. Lane took immediate action and ordered Harmon to Annapolis for a hearing.

Harmon said he was well impressed with Gov. Lane and deeply appreciates the state executive's efforts in his behalf. Those who accompanied the young veteran to and from Annapolis declared, "The Governor really treated him splendidly. Harmon was overwhelmed."

Local officers, charged with the duty of enforcing the law to the letter, were voluble in voicing their criticism of Ohio authorities for "stirring up an old case." They declared, "This is one time when a young fellow has proven his rehabilitation and he should be given an equal chance to make his own way." Last night Baker, said, "Gov. Lane really gave him a square deal."

Local Riders Urged To Get License Now

Cumberland City Police, who have already issued 826 new bicycle licenses, warn that the deadline for using the old tags is July 1. They urge all persons who wish to ride their bicycles after that date to secure their tags now.

The police department requests all qualified persons to be sure their bicycles are equipped with a bell and reflector and that the bicycle is in good shape. Hours to obtain the license are from 10 to 12 o'clock and from 1 to 3 o'clock. Failure to apply for the license calls for impounding of the bicycle for from 30 to 60 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ruby, Route 3, Valley Road, a son.

Relief Client's Home Yields Drugs, Clothes

Woman Who Died Last Month Had Unusual Hoard

Jennie Virginia Peyton Left Puzzling Estate

The story of a local recluse who hoarded and saved almost everything she laid her hands on, rivaling the much publicized Collyer brothers of New York City on a smaller scale, unfolded here yesterday as authorities pondered an accumulation of canned goods, clothing, yard goods, money and drug and medical supplies found at 1105 Lexington Avenue.

The story was one of those that local authorities are disinclined to talk about, but came to light through the probing of one or two officials and newspapermen not fully satisfied with the "shape of things."

Here's the story:

On May 17, last, at about 7:30 a. m. Mrs. Jennie Virginia Peyton, 59, was found dead in her single-room apartment at 1105 Lexington Avenue, by a neighbor.

Mrs Peyton was well known to local and private relief authorities and for many months had been receiving public assistance checks from the Allegany County Welfare Board. She was known to suffer from a diabetic condition, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, who was called when the woman's body was found.

In the house, according to Sheriff Edward R. Muir, Deputy Sheriff William Orr and Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis, were found quantities of women's clothing, and quantities of yard goods and unused wearing apparell, described as "enough to start a small store."

Hoarded Money

Found in an old pocketbook, in the fingers of gloves and various other unusual hiding places was a total of about $512. Much of the money was in pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters, with only a few bills of large denomination in the lot.

A large quantity of canned goods and foodstuffs also was found.

But one of the most puzzling things to authorities was a large quantity, enough to fill two suit cases, of drugs and medical supplies. The drugs were described to reporters yesterday as "sleeping compounds," some morphine, perhaps some codine and insulin.

Included in the cache were supplies of hypodermic needles, test tubes, gauze bandages, and several other unidentified drug compounds.

Druggists questioned on the value of the drug collection said it would be worth more than $500 retail and "perhaps much more if it fell into the hands of dope peddlers."

Filled On Prescription

Most of the drugs were in boxes and bottles displaying the labels of the same local pharmacy, perscription numbers were clearly shown, and three local doctors' names appeared frequently throughout the collection. Druggists questioned about the prescription numbers explained that the letter "N" in front of a number symbolizes narcotics. This symbol appears frequently on the pill boxes.

Druggists expressed the same amazement several local authorities evidenced over the quantity of narcotics and sleeping compounds and pain killers one person could accumulate, especially through apparent legitimate channels.

Mrs. Elinor Westerfeld, executive secretary of the Allegany County Welfare Board, said yesterday that Mrs. Peyton had been a client of the relief roles and was known to be handicapped due to illness. She was hospitalized on a number of occasions, and had received considerable treatment.

Mrs. Westerfeld said the Welfare Board does not pay for or provide medicine or drugs or medical care in such cases, as this is administered through a separate fund and separate department.

State Medical Aid

She said it is her opinion that when the Welfare Board referred this case for state medical aid to the State Department of Health, the county health officials were notified and medical aid at state expense was provided under the State Medical Care Program.

Mrs. Westerfeld said the legislature appropriates money for this purpose. Druggists explained that special prescription forms are issued and medicine suplied on them is charged to the state.

The cache of drugs was turned over to the sheriff here and it is believed that much of it can be salvaged, authorities said.

The money found in the dead woman's apartment was turned over to her sister, Mrs. Emma Hinrichs, McCoole, who also had the clothing and other possessions found in the place hauled to McCoole.

Had Public Auction

Mrs. Hinrichs spent long hours, she said yesterday, washing, laundering and cleaning and pressing the vast collection of clothing and material found in her sister's house. On June 12, an auction sale was held in McCoole, and according to records filed in Orphans Court here by Mrs. Hinrichs, $347 was realized from the sale. This included the

DRUG CACHE—This collection of drugs, including various forms of sedatives, sleeping pills and some narcotics, along with a large supply of insulin, hypodermic needles and test tubes, was taken from the home of the late Mrs. Jennie Virginia Peyton, 1105 Lexington Avenue. Mrs. Peyton, a client of the Allegany County Welfare Board who received a monthly cash allotment as public assistance, was found dead in her home May 17. The home contained over $500 in cash, a large collection of food stuffs, clothing, yard goods and wearing apparel, described by authorities as "enough stuff to start a store." The drug cache was turned over to the sheriff's office and the clothing, food and money to relatives.

The Weather

Although the rain cooled it off a little in the early afternoon, temperatures at midday yesterday soared to a high of 84 degrees. The thunder and lightning caused little disturbance in this area; the rainfall was recorded at 0.18 inches. At 11 o'clock last night the mercury slipped to 69, but was expected to remain at about that notch until morning. For tomorrow the forecaster promises warmer weather with high humidity, followed by scattered showers and thunder storms.

Coats Is Tied For Eighth Place In League At National Marbles Tourney

With a two-day standing of 11 wins and 13 losses, Lowell Coats, city marbles champion, was tied for eighth place in a league of 13 contestants yesterday in the second day of the national marbles tournament at Wildwood, N. J.

Young Coats, 10-year-old student at Columbia Street School, is one of 74 youngsters in six leagues who are competing for the national title. He won four games and lost six yesterday.

Twenty-four additional games, making a total of 48, will be played by each contestant today and Thursday, and on Friday the six league finalists will compete for the national title.

Coats' league is led by Glenn Whitmore, a Negro boy from Phoenix, Ariz., with 19 wins and five losses for the two days. Whitmore traveled the farthest of any of the contestants to attend the tourney.

Most of the 74 cities represented are in the Middle West and Atlantic Seaboard areas, and as far south as Augusta, Ga.

In League No. 1, Cumberland leads the cities of Dayton, O., Pittsburgh, Wildwood, N. J., McKeesport, Pa., and Mays Landing, N. J.

Other leaders in that league, besides Phoenix, are Huntington, W. Va., Canton, O., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Marathon County, Wis., and Dickson City, Pa.

The 74 contestants were selected to attend the national tournament from three million school children from all parts of the country who entered preliminary local contests.

The tournament is being conducted at specially constructed rings on the beach just off the boardwalk at Wildwood. The Cumberland champion had his picture taken yesterday with a girl contestant from Canton, O., and the Phoenix boy, according to J. William Hunt, who accompanied young Coats to Wildwood.

Following today's matches, a boat trip has been arranged for the contestants.

Several newsreel companies will send representatives to Wildwood Friday to take pictures of the finalists.

Coats' trip to the national tournament is financed by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, sponsor of the tournament here.

Banquet To Feature Opening Of Conclave

OCEAN CITY, Md., June 22 (AP)—A banquet tonight for the officers of the Maryland State Firemen's Association was scheduled to be the first event of the Association's four-day convention.

The business sessions of the meeting begin tomorrow with registration of delegates at the Ocean City High School.

Governor Lane has been invited to speak. Among other prominent speakers who will address the group tomorrow are Rep. Edward T. Miller, First District Congressman; J. Millard Tawes, State Banking Commissioner, and Dr. H. C. Byrd, President of the University of Maryland.

One of the high points of the convention will be the selection Thursday night of Miss Firefighter at the Ladies Auxiliary ball.

Civil Service Board Hears Stewart Case

Members of the Civil Service Board heard both sides in the case of the dismissal of Charles Stewart from the City Police Force at a meeting last night, but failed to hand down a decision.

According to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn and C. P. Jolley, Civil Service Board member, the board members will review the stenographer's minutes of the session and make a decision before the end of the week.

Blind Pianist Will Entertain Lions Club

The Cumberland Lions Club will be entertained at the luncheon meeting at 12:15 p. m. today by a blind pianist who will be brought here by Roger B. Wolf, of the Frederick Lions Club.

Milton O. Pyle will be inducted into the club at the meeting. International Counsellor Donald Brake will conduct the induction ceremony.

265 Entries Are Received For City's Bicycle Safety Parade On Friday

(Picture on Page 21)

Approximately 265 entries have been received for the Cumberland bicycle safety parade to be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock under the sponsorship of Montgomery Ward and Company, the Cumberland Safety Council and The Cumberland News.

B. L. Parkinson, assistant manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, will act as parade marshal.

Judges will be Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, James Kendall, assistant to H. W. Smith, secretary of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and Robert V. Kincaid, of The Cumberland News.

The first bicycle safety parade, held in June, 1941, shortly after the opening of the Montgomery Ward store, was won by William E. "Billy" Davis, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. U. Davis, 24 Washington Street, who appeared as "Uncle Sam."

Entries in Friday's event, the first to be held since 1941, must be made by tomorrow at 3 p. m. Contestants of all ages are eligible.

Nearly 300 costumed riders on decorated bikes are expected to participate in the event. Prizes are now on display at the Baltimore Street store of the company.

All contestants must register with Edward Young, manager of the sporting goods department. A list of 12 rules of safety is given with each entry blank, together with a set of colorful wheel discs bearing the slogan, "I Ride Safely, Do You?"

The parade route will be from the store's Harrison Street parking lot, to South Centre Street, to Baltimore Street, to George Street and return to the parking lot.

First prize is a new bicycle, second prize, table model radio; third prize, fishing rod and reel; fourth prize,

Wyatt Testimonial Banquet Tonight

A testimonial banquet for H. F. Wyatt, former superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Cumberland Division, will be held tonight at Ali Ghan Country Club.

The banquet will begin at 7 o'clock with visiting executives from the entire system expected to be on hand for the occasion. Various talks will be given during the night, with a social hour to be held at the conclusion.

Wyatt was promoted earlier this month to the position of general manager of the railroad's Chicago region office. He had been in Cumberland since March 1, 1942, coming here from the Baltimore Division. He formerly resided on Windsor Road, The Dingle.

The banquet will also serve to welcome R. A. J. Morrison, who succeeded Wyatt in the local post. Wyatt is expected to arrive early today and depart later in the week. A similar banquet was held in Chicago on May 26.

Allegany Bar Members Ready For Convention

Cumberalnd and Allegany County will be well represented at the annual Maryland Bar Association convention, which opens tonight at the Traymore Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J.

Justice Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme Court will be the principal speaker of the three-day session. Others who will address the delegates are Mayo A. Shattuck, member of the Boston Bar Association, and Judge Joseph Sherbow of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City. Frederick L. Brune, president of the Maryland Bar, will preside.

Former Judge D. Lindsey Sloan, Cumberland, is chairman of the nominating committee, which will put William C. Walsh's name before the gathering for President. It is expected that he will be unopposed. Members of the local bar who are on standing committees of the state association are Judge George Henderson, who will be unable to attend, Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney, and William A. Gunter.

Members known to be going to the convention include Thomas B. Fian, Walsh Magistrate, Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., Edward J. Ryan, William L. Wilson, Leslie G. Clark, Gunter, former Judge Sloan, W. Earle Cobey, H. P. Whitworth and H. P. Whitworth, Jr.

NLRB Officer To Check Union Complaint Here

An official of Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, reported last night that a representative of the National Labor Relations Board will arrive in Cumberland today to conduct an investigation into charges of unfair labor practices filed by the union against the Cement Products Company here.

C. E. Bramble, president, said the union filed the charge early in May. In the action taken by C. E. Stutzman, business agent, the union said five men were discharged for failing to report back to work before the deadline set by management.

The strike of some 20 workers represented by the Teamsters and Laborers unions here began early in May as a result of a contract and wage dispute.

Lonaconing Restaurant Yields $100 To Thief

State Police are investigating a breaking and entering of the Princess Pat restaurant in Lonaconing early Tuesday morning, when about $100 in cash was stolen.

According to State Police, the intruder broke the window in the rear of the restaurant and gained entrance to the cash drawer.

The restaurant is owned by J. James Marshall and is located near the middle of town.

L. B. Strong To Be Arraigned Today

L. B. Strong, Hamtract, Mich., will be arraigned in Trial Magistrates Court at 10 a. m. today on a charge of obtaining merchandise by fraud, Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney, said last night.

Strong was arrested here on a warrant issued to Goldsmit-Black, Inc., local tobacco wholesalers and distributors, on June 11. Since that time he has been under investigation and has been questioned by state, county and federal authorities.

The check involved in the warrant, Fletcher said, is for $375, but a total of more than $4,500 is involved in the entire transaction, he indicated.

Fletcher said Strong and an unidentified companion came here several months ago, purchased a quantity of cigars, tobacco and other merchandise for which they paid cash. They became steady customers of the local distributor and eventually began paying for merchandise purchased and hauled away with checks, he added.

Recently, these checks began "bouncing," the assistant prosecutor explained. They were returned from banks marked "no funds" or "insufficient funds."

One official said the name Strong may be an alias. The man was questioned at length by an FBI agent here because his transactions carried him across state lines, and it was believed a federal violation might have been involved. No federal charge has been placed against him, however, and he is to be arraigned in local court today.

Fletcher said Strong is represented by Estel C. Kelley and John M. Robb, attorneys. Strong is being held in the County Jail.

Legion Post 13 Holds Nomination

Members of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, met last night and nominated candidates for officers for the annual election to be held next month, according to Thomas R. Farrell, post commander.

The nominations follow:

Commander, Robert G. Doty, Jesse E. Hopcraft and Paul C. Weisenmiller.

First vice commander, Patrick J. Carroll, Clyde S. Kuhns and Howard M. Spiker.

Second vice commander, Walter T. Hensel, Thomas L. Popp, Kenneth H. Ramage and H. Raymond Snyder.

Adjustant, Russell C. Paupe.

Finance officer, William F. Findlay, Charles E. Burke and Richard H. Mathews.

Chaplain, Paul W. Weisenmiller.

Historian, Edward J. Rider

Sergeant-at-arms, John R. Neff.

Executive Committeemen, Thomas R. Farrell, Wesley H. Abrams, Vincent P. Ingram, Bruce F. Richardson, John H. Riggleman, Lester W. Underdonk, and Carl E. Wintermeyer.

Delegates to the State Department convention to be held at Ocean City September 8 to 12 were also nominated. Thirty-six were named.

Allegany Crops Behind Because Of Bad Weather

Cumberland, as well as other sections of Maryland are far behind in crops this year due to the cold and damp weather that continued all through the spring.

A report issued by the Weather Bureau terms Allegany and Garrett Counties alike and is as follows: "Corn is backward due to cool weather and cultivation of some fields has been delayed by frequent rains. Wheat is heading well and beginning to turn, harvesting expected to begin in about two weeks.

"Barley is being cut as the weather permits. Oats are fair to good and growing favorably. Truck crops and gardens are only fair. Seeded crops have germinated poorly and tomato plants are developing slowly. Prospects for the apple crop range from good to very good, depending on variety and location.

"Peaches are being thinned, the promise of this fruit remains very good. May crops are ready for cutting. Those already cut have suffered in quality from the frequent rains. Pastures are good," the report concludes.

Celanese And Union May Meet On Contract Today

Contract talks between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, and the Celanese Corporation of America are tentatively scheduled to resume this afternoon at 2 o'clock, James A. Dundon, TWUA official, said last night.

The company and union met Monday. That meeting ended without a definite agreement as to the next meeting.

A union official said the union is asking a 25-cent hourly increase and added the company rejected that figure but has made no wage offer.

A full report of contract negotiations to date will be presented at special membership meetings planned tonight at 7:30 p. m. and Thursday at 10:30 a. m. at the union hall.

City Selects Luttrell For Boys State

The name of Marvin Luttrell, a Fort Hill High School student, was drawn from a list of 22 Allegany, Fort Hill and LaSalle students yesterday at City Hall to attend Boys State at Fort George G. Meade under the sponsorship of the Mayor and Council.

Miss Mary E. Clay, secretary to Mayor Thomas S. Post, officiated at the drawing.

The city has donated $25 to cover Luttrell's expenses at the Boys State session, to be held July 5 through July 19 by Department of Maryland, American Legion.

NO EXTRADITION—Harlan G. Harmon, 32-year-old veteran of Locust Grove, is seen at the right holding extradition papers in his hand just before Governor William Preston Lane, Jr., yesterday declined to send him back to Ohio to complete a 1 to 20 year prison term. Harmon, father of four small children and operator of a grocery store and coal truck, escaped from an Ohio prison camp 13 years ago. At the left is Maryland State Police Investigator William F. Baker who took Harmon to Annapolis.

New Selective Service Act Expected To Lessen Voluntary Enlistments

Regular recruiting services of the Cumberland area were "mum" yesterday on what effect the new draft law might have on present recruiting programs.

The new compromise selective service law approved early Sunday morning calls for a period of service of 21 months for non-veterans 19 to 25.

At the present time the Navy and Marine Corps accept enlisments for no less than three years, while the Army has a two-year enlistment which hasn't been pushed too strongly.

The 21-month draft, it is thought, might wreck Navy and Marine Corps enlistment programs since the prospective draftees might prefer the short military period under the draft rather than the three-year enlistment turn. Tech Sgt. Vernon B. Debnam said the Marine "regulars" had always been on a volunteer basis, except for a short time during the last World War. Torpedoman Chief Robert Belnap of the Navy said "no comment."

The Army recruiting office in summing up the new draft program says it does not expect any dropping off, as the new enlistees may select their branch of service before enlisting, while in the draft, the youth must take what is needed at the time.

National Guard Full

Meanwhile, President Truman has delayed signing of the draft law to enable youths to join the National Guard, but Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, executive officer of the 115th Infantry Regiment, said midnight last night was the deadline for enlistments. It is believed there has been some misunderstanding about Guard enlistments, since Baltimore and other areas are continuing the recruiting program.

On the other hand, enlistments in the Navy and Marine Reserves are still open, according to reserve officers, although Lt. Cmdr. Walter N. Hedrick said he had not received official word.

Lt. E. H. Walker, Marine Reserve, announced that his office would be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day, while a booth will be erected on Baltimore Street to take care of the overflow which is expected. The only requirements for the Marine Reserve are those of attending drill and summer camp attendance. The local office is presently located in the Postoffice building basement, Room 1.

Draft Boards Ready

Maryland's draft boards are ready to swing into action as soon as President Truman signs the new selective service act, Cpl. Henry C. Stanwood, wartime head of the state's draft system said.

All but three National Guard units in the state have been filled to their authorized strength by the rush of young men seeking to avoid the peacetime draft. The National Guard strength in Maryland now stands at 4,000. The quota authorized by the Army Department is 4,500.

Cumberland Camera Club Meets Tonight

A traveling photographic salon from Akron, Ohio, will be discussed at a meeting of the Cumberland Camera Club at 8 o'clock tonight in Knights of Malta Hall, Prospect Square.

The regular monthly competition in black and white prints and color slides also will be held with Charles S. Fields to be the judge in the black and white contest. Judge of color slides has not been selected.

A short business meeting will precede the judging of prints.

Col. Wolfe, Bird Tour Flood Area

Col. H. C. Wolfe, the sixth Army engineer to take charge of the flood control program for Cumberland and Ridgeley, came here yesterday from Washington, D. C., to inspect the area to be affected by the project.

He was accompanied by Byron Bird, chief of the engineering division of the Corps of Engineers.

Col. Wolfe succeeds Col. D. G. White, who resigned his post as district engineer April 30.

Col. Wolfe and Bird plan to visit the Savage River dam site this morning before returning to Washington.

They conferred at City Hall yesterday with Mayor Thomas S. Post and City engineer Ralph L. Rizer.

Col. Wolfe said last night the purpose of his initial inspection trip here was to become acquainted with the problems and scope of the flood control project.

Automatic Stamp Machine Obsolete Before Arrival

Postoffice officials are in a dither these days due to the increase in price of the 5 cent airmail stamp to 6 cents.

The increase really isn't anything, they say, but the fact that they have a new automatic stamp vender coming makes things difficult, as the machine slot is stamped 5 cents and by no shape of the imagination can you put in a nickel and a penny, the machine instructions say.

As far as 6 cent stamps are concerned, the postoffice has sufficient on hand to begin the July 1 increase date. On the other hand though, they have in their possession 25,000 rolled 5 cent airmail stamps to be used in the new machine and after the first of July, they are obsolete, just like the machine. One consolation, the rolled stamps can be teamed with one cent stamps and be sold as airmail postage.

Rubber Union Plans Talks On Wage Issues

Officials of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, CIO, reported last night there was "some progress" made in yesterday's contract talks with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

A. E. Johnson, union president, said the talks will be resumed today at 10 a. m., adding some wage issues will be taken up today. One issue in yesterday's talks involved money, he added.

The stage has been set for the opening of active wage negotiations with the receipt of official details of the recent contract settlement with the Goodyear Company. The offer included an 11-cent increase.

The union is asking a wage increase under a wage reopening clause in its contract which is undergoing annual modification.

10 Students Will Begin Novitiate Into Capuchin Order Here July 13

In a symbolic service to be held in SS. Peter and Paul Monastery here next month, 10 students will be invested with the simple brown habit of the Order of Friars Minor Capuchin as they begin the rigorous course of training which will in time culminate in their ordination into the priestly band of followers of St. Francis of Assisi.

One Garrett County youth, Edward Pope, Avilton, will be included in the class which will begin training here during the anniversary year of SS. Peter and Paul parish.

The candidates, all of whom graduated from St. Fidelis Seminary, Herman, Pa., June 12, will also include William Lee Edmond, the first negro to enter the order in this country.

The candidates, with tentative religious names, are Joseph Skolout, Beardsley, Kan., who will become Friar Francis Joseph; Vincent Hohman, Wheeling, W. Va., Crispin; William Lee Edmond, Pittsburgh Pa., Peter Claver; Richard Fugini, Cichora, Pa., Francis; Charles Knoll, Cichora, Aloysius.

Floyd Litzenberg, North Oakland, Pa., Eric; Richard Wilhelm, Pittsburg, Benedict; Robert Bich, Pittsburgh, Andrew; William Malloy, Pittsburgh, Bennet; Edward Pope, Avilton, Md., Bernadine.

The students will arrive here July 5 to begin an eight-day retreat at the local monastery. The investiture service will be held Tuesday, July 13, at 1:45 p. m. in the chapel of the monastery.

Rev. Peter Hohman, OFM Cap., novice master, will officiate at the ceremony and will be in charge of the religious training of the novices during the year they will spend here.

During the impressive ceremony,

Lane Refuses To Extradite Harlan Harmon

Governor Seeks Clean Slate For Veteran

It was a joyful reunion at the Harmon residence in Locust Grove last night when Harlan G. Harmon, 32-year-old combat veteran, returned home and told his wife and four minor children that Governor William Preston Lane said he would not have to return to Ohio to serve an old reformatory sentence.

Harmon was taken to Annapolis yesterday by William F. Baker, State Police investigator, accompanied by Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, for a special hearing on efforts to extradite him to Ohio to serve the balance of a sentence imposed 13 years ago.

As a youth of 19, Harmon was arrested in Ohio and ordered to spend from one to 20 years in the state reformatory for operating an automobile without the owner's consent.

Enlisted In 1943

Harmon, represented by Harold E. Naughton, local attorney, who arranged the hearing, told state authorities in the State House he had served about nine months of his sentence when he escaped from Grafton Honor Camp.

Harmon then returned to Cumberland, where he spent his early boyhood, he explained, got a job here and was married. In 1943, he enlisted in the Army.

The young man was first taken before Assistant Attorney General Joseph D. Buscher who conducted the extradition hearing and obtained all the details needed. Then he was taken to Gov. Lane's office where he was questioned by the state's chief executive.

Lane noted that a letter from the Bureau of Prisons in 1943 advised Harmon, "The warrant has been withdrawn and your record cleared."

Even at the time Harmon escaped from the prison camp, he had been recommended for a pardon, Gov. Lane said.

Excellent War Record

During the War Harmon earned five battle stars in European campaigning as an Infantry machine gunner, serving in the North American volunteer division made up of American and Canadian troops.

After his honorable discharge, Harmon returned here and obtained a GI loan to buy a grocery store at Locust Grove. To help finances he hauled coal in off-hours.

"I want to square this whole thing up," Harmon told Buscher at the hearing. "I want to do the right thing. But now I'm just getting started."

Harmon's children range from 18 months to 11 years old, and authorities here told Governor Lane the man has been making an effort to take care of his family. It was pointed out that he has not taken advantage of unemployment payments available to GIs, known as "52--20," but has attempted to earn his own way.

The Governor said he received many letters "attesting to Harmon's character in the community."

He asserted extradition would "not only work an undue and unreasonable hardship on the State of Maryland, since his family would likely become public charges," but would work a hardship on Harmon.

It would also nullify the previous "assurance" that his record had been cleared, Governor Lane pointed out. In a letter to Governor Herbert of Ohio, Lane recommended executive clemency to wipe out the unfinished sentence, and asked Gov. Herbert's co-operation in clearing up the case.

Officials Here Pleased

Harmon was picked up here early this month by authorities on a warrant charging him with a driving violation in West Virginia. His fingerprints had been circulated after his arrest and Ohio authorities then began a new effort to extradite him. When an Ohio official came here to get Harmon, the young veteran's attorney, Naughton, filed for a writ of habeas corpus and notified Gov. Lane of the case. Gov. Lane took immediate action and ordered Harmon to Annapolis for a hearing.

Harmon said he was well impressed with Gov. Lane and deeply appreciates the state executive's efforts in his behalf. Those who accompanied the young veteran to and from Annapolis declared, "The Governor really treated him splendidly. Harmon was overwhelmed."

Local officers, charged with the duty of enforcing the law to the letter, were voluble in voicing their criticism of Ohio authorities for "stirring up an old case." They declared, "This is one time when a young fellow has proven his rehabilitation and he should be given an equal chance to make his own way." Last night Baker, said, "Gov. Lane really gave him a square deal."

Local Riders Urged To Get License Now

Cumberland City Police, who have already issued 826 new bicycle licenses, warn that the deadline for using the old tags is July 1. They urge all persons who wish to ride their bicycles after that date to secure their tags now.

The police department requests all qualified persons to be sure their bicycles are equipped with a bell and reflector and that the bicycle is in good shape. Hours to obtain the license are from 10 to 12 o'clock and from 1 to 3 o'clock. Failure to apply for the license calls for impounding of the bicycle for from 30 to 60 days.

BIRTHS

Memorial Hospital reported the following births last night:

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White, 443 Central Avenue, a daughter.
